FIRE MARKS

When fire insurance companies were first organized in this country, and for a considerable period afterwards, policyholders were issued Fire Marks—metal devices which were attached to the properties covered, much as street numbers are today. They served two primary purposes—first, to discourage malicious arson by showing that the owner would not greatly suffer if the building were destroyed; second, to guarantee to the hotly competitive fire brigades of the time that the outfit which extinguished a blaze on the premises would receive a handsome reward from the company. As a consequence, the fire alarm bell was the signal for a pell-mell race to the scene by all the brigades in the vicinity.

Times have changed, the Fire Marks are now collectors' items. Practically all property of any value is insured. Fire departments are municipal functions, and we aren't expected to reward the firemen for their services as they draw regular salaries. But the menace of fire, always serious, is infinitely greater than in the long-gone era when the fire insurance companies were formed to provide an essential protection.

We are the most careless and wasteful people in the world when it comes to fire. Because of our negligence, fire takes 10,000 lives a year. It destroys $700,000,000 worth of property. It accounts for an indirect loss which runs into the billions. It consumes irreplacable natural resources.

The Fire Mark of yesterday adorned the property of foresighted citizens. The foresighted citizen of today has his insurance policy in his safe—but, at the same time, he should be taking an active part in the war against fire.

Why Was Sigler A One-Termer?

HIS LONE WOLF ATTITUDE, FAILURE TO ORGANIZE GOP TEAMWORK, BLAMED

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LANSING—Kim. Sigler, Michigan's ex-cowboy governor, now a one-termer!

Elected two years ago in a reform crusade upset, sparked by grand jury revelations of Lansing legislative graft, the [illegible] will now be succeeded on January 1 by a 37-year-old veteran of World War II, another political amateur, a man whom the governor casually selected to serve as a Democratic member of the liquor commission.

This capital city is still catching its breath. Despite rising opposition to Sigler, largely from within the Republican party, the forecasted Dewey landslide had been counted on by state officials to afford a safe margin for Sigler.

What happened then?

Since Dewey and Ferguson carried Michigan and since a Republican legislature was elected, it has become painfully obvious that many persons who voted for Republican candidates did NOT vote for Sigler. This cannot be accounted for on the basis of persons who had been offended by Sigler during his grand jury days. Nor can it be justified by a conclusion that the people did not approve of his ideas for streamlining government. The results of the same election show that several Sigler-sponsored changes were given majority approval. A constitutional convention and better salaries for state officials and legislators by removal of constitutional limitations. True, repeal of the sales tax division amendment was emphatically rejected, but Sigler had given up any hope of getting repeal approved at this time.

As we see it, the election of G. Mennen Williams was not a mandate for this-and-that in the way of social reform. It was the indirect outcome of a "protest" registered by Republicans, for the most part, who had come to the conclusion that ANOTHER change was needed at Lansing! Why did they arrive at this judgment after only two years?

We recall a remark made by Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., one of the original Sigler men at Lansing. Alger came to the capital city imbued with great ideals, as voiced by Sigler during the campaign. Here was an opportunity for public service of the highest order.

Did Alger get an opportunity to become a member of an administrative team, as Harry Kelly had successfully developed during his four-year incumbency as governor? The answer is no. Sigler failed in this respect to effect a working partnership with his own state officials and with the legislature. This failure was costly. Alger is remaining at Lansing. Sigler is not.

Sweets Blamed On Tooth Decay

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH URGES EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM IN HOMES, SCHOOLS

Eating sweets is the major cause of tooth decay among Michigan children. That is what Dr. Fred Wertheimer, director of the Bureau of Public Health Dentistry of the Michigan Department of Health said today in reviewing current dental research. He said also that the decay is occurring many times more rapidly than the dental profession can provide corrective treatment.

Dr. Wertheimer urged parents and teachers to attempt to cut down on children's use of gum—including the bubble variety—candy, pop, and chocolate syrup drinks, cookies, cake, pie, jam, jelly and sugar.

Research has shown, he said, that decay is started by acids resulting from the action of bacteria on refined sugars and starches in the mouth.

Brushing the teeth or washing the mouth immediately after eating sweets would help some," he said, "but what child would rush off to brush his teeth as soon as he had finished a pop?"

How serious the caries problem is, is shown by these facts. At the age of 10 the average child has five permanent tooth surfaces attacked by caries; at the age of 18, he has 20 surfaces attacked; and at the age of 30, more than 45 surfaces attacked.

Recent has shown that caries actively will decrease in direct proportion to the extent sugar is cut from the diet. This change has been observed in as little as two weeks time in studies conducted at the University and it was evident over a period of several years in European countries where sugar was extremely short during the war.

Caries, Dr. Wertheimer said, is the chief cause of loss of teeth among people under 30 years of age. Principal hope of saving these teeth lies in more general use of the sodium fluoride treatment. Swabbed over children's teeth, sodium fluoride can reduce tooth decay 40 to 50 per cent, even when the sugar intake has not been cut.

Other agents are being developed to counteract the harmful effect of sugar, but until these agents are in more general use, parents can save their children's teeth by cutting down on the sweets each child is permitted to eat.

Men And Mission Sunday To Be Observed Here

Next Sunday, November 14, is to be observed as Men and Missions Sunday in the Presbyterian church of Tecumseh, at which time the men of the church will lead in the morning worship. The theme for this 18th annual observance of a Sunday in which Christian men state the claims for Christian missions is "Millions are Waiting While Christ Waits for us."

Last Sunday the following new members were received into the fellowship of the Presbyterian church: Mrs. Merlin Milosh, Stanley Kruse, Joan Lewis, Joyce Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Naser, George Hammel, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gordon Garlick, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Place, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Rozelle, Miss Bernice Parker, and Mrs. Edna Parker.

Ferries Now Operate On Deer Season Schedule

LANSING—The hunting season schedule of the Michigan State Ferries operating at the Straits of Mackinac between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City went into effect Sunday, November 7, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

In order to accommodate the deer hunter traffic across the Straits four state ferries will operate night and day, departing as fast as they can unload and reload during peak periods. Under this schedule boats will be leaving from each city approximately every thirty minutes. The regular ferry fleet of four boats will be augmented by the railroad car ferry Chief Wawatam during the peak periods.

During the deer hunter rush, cars with children or people who are ill and commercial vehicles carrying perishables will be allowed to board the state ferries without waiting in line.

The year 1947 was the biggest in the history of the Michigan State ferries, with a total of 501,109 vehicles carried across the Straits. Commissioner Ziegler predicted this record may be broken as early as mid-November this year.

Figures for the first ten months of 1948 show that a total of 480,634 have crossed the Strait's, compared to last year's 10-month total of 435,186, an increase of 45,448 or 10.4 per cent. During this period there were 1,283,826 passengers carried across the Straits, compared to 1,184,422 in 1947.

Commissioner Ziegler said the hunting season schedule would remain in effect through November 20. The early winter schedule will begin December 1, with boats leaving every one and one half hours, from 6 a.m. until 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. ClauDyne Swick, lecturer, introduced the TP Broadcasters, local barbershop quartet, who entertained with several harmonious selections. James Marr, district deputy, gave the official dedication after which Rev. B. O. Rashore offered prayer. Mrs. Phyllis Patterson gave a reading entitled, "Do You Just Belong." "The folly of a gossiping group of women" was the theme of a humorous skit presented by five members of the Macon Woman's Club.

Master Charles Patterson expressed his thanks, on behalf of the Grange, to the many who so generously gave financial aid for the construction of the addition. Among the contributors were Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Herrick and the Tecumseh Products Co., Partridge Implement Co., Wright's Drug Store, R. S. Moore Lumber Co., Archie Spohr of Britton, Dove Roofing Co., of Adrian, Porter's Gravel Co., Adrian Motor Electric Co., Comfort Tile Co., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon, who donated the land, and many Grange members who gave their time and worked so diligently toward completion. Master Patterson also thanked the Tecumseh Greenhouse for the beautiful flowers which were in evidence.

Delegates to Pomona Grange held at Gorman Grange yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Boltz, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cadmus, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow.

The Tecumseh Grange will hold a Harvest Festival Fair and ham supper, open to the public, on Friday evening, November 12.

CHAMBER O.K.'S

annexed, more than half of which is for future industrial growth, is as follows:

Starting at the northwest corner of the corporation; thence south on the existing west corporation line to the south bank of Evans Creek; thence westerly along the south bank of Evans Creek to a point which is 350 feet north of the center line of State Route M 50; thence west paralleling State Route M 50 and at a distance of 350 feet north from the center line therefrom to a point which is 200 feet west of the center line of Occidental Road; thence south paralleling the center line of Occidental Road and 200 feet west therefrom a distance of approximately 2980 feet to the existing corporation line extended; thence east along this existing corporation line extended and the existing corporation line to a point 200 feet west of the center line of Adrian Street; thence south paralleling the center line of Adrian Street and 200 feet west therefrom to a point approximately 1242 feet south of the center line of Russell Road; thence east paralleling the center line of Russell Road and approximately 1242 feet south therefrom to a monument on the west line of Mohawk Road continuing east to a point 200 feet east of the center line of Mohawk Road; thence due north to the present south corporation line; thence east, north and westerly along the existing corporation lines to the point of beginning.

The proposed annexation would bring inside the corporation all of the properties of the Tecumseh Products Company and the Quaker Oats Company. It also would include the so-called Quaker Oats Subdivision and the subdivision immediately west of Sunset Meade, now outside the corporation. Likewise, properties on the north side of Chicago Boulevard road, west of the village to a point 200 feet west of Occidental Road, would be included.

"The Chamber does not intend to hurry the program, but rather to take each step carefully, and to make certain that the public understands its actions. There is no doubt but that Tecumseh's steady growth, and its almost-certain future growth, necessitates both a change in government form and an enlarged boundary. Benefits accure both to the village and to those to be annexed and, once these are carefully explained, we see no reason why approval of the plan will not be readily given by all concerned," Harris said.

Both vehicles were badly damaged.

George Rubadou, 83, Tecumseh, suffered a fracture of his right leg below the knee and head injuries, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Earl Yoder, Route 1, Saturday at 8 p.m., at the intersection of Chicago Boulevard and Evans street. Attendants at Tecumseh Hospital, where he was removed following the accident, said today his condition is much improved. Police said Mr. Rubadou walked directly into the path of the car, which was going slowly.

God Protects Jacob From The Wrath Of Laban . . .

"And when Laban overtook Jacob, he said: 'What hast thou done that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and carried away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword? Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly . . . thou hast now done foolishly in so doing."—Genesis 31:26.

Laban was angry at Jacob for running away but God intervened and told Laban not to speak to Jacob either good or bad. Thus Jacob was protected from the wrath of Laban.

Because God intervened between Jacob and Laban what might have turned into trouble ended in a covenant between two men. Your church is also striving to end trouble between men and nations. Your part of this struggle is to attend the church of your choice regularly.

It's Christmas Mailing Time For Armed Forces Overseas

WASHINGTON—It's Christmas parcel mailing time for members of the armed forces serving outside continental United States.

The Post Office Department announces that arrangements have been made with the army, navy, and air force for the acceptances of such parcels, at the same time announcing the following instructions for the preparation and mailing of such gift parcels.

All Christmas gift parcels should be mailed between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, the Post Office announces, with parcels destined for Korea, Japan, and the Islands of the Pacific to be mailed by Nov. 1 in order to assure Christmas delivery.

It also was suggested that parcels for navy and marine corps personnel serving in the most remote areas be mailed immediately.

These Christmas parcels are limited to 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches in length and girth combined. Particular emphasis is stressed on the matter of packing to withstand the long voyages and many handlings enroute to destinations.

While postal officials do not offer a list of articles suitable for sending in these Christmas parcels, they remind senders that soft candies, whether homemade or commercial, do not carry well and should not be sent. Heavy boxes should be used in packing, and postal clerks have been instructed to refuse to accept any parcel which they believe will not withstand the handling and transportation.

Sales slips of stores cannot be used as address labels. Addresses must be in ink or typewritten. Most important, a duplicate copy of the address should be placed inside the parcel as insurance against loss or damage to the outer wrapper. No letters or other written matter may be enclosed. However, a card bearing the season's greetings and name of the sender may be inserted.

Intoxicants are strictly prohibited, as well as matches and lighter fluids, poisons or compositions which may damage the mails.

Cigarettes and other tobacco products are prohibited for transmission for delivery through A. P. O's. in Germany, France Austria, Trieste, and Italy, and also, many numbers 913 and 963 in Germany.

Local post offices have a list of prohibited articles. Parcels may be insured or registered.

School Teaches Global Living

EXPERIMENTAL COURSES ARE OFFERED IN ARIZONA SCHOOL, JUST LAUNCHES

SEDONA, ARIZONA—Under the leadership of a Massachusetts educator with global training, a far-reaching experiment in educating children for world citizenship is under way here.

After its formal opening recently, the nonprofit Verde Valley school stands on this red-rock plateau region of Arizona.

Dedicated to promoting international understanding, this college preparatory school is based on the concept that children must be trained for global living in their early school days. The Verde Valley plan has been developed with the advice of hundreds of educators in this country and abroad.

From 10 States and Canada

The pioneer student body includes approximately 20 boys and girls from 10 states and Canada. The students range from 10 to 15 years of age.

Flags of the various nations represented by the faculty and student body were raised outside the school to mark the official opening. In an address to the students, Hamilton Warren, founder and executive director, said:

"By learning to live and think as world citizens we can help the world toward peace. Our job—and the the world's job—is to achieve cooperation and understanding among ourselves, within our families and communities, between labor and management, among racial and religious groups, and among nations. Verde Valley has been founded in the belief that this is the first step toward real world security.

"We must learn to think globally," Mr. Warren continued. "Our nation has become great through the combined talents and skills of peoples of many racial origins who are now American citizens. So when we are prejudiced against 'foreigners,' we are really prejudiced against ourselves. We must learn to understand the thoughts, the ambitions, the sentiments of other people and of those groups within our own country with different cultural backgrounds.

Global Responsibility

"Today, the world as a whole belongs to the peoples of all nations—and each one of us has a new responsibility as a world citizen. In this atomic era, none of us, no matter how personally secure we may feel, can any longer ignore misery or unrest anywhere on earth."

By combining the required pre-college curriculum with practical training in international citizenship, the school will seek to help its students understand why it is important to learn history, geography, economics, literature, and other subjects, according to Mr. Warren. Foreign languages, for example, will be taught as "windows on other cultures."

Intercultural relations will be studied through firsthand observation of Indians and Spanish-Americans. "The Indians are the only people of a different culture living in their own setting in this country," Mr. Warren pointed out.

To foster Pan-American friendship through contacts with Spanish-Americans, everyone in the school must acquire a speaking knowledge of Spanish.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

To Dunk or Not To Dunk?

Dunking doughnuts is Sober Hopkins' favorite morning pastime ... and for a long time Ma Hopkins has been trying to break him of the habit. Feels it sets a bad example for the children.

So one morning she puts a heavy frosting of chocolate on the doughnuts ... figuring that will stop him. Sober thinks it over for a while and then: Dunk! Taste? Smile!! And Sober compliments the missus on the lovely mocha flavor!

I guess there'll always be two schools of thought: to dunk or not to dunk. But from where I sit, it's a matter of personal choice and taste—like some folks prefer beer to cider, ale to beer. And the less we criticize those differences of taste, the better.

In fact, Ma Hopkins got so curious about the flavor of chocolate-covered doughnuts dunked in coffee, that she tried it herself. Now—you've guessed it—she's a daily dunker, too!

Education Week Is Big Success

MORE THAN 500 PARENTS ATTEND PROGRAM PRESENTED ON THURSDAY EVENING

A capacity audience of more than 500 parents attended the program sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, Thursday evening at the high school. The evening climaxed a successful week, during which time some 385 parents visited the elementary and high schools for consultation, in observance of American Education Week.

Two plays were presented by the children from grades four, five and six and the high school speech department. The parents responded enthusiastically to the productions, on which the students had spent several weeks in preparation. Miss Bernice Parker and Mrs. Inez Boltz directed the play enacted by the lower grades entitled, "And the Stars Heard." "Beachhead for Freedom," the speech department play, was under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Dickinson and Miss Bessie Bortner. The high school band, directed by Clare Cambum and the chorus, directed by Miss Marjorie Mohr, entertained with several numbers.

Mrs. Clair Ramsay was chairman of the refreshment committee and was assisted by parent representatives of senior high school students, namely Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hicks, Mrs. Ed Harper, Mrs. Ralph McCarbery, Mrs. Jesse Arnold and Mrs. Lee Phibbs.

Earl H. Place, superintendent of schools, was very enthused with the response of the parents. "The teachers and staff deeply appreciate the sincere interest expressed by the parents last week during the observance of American Education Week in the Tecumseh public schools," he said, "We are anxious to work with the parents and feel the closer the home and school work together, the better it is for everyone concerned." Mr. Place continued he said 138 parents of high school students had visited for consultation the first three days of the week and 247 parents of kindergarten through sixth grade children had visited the elementary schools.

The regular P. T. A. meeting of December 9 has been postponed to December 16 when the program will be presented by the music departments of the schools, under the direction of Clare Camburn and Miss Marjorie Mohr. P. T. A. officers and representatives are urging parents to attend these monthly meetings.

Indians Lose To Sugar Boys

By Gordon Comfort

The Tecumseh Indians took a trouncing in the final football game of the season Friday night from the Blissfield Sugarboys at Recreation Center. The score was 30-0, the Indians not being able to score a single touchdown.

The first quarter was scoreless but early in the second period the Blissfield eleven blasted over for their first six points. They failed to gain the extra point. Later in the same quarter, Deak, a Blissfield back took a Tecumseh punt and raced 50 yards for the second score of the game. Again the attempted run for the extra point failed and Blissfield led 12-0.

Blissfield scored three more times during the game, once Pfeifer took the ball over the three after a 60 yard march, Keller once carried the ball over from the one yard line after a long drive down the field and Deak scored from the two. Blissfield failed in all attempts to gain the extra points after touchdowns.

It was the last game for both teams, and the third defeat of the season for Tecumseh.

Doubt Success Of Chest Drive

LESS THAN HALF OF QUOTA SUBSCRIBED; CLOSING DATE IS EXTENDED ONE WEEK

Success of Tecumseh's Community Chest drive was in doubt today as Vance Ogden, general chairman, announced that the date for the closing of the campaign, originally set for tomorrow, had been extended one week in an effort to give solicitors more time to contact contributors.

"It is difficult to understand the situation in Tecumseh this year, and I dislike to believe that Tecumseh will fall down on its Chest quota — something that never before happened in this village," Mr. Ogden said. "However, it is a fact that contributions are not coming in in amounts equal to a year ago, and unless something is done to speed up the giving I fear that the quota will be undersubscribed."

To date, Ogden said, contributions total $1,858.50 against a quota of $5,320.

"We have not even reached the half-way mark," Ogden said, "and while it is a fact that a few of the solicitors have not reported, it also is true that many of them are being refused and others are finding it necessary to make call-back-after-call-back to obtain gifts. Apparently it all adds up to a program of intensive effort if we are to succeed and for that reason the drive has bene extended for another week."

Sharing in the Chest this year are these organizations: Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary, $500; Cancer Control Society, $350; Howe'en and Christmas parties for children, $200; Girl Scouts, $400; Boy Scouts (Wolverine Council of America), $400; Sister Kenny Foundation, $100; Salvation Army, $300; Michigan Welfare League, $10; Michigan Aid for Blind, $50; Tecumseh Recreation Center, $500; Reserve for emergencies, general welfare and campaign expenses, $2,500.

"Residents should bear in mind that this is a combined effort—one solicitation and one gift for all of the organizations listed. All of the enterprises in the Chest are worthy of support, and I cannot but feel that when folk think it over they will give generously. In this final week of the drive let's make every effort to put Tecumseh over the top in the worthwhile cause," Ogden said.

First Nighters Praise Players

THREE-ACT COMEDY STAGED BY EMPLOYEES OF THE TECUMSEH PRODUCTS CO.

Products Players won round after round of applause last week Wednesday evening, November 10, when they staged their first performance in the form of a three-act comedy at Union Hall before an audience of more than 300 first-nighters. The new stage and curtains, the gift of R. W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., were used for the first time and added much to the success of the show.

"The Deacon Entangled," was the comedy, and it had to do with the troubles of a gentleman who tried to please too many people at the same time, and ran into difficulty. Of course, if he had first consulted his wife he wouldn't have dared to pledge money to the church for the new pipe organ, for this lady was just as sharp-tongued as the preacher was silver-tongued. Deacon Penrose was played by Dick Hartley, diamond bore specialist at Products, and Mrs. Penrose by Ruth Packard, wife of Francis Packard diamond bore operator who played the part of the Rev. Dr. Sopher.

To add to the Deacon's problems, a young nephew, Cal Spangler, played by Ray Stockinger, production-planning department, whose interest in baseball and betting was quite obvious, came to visit. It was a case of love at first sight when he met the preacher's daughter, Georgia, played by Jean Jacobson, purchasing department. The Deacon was led astray by his nephew and was caught in a police raid on a gambling joint, by Officer Rafferty, played by Frederick Dickinson, employment manager.

Ruth Penrose, the deacon's daughter, played by Betty Fish, accounting department, was to be sent away to school so she would not marry a reporter named Harry Baxter, played by Bud McEnroe. But they eloped.

Katie the maid, played by Isabel Hamilton Aiuto, purchasing department, appeared on the scene at some very opportune moments, and provoked many good laughs.

It would be difficult to select the star of the play, but the three leading characters were the Deacon and his wife and Cal Spangler, the nephew. All three of these players did a very outstanding job. But so did each of the other six players, and the whole show made for an exciting and humorous evening.

The play was put on by courtesy of the United Products Workers Union, and it was the hope of those present that Products Players will be encouraged to put on another play in the near future.

The director was "Cy" Kring, who put in many hours of hard work getting everything in order, and who also lost hours of sleep worrying for fear it would not go over. He deserves much credit for the success of the venture.

The makeup artist was Mary Heath Martin and the hair stylist, Edna Ramsey. Their work added much to the appearance of the players.

SPEAKS IN BRITTON

Mrs. Donald Goddard gave a travelogue of her recent trip to Europe at the Britton Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Guy Pocklington. Tuesday evening, she was the guest speaker of the women's guilds of St. Peter's Episcopal church and this evening she will speak at a family night at the Holloway Presbyterian church.

Rotary Club Hears Of India And Iceland

Something about the customs of the people of India and Ireland was told by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, students at Adrian College, when they spoke Tuesday evening to the Rotary Club, following dinner at Brees House. The Reynolds are ministers at the Methodist church at Rhea during their studies at Adrian.

Mrs. Reynolds was, during the war, a missionary in India and it was there that she met and married her husband who was born in Belfast, Ireland. They plan to return to India after completing their college work.

Richard Bishop, Tecumseh high school senior, was introduced as the junior Rotarian from the school during the month of November.

Clarence Gilman, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of C. O. Butler, president.

A spokesman for the Tecumseh Ministerial Association expressed the hope that the church will be filled for the service, but for the shut-ins or those unable to attend, the radio program may be heard. Mrs. Harley McConnell of the Baptist church will render a vocal solo, "A Prayer of Thanksgiving" and Mrs. Kenton Hunt will preside at the organ. The Baptist, Episcopal, Friends, Methodist and Presbyterian churches unite annually for the Thanksgiving service.

The Grace Ev. Lutheran church will have a special service on Thanksgiving Day, beginning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. J. deRuiter will deliver the sermon.

BRITTON HOUSE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

The Britton fire department was called to the Ray Smith residence in that village last Thursday afternoon. Fire had broken out on the roof in leaves that had collected there, apparently started by sparks from the chimney. The blaze was soon brought under control, but there was some damage, due to fire and water. The Ridgeway fire department was called and stood by in the event added assistance was needed.

TWINS BURIED

Prayer services were conducted at the grave in Brookside cemetery Friday morning for the twin son and daughter infants of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, who died two hours after birth at Tecumseh hospital, Wednesday, November 10. Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

COMPLIMENTS TECUMSEH "KIDS," SAYS HE'S GOING TO GIVE 'EM A BREAK

The old fellow was in town last week and stopped for a few minutes at the Chamber of Commerce. It seems that he had heard that the kids in Tecumseh had been pretty good this year — obeyed their safety patrol leaders, had fun on Hallowe'en without causing any damage, and a lot of things like that.

Informed that this was true, Santa slapped his leg and said, "Good! And just because of that I am going to give the kids in Tecumseh more attention than they've ever had before. You know I have a lot of ground to cover, and I don't want to play favorites unfairly. However, these Tecumseh kids have earned every bit of attention they can get, and I'm going to give it to them.

"I expect to be in Tecumseh for an hour or two every afternoon the week before Christmas. I'll be in places where I can easily be found so that every youngster who has a special message for me will be able to find me without too much trouble. I'm going to ask the Chamber of Commerce to help me with my Tecumseh mail because it looks as if I'm going to busier than ever this year.

"I also hope to call on every storekeeper in Tecumseh, too. (You'd be surprised how many merchants are interested in me this year, and have promised they'll do all they can to see that there are all sorts of things every body wants.)"

As Santa left the Chamber of Commerce he said that he couldn't answer all the questions yet about just when he'll be here and so on. But he promised to let them know so that they can give all the information in future issues of The Herald.

THERE'S A LIMIT

One wonders just how far the Federal government can go in supporting the citizens of this country.

According to the Chicago Journal of Commerce, one out of every six adult Americans is now receiving money from the U. S. Treasury. This includes Federal employes, war veterans and dependents, retired civil service employes, social security beneficiaries, and so on. And the total tends to steadily increase.

If those who wish to extend social security to cover every possible human financial problem from the cradle to the grave have their way, it won't be long until the Federal government will supply all or part of the livelihood of practically everyone in the country. The drive for compulsory sickness insurance is a good example of that possibility. Theoretically, it would be paid for by a payroll tax. Actually, in the view of experts, the proposed tax would be inaequate, and heavy appropriations would be necessary to make up the deficits. Then, on top of that, it would create one of the largest bureaucracies in the government to handle the administration of the measure. Thus the army of regular Federal tax-eaters would be swollen once more—and once more the taxpayer would dig into his depleted pocketbook to pay the bill.

Social security, indeed, can be made so costly that it would destroy the security and future of everyone. We have gone a long way toward that point.

The storage and administrative center at the Naval Supply Depot, Norfolk, Va., with over 1,000,000 square feet of floor space is one of the world's largest storehouses.

"Enchanted Cottage" Is Church Play This Week

"Love conquers all" is the theme of Arthur Wing Pinero's "Enchanted Cottage" brought to the radio by the Protestant Episcopal families in this community on Friday night November 18 from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. over station CKLW. Miss Gene Tierney, star of many Hollywood triumphs such as "A Bell for Adano," "The Razor's Edge," "The Iron Curtain" and a host of others, will portray the role of Laura. Walter Hampden, beloved veteran actor of the stage and screen and host on this series of "Great Scenes from Great Plays", will play the part of the old family friend, Major Hillgrove, and Richard Waring, long a favorite with radio audiences, will play opposite Miss Tierne as Oliver, the war casualty whom she marries out of pity.

How deep and abiding love works a miracle on a limping, disillusioned war casualty, how love transforms a hopelessly plain British school teacher into a radiant beauty—and how this physical transformation is still invisible to the people of the outside world is the mystical thesis of the plot. It is a story of a modern miracle wrought by a good woman's love that transcends all obstacles and refuses to recognize any impediment to the attainment of its goal. It is also the story of glorious enchantment of a cottage and of how two people found their true selves within its ancient walls. A fairy story for grown-ups, perhaps, but also a story with a lesson which can be applied universally.

Night Driving Courtesy Urged

DON'T DAZZLE 'EM, DIM 'EM, IS NEW SLOGAN OF SAFETY COMMITTEE

"Don't dazzle 'em. DIM 'em!"

Motorists are thus urged to use their dimmers for safety's sake on the highways and on city streets, in the traffic safety program of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Blinding an oncoming driver with your headlights is one of the most foolish and unnecessary things a motorist can do," A. W. Porter, chairman of the Chamber's Safety Committee said. "You are threatening your own life when you fail to lower your headlights for an approaching car. Only a few seconds of light blindness can result in tragedy.

"It's not only good manners to dim your lights when meeting another car. It's often a matter of self-preservation. And it's safer and more courteous, too, to use the lower beam when overtaking cars. Lights glaring into a driver's eyes from the rear-view mirror can dazzle almost as readily as when they are head-on."

1. Dim lights well ahead when meeting a car on a level road.

2. Dim before a car coming over a rise or around a bend in the road catches the full force of your bright lights.

3. Dim when overtaking to avoid blinding the driver through the reflection in his rear-view mirror.

4. Use city beam (dimmers) on heavily traveled two-lane highways and in lighted areas of settled communities.

5. Check the level and aim of your headlights frequently and see that they are correctly beamed at all times.

The special emphasis program on night traffic accidents is part of a continuing safety educational program coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce and sponsored by the National Safety Council.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LANSING—Michigan's divided house in state government is going to erupt new controversy in 1949.

While Governor-Elect G. Mennen Williams has repeatedly maintained he could get along with a Republican legislature better than did Kim Sigler, the fact remains that Williams and the legislature will be miles apart in some issues. Here are a few of them, as indicated by campaign statements of the Democratic governor-elect:

Outright repeal of the Bonine-Tripp labor relations act which requires a majority vote of all employees in an election before a strike can be called. The authors of this measure—Senator G. Welwood Bonine of Vandalia and Senator Harold D. Tripp of Allegan— were re-elected by their respective districts.

Increase in unemployment compensation. The payments were adjusted by the legislature in 1947. A further increase is proposed by Williams.

Increase in old age and mothers' pension. The badly inflated dollar with its lowered purchasing power is causing hardships among pensioners. The legislature's attitude on this issue may be influenced, in part, by the prospective state deficit under the 1946 sales tax amendment.

Public housing by municipalities through bond issues retired by rents.

Fair employment practices act modeled after the New York law which was intended to outlaw racial or religious discrimination in private employment.

Building program to alleviate overcrowding in mental institutions. Such a program was inaugurated by Governor Harry F. Kelly. Again how is Michigan to finance these improvements, conceded by everyone to be badly needed?

Williams insisted that Michigan lacks a "long range" program of highway improvement and that tourists who traveled over dusty roads "would never return to Michigan." This criticism points to a Democratic effort to wrest the state highway department from Republican control at the 1949 spring election. It also revives the 1948 issue of whether the gasoline tax should be boosted to make possible new roads.

If the November 2 majority vote for a constitutional convention meets legal tests, the door would be opened to overhauling of the state's taxation system with possibility of a state income tax, scaled to "soak the rich." The new problems are many.

Need Teamwork To Hike Output

COOPERATION IS CALLED INCENTIVE TO CORRECT INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

NEW YORK—Incentives to increase production must be adopted in some form by all business and industry, J. F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric Company of Cleveland, told the 17th annual meeting of the Controllers' Institute of America here.

Mr. Lincoln, who is one of the foremost advocates of incentive plans, is credited with paying the highest wages of any industrial employer. He said that production for each man in his company, which employs 1,000 people, had increased seven times over the rate in 1933, while prices had decreased 50 per cent. He reported it had succeeded in becoming the manufacturers of over 50 per cent of the welding equipment in this country.

Outlining the basis for an incentive system, he said.

"The first tenet of belief is that every man must be made a member of the industrial team with a clear understanding of the objectives of that team. Furthermore, each man must realize that his efforts directly affect the performance of the team and its standings.

"This realization must be substantiated by reward based on the individual's contribution. Each man must share in the net result of the team's performance in the same measure he has contributed. In other words, a man must be paid for the work he accomplishes, not for the amount of time he puts in.

"This philosophy implies a belief that all the brains of an organization are not concentrated in so-called management. Men must be encouraged to think constructively about their work and to reveal their ideas.

"There must, of course, be a means of communication of ideas, and management must be aware of its responsibilities for the honest appraisal of these ideas.

"Likewise, promotion of men must be based on merit. The best available man for any given job must be chosen from within the ranks.

"Finally, there must be a clear and concise statement of the objectives of industrial efficiency; namely, the making of better products at a lower cost to the consumer, plus unequivocal insistence upon keying the performance of the entire organization to this objective."

From this point of view of the worker, incentive philosophy involves just as drastic changes in thinking as is required of management. Mr. Lincoln added, "It should be observed, though, that as men begin to look at their work in this light, the distinction between labor and management disappears."

"Eventually all men think of their work in the same terms, each accepting responsibility as it is given him. From the sweeper on up, everyone must do his job to the best of his ability. This of course implies a loyalty which places the championship standing of the team as its first concern.

"Supplementing this responsibility must be an understanding of the fundamental economic principle that increased production and lower prices expand a market rather than contract it. This in turn necessitates an acceptance of the idea that there is a better way of doing everything that is being done today."

Origin Of Family Names Discussed By D. A. R.

The Abi Evans chapter, D. A. R., met Friday evening at the home of Miss Genevieve Gillespie with 28 members and two guests present. Reports of officers and group chairmen were given and it was voted to give financial aid to the Community Chest and Town Hall. Candidates who were voted upon and received into membership were Mrs. Joe Rice, who transferred from the Hillsdale chapter, Mrs. Max Brandt and Mrs. Frances Stone.

Miss Edith Ingersoll, program leader, presented Mrs. J. Floyd Elliott, who read a paper on the origin of family names. Members brought Christmas gifts to be sent to the D. A. R. Approved Schools. It was also decided that each member would give 10c for each of the 14 flag days throughout the year, some of this money to be used for D. A. R. purposes.

Refreshments were served by Miss Gillespie assisted by Mrs. Percy Heidenreich, Mrs. Earl Stevens, Mrs. Christine McClure, Mrs. Neil Pearson and Mrs. F. B. Bates.

BRITTON

The Misses Dorothy Ann Wonderly and Eileen Carothers were hostesses to a pleasant surprise party, Wednesday evening, honoring their mothers who were both celebrating their birthday anniversaries. Cards, music, and dancing were the diversions. The hostesses were assisted by several friends in serving refreshments of cake, coffee and ice cream. A large decorated candlelighted cake made by Mrs. Joyce Schroeder and four other lovely decorated cakes made by friends adorned the tables. Mrs. Wonderly and Mrs. Carothers both received many lovely gifts.

TIPTON

Mrs. Lester Baker entertained the Past Chiefs Club last night with Mrs. Floyd Billington as associate hostess.

Mrs. Mabelle Taylor of Plymouth has been a guest of her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hardy.

Ralph Wilson has moved to the late Arthur Dove farm. Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Hardy moved to the Driffill apartment recently vacated by Mr. Wilson.

During the 45 months of war, about 75,400,000 rations, or about 226,200,000 individual meals, were served at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Food requirements of the Navy in 1941 were 1,000,000,000 (B) pounds; in 1945 they had risen to 5,700,000,000 (B) pounds.

Go To Church On Sunday

Jacob, With God's Protection, Reaches Shaylem Safely . .

"Let me find grace in the face of the Lord . . . and from thence Jacob came to Shalem, a city of Sechem, which is in the land of Canaan; and pitched his tent before the city. And he bought a parcel of a field where he had spread his tent . . . and he erected there an altar." — Genesis 33:20.

Esau offered to protect Jacob until he reached his destination but Jacob said he would trust in God to deliver him safely because He said He would.

Men who trust in a Higher Being have led the progress of civilization throughout the years. There is a place where you can reestablish your personal faith in your God. That is your church — Be sure to attend it regularly.

IT'S CHEAPER TO KEEP WELL!

What Are You Doing About Your Cold?

Every day we hear folk say: "I've got a cold . . . I'm wearing it out."

Don't be misled. Cold's do not have to be "worn out" and they should not be. Victims of colds should stay at home, keep warm, get plenty of rest and guard against infecting others.

We have many tried remedies for colds in our store that usually give quick results. However, if, after you have used home treatment, your cold continues, call your doctor. And when he prescribes, bring his prescription to us for careful compounding.

Remember! Don't neglect a cold. It's dangerous.

Price Control And Tax Boost May Be Coming

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR AMERICAN BUSINESS IN YEARS TO COME?

The guessing is not so much over what caused the victory (for instance, "Did Truman win or Dewey lose?") as over what the Democratic victory will produce.

Among the results expected is an effort by the President to get corporate taxes increased in order to balance a budget which is fast going into the red.

The three salient facts about the budget are that, compared to last year, (1) income has slipped, (2) expenditures are rising sharply, and in consequence (3) the net results this year may be poorer than last year's by as much as a staggering $10 billions.

In other words, in contrast to an all-time record surplus in the year ended last June 30 of around $8½ billions, the budget this current fiscal year ending next June 30 may end up with an operating deficit of around $1½ billions.

In very rough figures, the contrast may turn out to be somewhat as follows, in round billions of dollars:

Revenue	45	43
Expenses	37	45
Result	plus 8	—2

These figures take no account of the arbitrary juggling by which Congress charged last year's results with $3 billions of European aid being spent this year so as to keep last year's figures from looking too good and this year's from looking too bad.

Revenues are down for two reasons—the tapering off of revenues from war surplus sales (factories, machinery, merchant ships, etc.) and the Republican-engineered 1948 tax cut. The increase in taxable income has only partly offset these.

The increase in outlays is equal to a whole prewar peak budget. Costs have increased right straight down the line in all major items from national defense to "housing and community facilities."

For the last two years the national budget has had a deflationary effect, since it has been balanced on a bookkeeping basis and much more than balanced on a cash basis (many expenses were book charges, transfers to trust funds, etc.). But from here on it appears likely to become an inflationary influence.

Wall Street finds this discouraging for two reasons. First—as pointed out last week on this page—approaching deficits provide a ready-made argument for increasing corporate taxes. This was the way the budget increased in the '30's. First more outlays would be voted, then more taxes to finance them, then more outlays.

The second reason is that a revived inflation threat would give the President and the 81st Congress plausible ground for reviving price control and industrial allocation and standby rationing powers. When the President asked these last November, Congress refused them. Since then, and particularly this autumn, the inflation far has receded. Its recurrence would almost automatically open the way for the President to repeat his request even more emphatically.

Another bearish implication of the Democratic comeback is the possibility if an even more "vigorous antitrust enforcement" program. The meaning of this law has now been so inflated by Supreme Court decisions that the heads of virtually all large businesses are "living on borrowed time" in the sense that a criminal conviction against them is almost a foregone conclusion whenever the Department of Justice can get around to have them indicted under the Sherman or Clayton Acts.

Antitrust and Trade Commission campaigns are generally thought by voters to be means of bringing down prices. This is not always true, as in the Sherman Act cases against the big grocery chains to protect independents against their price-cutting and the upset of the basing-point price system, with consequent lifting of costs to the more remote customers.

The election is not expected to make much change in present credit control policies. Bankers here feel that, if anything, it makes it more likely that the reserve system will continue to hold the pegged prices of long-term government bonds. Paradoxically, it is expected to continue the trend toward tighter installment credit terms but easier home mortgage credit.

Then For Health's Sake, Eat More Breakfast

Are you feeling down in the dumps?

Chances are you didn't eat a good breakfast. That's what the Michigan Department of Health says.

What did you eat?

Breakfast, the most important meal in the day, is the most neglected meal, especially among women and children, Mrs. Alice Smith, Chief Nutritionist of the Department, said today. Nine poor breakfasts are eaten for every good breakfast in the state.

A good breakfast includes: (1) fruit or fruit juice, preferably citrus, (2) whole grain or enriched cereal or bread, (3) milk, and (4) butter or fortified margarine. None of these four items should be omitted from any breakfast, and in addition, growing children need eggs, bacon, sausage or other breakfast meat."

Breakfast neglect is most common among children, particularly teen-agers, among office workers, among plant and factory workers and among housewives, especially the mothers of little children. It reveals itself in irritability, fatigue, poor morale, lowered efficiency and ability to concentrate, less care with work, poor work performance, nervousness, accidents —and even wrinkles, Mrs. Smith said.

The time between dinner at night and breakfast the following day is the longest interval between meals. The human mind and body need refueling for efficiency and smooth operation during the morning and early afternoon hours.

The U. S. Bureau of Human Nutrition has found that those who skip breakfast get less done in the first working hours and become less efficient as the morning hours progress. Wartime study showed that most industrial accidents occurred between 11 and noon—to those who had little or no breakfast.

Excuses usually given for eating poor breakfasts are (1) "haven't time," (2) "not hungry," and (3) "fattening."

The Department of Health recommended these solutions. Get up earlier. Serve breakfast earlier (You can set the table the night before.) Make breakfast a real family meal and take time to enjoy it. Vary the menu and serve it attractively. If you would streamline your figure, eat more in the morning and less at night. Eat a good breakfast to start a good morning and a good day.

State Wages Battle Against Rheumatic Fever

"The Michigan State Medical Society's all-out war against rheumatic fever, the greatest killer and crippler of children, has resulted in the discovery of 802 cases in Michigan out of 4,470 persons examined in the 30 Rheumatic Fever Detection Centers since the establishment of the program in 1946," it was announced today by Frank Van Schoick, M.D., Jackson, chairman of the Rheumatic Fever Control Committee.

The announcement was made in conjunction with a report to the Society made public by its Rheumatic Fever Control Committee which listed the present status of the Control program in Michigan.

Dr. VanSchoick pointed out that these Centers are diagnostic only, and are set up at strategic locations throughout the state. A minimal charge is made to every patient to defray the costs of laboratory testing, and doctors of medicine contribute their time and services in the consultive work.

In addition to the 4,470 new cases there were 2,140 re-examinations made in the 694 clinics held The number of non-rheumatic fever cases was 3,669. A ratio of one person out of every six people examined was found to have rheumatic fever.

"Early detection and prompt treatment of this disease are of vital importance", Dr. Van Schoick emphasized, "For rheumatic fever causes 90 percent of the heart disease in children. It is estimated that more than 200,000 men and women in the United States are invalids as a result of rheumatic fever."

"Because of the difficulty in diagnosing rheumatic fever," Dr. Van Schoick said, "Family physicians are urged to send suspected cases to the Detection Centers for a thorough examination by specialists in the field."

He cited the new rheumatic fever cases which are constantly being revealed, and warned that there is a higher incidence of this disease than has previously been suspected.

Former Naval Reserve officers, now transferred to the regular Navy, are required to attend General Line schools at either Monterey, Calif., or Newport, R. I., where 44 weeks of training brings their service education up to a stage theoretically equalling that of U. S. Naval Academy graduates

Mr. Abbott said the rationing of pleasure travel during the last 12 months probably had meant a saving of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 (U. S. currency).

"This substantial sum was thus made available for many essential supplies and commodities during this period," he said.

GOOD NEWS FOR USED CAR BUYERS

Trade-Ins On New Cars And Trucks Make It Possible For Us To Offer You

ROCK-BOTTOM CAR PRICES

Because delivery on new cars is a little better, we've taken in some dandy used cars that we're offering to our customers at rock-bottom prices.

Customers at our garage know that we never dabbled in the used car business to make money. We openly fought gray and black market prices. True, we bought and sold cars that could be "honestly priced," but our business, primarily, is a new car business, with used cars as a sideline.

If you're interested in a better used car, check the list at the right. Come in, look them over and see for yourself the values that they are.

Our slogan now is the same as it was before and during the war: "The Honest Service Garage."

Listed below are some of the cars and trucks we now have to offer to our customers:

'41 HUDSON UTILITY COACH. Finish is good. New Tires. Heater.

'39 BUICK 4-DOOR. Extra good shape throughout. Radio and heater.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

HEY, KIDS! SANTA WANTS TO HEAR FROM YOU

C. of C. Installs Special Santa Mail Box

With Christmas only a month away, there is a flurry of activity in Tecumseh to make sure that the season will be properly observed in this community.

Santa Claus himself has called the Chamber of Commerce every day to check on preparations for his visit here. He is having his suit cleaned up and is even going to try to find time to shampoo his beard so as to look his best for the Tecumseh children.

Since he will not be able to be in Tecumseh until about a week before Christmas, Santa has made special arrangements for Tecumseh youngsters who want to make sure that their requests get to him in plenty of time. He is preparing a special Santa Claus mail box which will make its appearance on the main four corners next week. This will be a new red and green box of just the right size for little folks. The Chamber of Commerce has promised Santa that they will see that he gets his mail promptly and they want the children to be sure to sign their names.

Meantime, at Santas's request, decorators are appearing in the business district and will be all in place next week, Leon Williamson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas committee, with the assistance of a village crew, has had two large trees placed on the boulevard at Chicago and Pearl and at Chicago and Ottawa where they will shortly burst forth in a blaze of lights.

Wreaths and evergreen will be placed on the light poles, festooning will be placed over the traffic light on the main corner, and a lighted star will shine on the roof of each building on the corner of Chicago and Evans.

Santa has announced that he is well pleased with the plans!

Girl Scouts To Operate Bazaar

The Tecumseh Girl Scout Association will hold its second annual bazaar in the Methodist church on Saturday, December 4, from 1 to 8 p.m. The thirteen troops of Brownies and Scouts, under the supervision of their leaders, are busy planning and making things for the bazaar in hopes that the proceeds, together with help from the Community Chest, will be sufficient to meet their expenses for the year.

Instead of having several money-making schemes throughout the year, the Association is limited to one major project and each troop may have a minor project. Therefore, it is very important that emphasis of all be placed on the bazaar, according to Mrs. Grenval Spangler, president of the Association. She has appointed Mrs. Ralph Helzerman as general chairman of the bazaar and she in turn has appointed chairmen of the special booths.

Among the sponsoring organizations for this year are the Garden Club, P. E. O., D. A. R., Tecumseh Business and Professional Women, the Methodist Guild Circle, Presbyterian League, American Legion Auxiliary, Westminster League, Lyster League, Exchange Club, Altar Society of St. Elizabeth's church and the V. F. W. Auxiliary.

The women who are giving generously of their time without pay to act as leaders and co-leaders of the troops are Mrs. George Wittrup, Mrs. A. L. VanWinkle, Mrs. Don Wilson, Mrs. Herbert Dillon, Mrs. Ronald Johnston, Mrs. Art Bowser, Mrs. Harold Clark, Mrs. Dale Bowers, Mrs. Robert Stone, Mrs. Franklin Barrett, Mrs. Paul Clauda, Miss Elizabeth Blohm, Mrs. Clarence Morningstar, Mrs. Owen Partridge, Mrs. George Heeman, Mrs. Gerald Driscoll, Mrs Harlan Hoye, and Mrs. Joseph Rohweder.

Besides these women, others are serving as officers and there are three or five mothers out of each troop serving as committee women to assist in many ways. The number of girls in each troop ranges from eight to sixteen.

Will Open Bids For New School

AT LEAST SEVEN CONTRACTING FIRMS EXPECTED TO COMPETE FOR CONTRACT

At least seven contracting firms and a dozen or more sub-contractors are expected to submit proposals to the board of education here today, when bids are opened for the building of Tecumseh's proposed new $400,000 high school. The board has fixed 12 o'clock noon as the deadline for the receipt of bids, and it was said that interest in the construction program, from the contractors' standpoint, is much greater now than it was two months ago when the district first attempted to obtain proposals.

"All that we know about the program is that contractors seem to be very interested in the proposal, according to reports from the architects," Earl H. Place, superintendent, said. "It will be recalled that two months ago, when bids were sought, we only had two firms interested in the contract."

Two months ago, when the plans were first submitted for bids, contracting firms were far above the $400,000 estimate. The only "firm" bid received by the board totaled more than $800,000, or twice the estimate.

"Of course, we do not know as yet what prices the new bids will contain, but we are very hopeful that they will be within the architect's estimate of $400,000," Mr. Place said.

After bids were received two months ago the original plans for the construction of the new school were revised by the architects and it was said that it should now be possible to build the school with the funds available.

The district has $400,000 in cash with which to build the building. Of that amount, $180,000 comes from bonds, about $75,000 from a sinking fund, established three years ago by the district, and $145,000, the gift of the Tecumseh Products Co., Ray W. Herrick, president, and his associates.

Whether or not actual construction on the building can start this year, even though the bids to be opened this afternoon are satisfactory, will depend, Mr. Place said, upon the desire of the contractor. If the successful late to begin construction, it will be delayed until early spring. It is hoped, however, to have the new building in readiness for the opening of school in the fall of 1949.

'Look Out When It's Dark Out'

THAT IS SLOGAN THAT MOTORISTS, PEDESTRIANS ARE URGED TO HEED

"Pedestrians should be seen—not hurt!"

That modern proverb to save lives, especially after dark, is suggested by the Chamber of Commerce who place most of the responsibility for pedestrian safety on the pedestrian.

"A pedestrian can see a car coming much sooner than the driver can see him," A. W. Porter, chairman of the Chamber's Safety Committee said today. "It's amazing how trusting most of us are when we are pedestrians. We are just sure motorists see us and will not run over us. That's taking entirely too much for granted.

"This is especially true after dark and in the half-dark of twilight. And as winter comes on it's even worse," Mr. Porter said. "A pedestrian in dark clothing is just about as conspicuous as a black cat in a dark alley.

"And the traffic death figures prove this. Half of all pedestrian fatalities occur between 6:00 p.m. and midnight, according to the National Safety Council, with the first three hours after nightfall having the highest rate of any other time of day. SO LOOK OUT WHEN IT'S DARK OUT!"

Mr. Porter gave the following tips for pedestrians after dark:

1. Walk where motorists expect you to be—on sidewalks, in crosswalks, or on the left side of the road facing traffic.

2. Wear or carry something light or reflectorized, or carry a light so that you will be visible in the surrounding darkness.

3. Remember that motorists can't see you as soon as you can see them.

The traffic safety program emphasizing night accidents during October is part of a continuing campaign coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce and sponsored by the National Safety Council.

The hunters also visited Kenneth Ives, Herbert McClure and Mrs. Brockmow, who were hunting farther north. In that camp, two deer had been killed.

Chest Fund Is Growing Slowly

OGDEN SEEKS ADDITIONAL $1,500 IN EFFORT TO REACH TOTAL OF $4,000

Miracles sometimes happen and that is exactly what officials of Tecumseh's Red Feather Community Fund were hoping for today as they trained their guns on new targets in a last-minute effort to boost the Fund's total to near the $4,000 mark by the end of the week.

"We still have hopes of making our quota, but its going to mean that every one must dig a little deeper and, perhaps, that some who already have contributed will be asked to give a little more," Vance Ogden, general chairman of the campaign, said. "Tecumseh's quota this year is, in round numbers, no more than it was a year ago and we met it then without difficulty. I believe, once it is understood that unless we act promptly we are going to fail, that we can turn this year's drive into a success. It is to that end that we intend to stage an intensive campaign during the remaining days of November."

As of Tuesday morning, Mr. Ogden reported that $2,510 had been contributed to the Chest against a total of $5,320.

"We have not yet reached the half-way mark, but there are a few contributions that we are counting on to come in before Thanksgiving that should give us a considerable boost," Ogden said. "I do feel, however, if we are to reach our goal that some intensive effort must be made to raise about $1,500 yet this week. I have asked solicitors to back-track and to check call-backs carefully. Also, it may be necessary to ask some contributors to boost their gifts a little in an effort to reach our quota."

Gifts, generally speaking, have been much smaller this year than they were a year ago, the chairman said. This is particularly true in residential areas, he said. "I now feel that some folk who gave us only a dollar or two will, when they understand the need, be happy to give a little more, realizing that very organization participating in the fund is worthy and worthwhile."

These organizations share in the Chest this year: Tecumseh Hospital stabilized, $700; Cancer Control Society, $350; Hallowe'en and Christmas parties for children, $200; Girl Scouts, $400; Boy Scouts, Wolverine Council of America, $400; Sister Kenny Foundation, $100; Salvation Army, $300; Michigan Welfare League, $10; Michigan Aid for Blind, $50; Tecumseh Recreation Center, $500; Reserve for emergencies, general welfare and campaign expenses, $2,500.

Contributors should bear in mind that a gift in this Chest drive is a gift to all of these organizations," Ogden said. "It is Tecumseh's way of eliminating a half-dozen campaigns to raise funds for as many organizations. You give once, to the Chest, and you have, automatically, given to all of these community enterprises."

HOW BIG IS "BIG"?

There is always complaint about alleged monopolistic practices in business—coupled with talk to the effect that "little business" can't meet the competition of "big business."

There are certain obvious reasons for such talk. Competition is now more intense than it was during the scarcity period, when consumers had to search for goods and there was an eager market for practically anything. In many lines the buyers' market has returned with a vengeance, and consumers are cannily shopping about in search of the best deal for their money. Further, many people started stores and little enterprises without proper experience or financing, and they are naturally finding the going harder now.

To blindly blame "big business" for these and kindred problems makes no sense. Many of us tend to forget that a business only becomes big because people like its product, its service, and its policies, and so patronize it. The chain retail systems are among the best examples of that truth. Every last one of them started as a small operation. Somebody had a sound idea for attracting trade. And so, over the years, as a result of experience and good management, some of the little stores became big. And the only reason they remain big is that they continue to please the buying public.

Small businesses which few people have heard of today will be mammoth operations on some future date. It has always worked that way and it always will be in a competitive, free economy. If there are unfair practices, we have laws to stop them. But to dam existing business just because it is big is to damn the system which has given this country its economic strength, the high living standards of the people and every man a chance to prosper in business. Bigness is simply a reward for the kind of service people want.

Niagara To Aid Canadian Power

$150,000,000 PROGRAM HINTED TO SOLVE ELECTRIC PROBLEM

TORONTO — A hydroelectric plan that may cost $150,000,000—to develop enough additional power from Niagara Falls to assure a permanent solution for Southern Ontario's power shortage—will start immediately, according to Robert Saunders, hydro-electric chairman.

Briefly, the plan will consist of enlarging of the existing hydro-electric station at Queenston, six miles below the Canadian falls, and blasting a three-mile tunnel through solid rock under the Niagara escarpment to drive giant new turbines.

The plan requires signing of a treaty between the United States and Canadian governments, Mr. Saunders said. It is expected to harness an additional 380,000 horsepower, equal to about 86 per cent of Toronto's normal consumption.

Mr. Saunders said he has completed talks with Louis St. Laurent, acting Prime Minister, and the Department of External Affairs "and have been told to go ahead."

The next step is for the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission to conclude talks with the Niagara Hudson Power Company of Buffalo, which controls the water on the United States side of the Niagara River. The resulting agreement will then be forwarded to Ottawa and Washington for ratification by treaty between the two countries.

Mr. Saunders said it would take four years after signing of the treaty to complete the development.

The undertaking will mean closing down of three Canadian generating stations in the immediate vicinity of the falls, Mr. Saunders said the additional power from the Queenstown enlargement will be used "without using a single extra drop of water or in any way marring the scenic grandeur of Niagara Falls."

Dramatic Comedy To Be Presented Friday Eve

How to make a dour Scotch husband laugh at himself as well as at life is the delightful lesson Sir James Barrie teaches in his famous dramatic comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," which will be heard over station CKLW Friday evening November 26 from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. This is the ninth radio drama in the series "Great Scenes from Great Plays" sponsored by the Protestant Episcopal families in Tecumseh with the cooperation of the Episcopal Actors Guild.

Miss Gertrude Lawrence, saucy, insouciant, delightful star of the Broadway stage and Hollywood screen, plays the part of Maggie Wylie, the winsome lass of Galashiels, Scotland, who captures John Shand, an irascible, opinionated, selfish and self-centered home town boy who through main strength and awkwardness wins a local election for British Parliament. How Maggie first wins then holds her man despite the blandishment and glitter of the London social whirl forms the basis of the narrative. Her astute cleverness in outmaneuvering and out-witting Lady Sibyl is excellent comedy.

"What Every Woman Knows" represents a distinct change of pace in the Episcopal series of radio dramas [illegible] in pointing a moral concerning one of the great Christian virtues, the play merely says that if a husband and wife have the same sense of humor, if they can laugh at the same things—yes, even including themselves, then there should be no need for divorce. To say that the sanctity of the home depends on a sense of humor may be stretching a point, but Sir James Barrie's thesis contains just as many lessons for married couples today as when it was written nearly half a century ago. In political life today there are many John Shands who become intoxicated with the sound of their own voices and fail to realize that whatever success they may have achieved is dependent largely upon the sagacious counsel of a wife in the distant background.

Registration Of Cars On Increase

OVER 1,730,000 PASSENGER CARS WILL BE LICENSED IN STATE THIS YEAR

DETROIT—A total of 1,730,000 passenger cars will be registered in Michigan during 1948, it was estimated today by Automobile Club of Michigan. This is 8.3 per cent above the 1,597,137 total for the state in 1947.

"While the number of cars on the road increases yearly, facilities for the motorist are pretty much at pre-war levels yet," Richard Harfst, Auto Club general manager, said. Worst deficiencies in Michigan he named as road building and repair, off-street parking facilities and tourist accommodations.

Harfst recommended that Michigan's next legislature session adopt the road program which has been found necessary by the Michigan Good Roads Federation Study. It includes redistribution of all highway revenues and increases in various revenue-producing methods.

While an Auto Club survey reveals 16 Michigan cities are now getting results from off-street parking programs, progress to date has not been rapid. Harfst recommended that more cities adopt specific plans and begin work on financing off-street parking facilities.

"Michigan needs more first-class tourist facilities," Harfst said. Several large Michigan cities have inadequate and antiquated hotel accommodations, while some tourist areas of the state have no "room-with-bath" accommodations at all, he said.

In spite of increased traffic, the rising toll of accidents should be stemmed soon, however. For in teaching its youngsters how to drive, Michigan leads the Nation with 200 high schools now offering behind-the-wheel training, Harfst noted. Trained youths have five times less accidents than their untrained schoolmates.

In the United States some 33,225,000 passenger cars will be licensed this year, or roughly 2,500,000 more than the record 1947, Harfst added.

"Total registrations for 1948—including autos, trucks and busses—will approximate 40,557,000, an 8.6 percent increase over last year's record, and 6,085,000 greater than the pre-war high established in 1941," he said.

With the exception of Montana and the District of Columbia, losses in passenger car registrations due to the war will be made up in all areas this year. Bus and truck registrations have increased more rapidly than automobiles, he noted. The percentage of trucks and busses on the road has increased from 14 in 1941 to over 22 in 1948.

No Gas or Oil Shortage Seen

ENOUGH TO CARRY THROUGH PRESENT WINTER, INSTITUTE BELIEVES

CHICAGO—There'll be enough fuel oil to heat your home and enough gasoline to run your car this winter.

That's the prediction of President Robert R. Boyd, Jr., of the American Petroleum Institute, New York.

Mr. Boyd told a news conference here he is "extremely confident" the oil industry will be able to meet all demands for its products this winter. He was here for the institute's 28th annual meeting. About 5,000 oil men attended the sessions.

Mr. Boyd said it is not correct to say that the oil shortage is over. He declared, however, the industry is "confident" of being able to supply the demands.

Home owners installing oil burners will get the fuel they need if installations continue at the present rate, Mr. Boyd said.

He had no comment on future prices of gasoline or fuel oil.

Mr. Boyd released figures on recent and estimated 1948 petroleum production. He said despite the strike of California refinery workers, nation's oil production has been increasing weekly and now is above the pre-strike total.

The nation's crude oil production is estimated to average 5,500,000 barrels daily this year—about 415,000 barrels a day more than was turned out in 1947.

Inventories also are up. The estimated inventory of all oils this year is 582,000,000 barrels while last year it was 514,241,000, Boyd said.

However, the demand also has jumped. On all oils, the demand has climbed 5.8 per cent in a year's time and 42.8 per cent over that of 1941.

For the past eight years Mr. Winterburn has served as a pastor in the city of Manchester. At the present time he is engaged in a six month's preaching tour of the United States. In addition to speaking Mr. Winterburn will also sing at the above services.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor:

Congratulations to Tecumseh Products, (Mr. Herrick), for the encouragement given Products Players group!

It is regrettable that the public schools should teach music and drama to the young people of Tecumseh, while the community fails to provide the necessary means for the graduates to continue to develop their aptitudes in building a better community in which to enjoy life.

It is regrettable that the churches neglect the arts brought to life and developed by them. What about reviving the Christmas pageant for which Tecumseh was known a few years ago?

People who lose the arts, lose their spirit. Without spirit, the soul of a community shrivels.

George A. Schumm

Jacob Is Miraculously Saved In A Strange Night Duel

"And Jacob was left alone and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day. And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of Jacob's thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint . . . for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved."—Genesis 32:26.

God saved Jacob because he had promised him he could go to the land of his kindred in peace. God keeps his promises.

This world would see no troubles, no woes, if men kept the promises they make to themselves, their families, their country, their God. This Sunday, reaffirm your faith in your Church by making and keeping your promise to attend the church of your choice.

POST-WAR CARS, WHILE BEAUTIFUL, PERHAPS ARE NOT AS FAITHFUL

DETROIT—It may be ultra-beautiful, but the post-war model auto is more likely to stall come cold weather than its pre-war brothers ever were, according to Automobile Club of Michigan's Road Service Manager Fred N. Rehm. Rehm and Michigan's tow-car owners are preparing now for a winter rush of almost 2,000,000 calls from owners of stalled and stuck cars.

Battery failure was responsible for most of the 1,758,000 "can't start" calls Michigan motorists made last year. And although this failure was preventable in almost all cases, gadget-laden new cars which put a too-heavy drain on batteries are causing more can't start calls yearly.

"Radios, heaters, ignition systems, defrosters, cigaret lighters and automatic window raisers are some of the electrical appliances which drain current from batteries," stated Rehm, who annually supervises pulling more cars out of the ditch than any other man in the world. "Low-speed driving, frequent starts and long periods when lights must be used help run down batteries. Most winter trips are too short to permit much battery charging, and the battery is the heart of the car, the Auto Club road supervisor pointed out.

Both manufacturers and car owners can help correct the situation, Rehm believes. Batteries and generators in new cars should be stronger to care for the ever-increasing list of electrical appliances. Motorists who don't take long winter trips should have batteries charged frequently in garages and service stations or buy "trickle-chargers." These are box-like affairs which operate on ordinary house current and can charge batteries overnight in their owners' garages. These precautions will make one's car start on the coldest morning.

Neglecting amost any part of the car in winter can make the battery's job harder, Rehm reminded. He listed the following five things which will help insure against battery failure when weather makes motors frosty:

1. Keep car in a garage when possible. Direct cold wind congeals oil and makes motors hard to turn over.
2. Check battery every 10 days for water. Test for full charge. Clean terminals and tighten cables. Watch rate of charge or discharge as indicated by dash-board dial. Failure of indicator to show "charge" should be checked at once, Rehm warned. Prolonged operation when battery is not charging will not only ruin battery but also generator and voltage regulator.
3. Check ignition system and distributor points. Clean or replace spark plugs. Motors which start easily use less current.
4. Change to lightweight winter grade grease and oil. Motors which turn over easily use less current.
5. Have carburetor adjusted for cold weather. Stalling engines in cool weather is often caused by poorly-adjusted carburetors.

Primate O.k.'s Peace Arming

ARCHBISHOP WARNS THAT DEMOCRACY MUST BE STRONG TO ASSURE JUSTICE

YORK, ENGLAND—The Archbishop of York, Dr. Cyril Garbett, urges Christians to outlaw the atomic bomb, but adds that in an armed world the democratic state must also be armed to make its influence felt on behalf of justice and freedom.

"Pious resolutions will not deflect by an inch the will of a state bent on violence," he said.

Dr. Barbett was making his presidential address October 14 to the Convocation of York—a speech officially described as "remarkable" by the Church of England Press Bureau.

In a lengthy definition of the Christian's duty at the present time he made the following points:

First "the Christian must never give up hope of peace; he will support the continuation of negotiations, however exasperating their length."

"Secondly, the Christians sees in the unbridled soverignty of nations one of the chief dangers to peace . . . the Christian, therefore, should support the United Nations as an attempt to limit national sovereignty. The frequent and unforseen use of the veto in the interests of national sovereignty has gravely jeopardized both the work and influence of the United Nations. Unless the veto is restricted the United Nations will fail, as the League of Nations failed to preserve peace.

"Thirdly, . . . the Christian should support all proposals which may remove or reduce some of the worst horrors of war. He must, therefore, press strongly for the outlawry of the atomic bomb. Its use in war may result in the end of our civilization and the reversion of those who survive to primitive conditions of existence.

"The Christian should also press for some international agreement which would forbid obliteration bombing, a form of warfare which causes untold ruin and agony, followed by years in which the homeless herd together in shelters and cellars.

"Fourthly, the Christian, with all his hatred of war and passionate desire for peace, must recognize that war is not the worst of all evils.

"The utter degradations of man, the loss of human rights, and the trampling underfoot of all that is righteous and true is an evil worse than war. The Christian must therefore, be ready to resist to the last the unjust demands of an aggressive totalitarianism.

"This means that in an armed world the democratic state must also be armed.

J. M. Artman, Jr., At Robins Air Base, Ga.

J. M. Artman, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Artman of Tecumseh, is a member of the personnel for the apprentice training program at Robins Air Force Base in Georgia. Started last March, the program is one of the first of its kind to be established in the United States, and has met with huge success with 85 men having completed all the rigid examinations. The program is under the supervision of John C. Paul, chief of civilian training branch and R. S. Doolittle. Others connected with it are O. C. Hammock, R. M. Evans and Mr. Artman, the latter group being experts in the fields of radio and aircraft.

A flood of applications was received at the training branch and a group selected were given intelligence tests with extremely high standards. Only 20% of those taking the test were able to pass it. Courses range from three to four years with credit allotted to men who have had previous experience in their chosen field. It was said the men graduating from these courses will be invaluable to a nation which puts its dependence for security on air power.

SEA DAMAGE TO BELL BARS PICCARD'S DIVE

BRUSSELS—Prof. Auguste Piccard's bathyscaphe has been damaged so badly he has been forced to abandon his deep sea venture, the Belga Agency said.

He had hoped to plunge two and a half miles under water in the giant "submarine baloon."

The Belga News Agency reporter with Professor Piccard said the floater on the bathyscaphe is damaged so badly it cannot be repaired aboard the Scaldis, mother ship of the expedition.

Off the Cape Verde Islands, a sea swell made it impossible to get the bathyscaphe on board the Scaldis after an unmanned trial dive of 4,250 feet.

A few gallons of water penetrated the cabin of the cage. On seeing the extent of the damage, Professor Piccard decided to call off the venture.

Words without thought never to heaven go.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Television on the Farm

Buck Childs' home has become mighty popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.

Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being telecast. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).

While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.

And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)

The meeting was called to order by President Touborg. Present: Mr. Touborg, Dr. Helzerman, Mr. Spafford. Absent: Mr. Satterthwaite and Mr. Breitenwischer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Upon motion of Dr. Helzerman, supported by Mr. Spafford, the current bills were approved and ordered paid.

The motion was made by Mr. Spafford, and seconded by Dr. Helzerman, that the Board of Education no longer publish the minutes of each meeting in the newspaper, but that they be available at the office of the Superintendent of Schools. The motion carried.

To Break Ground For New School

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW $400,000 BUILDING EXPECTED TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

Ground will probably be broken tomorrow for Tecumseh's new $400,000 high school building, and it is hoped that construction can be completed in time for the opening of school in the fall of 1949, Earl H. Place, superintendent, said today.

The contract for the construction of the new building was awarded last week to the Strom Construction Company, Grand Rapids, at a cost of $264,900. The plumbing and heating contract was given to the Lloyd S. Thornton Co., of Birmingham, at a cost of $97,229, and the electrical contract went to the Electrical Construction and Machinery Co., for $30,400, making the total cost of the new building $392,529.

"The board of education is happy to hold the building cost well within the $400,000 available each," Mr. Place said. "It will be recalled that two months ago, when bids were taken, the estimated cost then was well over $800,000. Of course, the size of the building has been cut somewhat, but we feel that the new bids are in order."

The new school will provide 21 rooms and will serve as a junior-senior high school. There will be a cafeteria, capable of seating 100 at a time, a study hall, general offices and library, agricultural and shop rooms, commercial rooms and a band room. It was necessary, to cut the cost, to discontinue a second floor on the east wing of the building, and also to dispense with a plan for the building of a gymnasium which would have cost about $175,000.

Engineers and surveyors were at work on the site, immediately east of the Recreation Center, yesterday and today, and in all probability the first dirt in the building of the foundation will be turned tomorrow. The contractor hopes to be able to proceed with the building throughout the winter, and then rush to completion next Spring and Summer.

Mr. Place said that no provision had yet been made for equipping the new building. Furniture and fixtures for the 21 rooms will cost an estimated $35,000 or $40,000, he said.

Tecumseh's schools at the present time are in a very crowded condition, with classes meeting in the public library and the Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopal churches. In addition, the Brownville school, formerly a Ford school, also is being used. As soon as the new school is opened, the board hopes to be able to discontinue the use of the churches and the library for school purposes.

At the present time, 976 students are enrolled in all grades of the public schools here. Whether this number will be slightly increased at the beginning of the second semester next year, Place was unable to say.

Walter P. Cotton Dies At Home In Detroit

Walter Pennington Cotton died at his home in Detroit Monday morning. Funeral services were held in the Calvary Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon and burial was in the Macon cemetery.

Born to the late Wilmot Payson and Eleanor Pennington Cotton in Macon, his early years were spent there. Later, he went to Clinton where he was connected with the Clinton Grain Company, and for the past 20 years had resided in Detroit. He was a past master of the Masonic lodge at Clinton and a life member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are the widow, Leola McAllister Cotton, two sisters, Mrs. B. D. Hammond of Detroit and Mrs. Joseph H. Smith of Tecumseh and one brother, John Seldon Cotton of Dallas, Texas.

Boy Badly Burned By Boiling Water

Jimmy Marsh, four and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marsh, East Brown St., is in a serious condition in Tecumseh hospital, where he was removed Monday suffering from second and third degree burns from his waist to his feet, received when he fell in a pan of boiling water. The pan was sitting on the floor in his parents home when the accident occurred. Hospital attendants say the boy is responding to treatment.

Senior Hi School Play Tonight, Tomorrow Night

"The Inner Willy," the senior class play, will be presented in the Tecumseh high school auditorium, this (Thursday) evening, at 8:15. There will be a repeat performance of the three-act comedy tomorrow evening, December 3.

Willoughby, played by Jim Colson, is a young boy who has been raised by three maiden aunts. When Willoughby's inner-self, enacted by Gordon Comfort pops up from nowhere and proceeds to take over Willy's life, the fun starts. "The inner Willy" is visible to Willy only. Others cast in the comedy, which is directed by Mrs. Hazel Dickinson, and Miss Bessie Bortner, are Barbara Schoeck, Pat Hammack, Mary Brown, Gloria Yost, Gene Tuckey and Jack Gillen.

Note Stability Of Food Industry

IN GOOD OR BAD TIMES, EMPLOYEES STILL HAVE GOOD EARNINGS, QUAKER SAYS

The food industry's comparative stability as an employer even during hard times was emphasized in a special report mailed today to all Quaker Oats employees in Tecumseh.

As economists the nation over speculated about the possibility of a coming business recession, Quaker Oats management said in its report to employees on the 1947-48 business year:

"In good times, your annual earnings are as good or better than those of workers with similar skills in other industries.

"In bad times, people still have to eat . . . and your yearly earnings don't tumble nearly so far as those of so many others."

The report to employees was accompanied by a letter from Donold B. Lourie of Chicago, president of the company, who urged more cooperation on all fronts to meet competition. He wrote:

"The only way the Quaker Oats Company can continue to grow is for all of us to produce, distribute and sell our products at reasonable and fair prices."

Lourie's letter accented one section of the report which declared that unless Quaker Oats products are turned out at low cost, "competitors can price them off grocers' shelves." And Quaker Oats employees have a personal stake in the firm's success, they were reminded.

The employee report is illustrated with scenes from the home life of an average Quaker family of four. Its theme is the impact of everyday economics on the

Bazaar To Help Scout Treasury

COOPERATION URGED IN PROGRAM AT THE METHODIST CHURCH, SATURDAY

The financial needs of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Association to carry on a full program each year are many. Therefore, the Association will hold its second annual Bazaar next Saturday afternoon, December 4, from one o'clock until eight o'clock in the evening in the Methodist church.

Attractive booths will feature articles made by the Brownies and Girl Scouts such as table favors, bookmarks, table mats, napkin rings, jersey loop holders, weavett doll blankets, plaques, ear-rings, pins, toy-logs for the fire-place, bouquets of bittersweet, potted plants etc. One troop will conduct a refreshment stand. There will be a booth of aprons provided by the committee-women with Mrs. Jens Tonborg as chairman. There will be baked goods and delicatessen foods provided by the mothers with Mrs. Owen Partridge in charge. Mrs. Walter Pfaus will see that plenty of home-made candy is for sale. Of course, there will be official Girl Scout cookies, 100 of the popular Girl Scout appointment calendars and a large supply of Brownie and Girl Scout equipment which will make lovely gifts but no uniforms, socks, or beanies have been ordered.

The profits of the Bazaar will supplement the aid from the Community Chest Fund. There are fourteen troops now numbering from eight to sixteen in a troop. All the officers, leaders, co-leaders, committee-women and sponsors give generously of their time to keep this program growing. Therefore, it will be interesting to note what some of the receipts and expenditures are.

TECUMSEH IN GALA DRESS FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

Multi-Colored Twinkling Lights Decorate Yule Trees

Hundreds and hundreds of multi-colored, twinkling lights will sparkle in Tecumseh's business district this year, as this community puts on its best dress for the holiday season. Under the direction of Leon Williamson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Yule committee, a village crew has been spending a busy week putting the finishing touches on the Christmas decorations.

"We expect all of the lights to be in readiness this week end, and they will be turned on either Friday or Saturday evenings for the first time," Ronald Harris, Chamber secretary, said.

Two 30-foot Christmas trees were placed on Chicago boulevard at both ends of the business district last week, and early risers Monday morning saw trees and wreaths being placed on all of the downtown light posts. Next came hundreds of light bulbs on the two large trees, with tree lights for the light pole trees scheduled to make their appearance this week. Mr. Williamson has just returned from an eastern trip and discloses that Tecumseh will not have to take a back seat for the quality of its holiday municipal lighting.

Santa Claus, meanwhile, is finding each day a little busier. He is making his plans for personal appearances throughout the business district for every day the final week before Christmas. On the evening of Saturday, September 18, he will stage his annual Christmas party for the kids in Tecumseh and its trading area at the corner of Chicago Boulevard and Evans street. With the help of Rotarians and Exchangites and the Chamber of Commerce he intends to present every youngster with evidence of his belief that Christmas is a sweet season.

Santa's mail is also getting heavier each day. His special mail box on the street near the United Savings Bank gets a daily pile of mail, much of it in writing and spelling that only Santa could possibly read. Santa says that if any parents should become really curious as to what their youngsters may have written about, they will find the letters on file at the Chamber of Commerce. Santa also feels that it might interest Tecumseh merchants to know that, of the first ten letters in his mail box, two were from Clinton and one was from Britton. Their letters are very welcome, he declares.

"I don't know yet whether we are going to have a white Christmas," said Santa. "But we certainly mean what we say when we call it Merry Christmas!"

"THE WORLD MOVES ON . . . . AND SO DO WE"

It Ain't So... Schoolin's Not Just For The Kids

Some people have a funny notion that education and schooling is just for children and teen-agers. They think that high school graduation marks the end of classes and teachers and organized learning experiences. But there's another group of people who thoroughly believe in people's education. They don't believe you get very far driving a horse and buggy in a streamlined age. These people say, like the sign on the moving van "The world moves — and so do we." And so the people in this second group flock to the Tecumseh Public Evening School in large numbers to take advantage of the opportunities for self-improvement and "fun while learning" offered each year by the adult school.

If you are in the first group—just too busy or too "set" in your ways to make any effort to achieve more abundant living — night school can't help much. You'll just have to continue living your life and keep wearing that square, self-satisfied air. But, if you want to live and learn and learn to live, you should join the happy throng of grown-ups who go to school. It don't matter one whit about your age, color, creed, sex, or profession. No matter who you are or aren't, you are cordially invited to enroll in the Tecumseh Public Evening School this winter.

If you're a housewife or mother you may be interested in the home and family living course which is being offered. If you're an office employee some of the commercial offerings may tempt you. And finally, if you'd like something in the cultural or recreational areas, that can be furnished too.

Why not let the Tecumseh Evening School be your stepping stone to self-improvement and give it a trial this winter. You'll like it. The registration date is January 10, 1949.

Legion Solicits Gifts For Yanks

PUBLIC COOPERATION IN BRINGING HAPPINESS TO SICK, DISABLED URGED

The people of Tecumseh and vicinity are invited to join with the Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of The American Legion and its Auxiliary in remembering every sick and disabled war veteran in Michigan on Christmas this year.

There are 70 hospitals in the state now caring for these veterans—8,000 of them in all—for whom the war has not ended. It is proposed to give each of them a Christmas gift box. This project, called "Gifts for the Yanks Who Gave," is now being sponsored by the Legion and Auxiliary for the fifth successive year. It is nationwide in scope, and constitutes the biggest Christmas Party on record.

It's a real task to purchase the gifts, and pack, wrap and deliver the boxes to Michigan's 8,000 hospitalized veterans, and the sponsors need the cooperation of all generous citizens. The value of each box will range from four to five dollars, and donors may contribute either cash or gifts.

A collection center has been set up at Bancroft's Cleaners where donations will be received until December 8. Time is short as each Legion and Auxiliary committee in the state must have the gift boxes prepared for delivery to the hospitals by December 10. Bring your donations in as soon as possible and help make it a "Merry Christmas" for the "Yanks Who Gave," is the Legion's urge.

New Buick For 1949 On Displays, Saturday

The new 1949 model Buick cars will go on display here Saturday in the downtown showrooms of Schneider Bros. Garage, Inc., it was announced today. The downtown showrooms are located in the Witherell Building, which has been remodeled to suit the needs of the company.

While the new Buick has not yet been publicly displayed, Mr. Schneider said that it not only is new in appearance, but it also has some revolutionary engineering changes.

"Buick for '49 is one of the prettiest cars yet produced, and I feel that its public reception will be tremendous," Louis Schneider, of the company, declared.

Some 150 members and guests attended the second anniversary ceremonials of El Misti Santha No. 93, N. of A., and El Mecca Temple No. 63, D. O. K. K., held in the K. of P. hall last Saturday.

The Nomad officers initiated a class of seven candidates. The class was named honoring A. B. Harding. El Misti cast presented the dramatic "Lesson of Loyalty." Several guests were honored with corsages.

A dinner was held at the Brees House followed by a colorful parade through the downtown district. The parade was led by the Drum and Bugle Corps of El Cairo Temple, Detroit.

The D. O. K. K. ceremonial was held in the evening. The officers in their new uniforms conferred the Temple degree on three candidates.

Guests were present from Cheyene, Wyo., Toledo and Findlay, Ohio, Detroit, Muskegon, Pontiac, Grand Rapids and Ishpheming, Mich. The D. O. K. K.'s and Nomads are fun orders of the Pythian organizations.

Guns, Food Are Stolen In 2 Local Burglaries

Two Tecumseh homes were burglarized last Saturday and in each instance entrance was gained through a window while the occupants of the dwellings were absent, according to police.

Entrance to the Wade L. Jones residence, Pottawatamie at Union street, was gained by breaking a glass in the window in a back door. A quantity of canned soup and three pounds of coffee were stolen. The robbery was discovered when Mr. and Mrs. Jones returned from Detroit.

At the Earl Krueger home on Chippewa street, entrance was gained by prying open a rear window with a wrecking bar. An automatic pistol, a shotgun and a quantity of records in a bag were stolen. The robbery was discovered by Mr. Krueger when he returned home from a hunting trip. Mrs. Kruger was in Adrian trip. Mrs. Krueger was in Adrian band's absence.

Annual Crop Show Success

Lenawee County's annual Junior Project Fall Crops Show was held at the Junior Project Building, Adrian fairgrounds with a record number of crops exhibits being shown by the members. Some 216 corn, small grain, potato, and soy beans exhibits were displayed.

The special corn sweepstakes banner was presented to Charles Kapnick, Blissfield for an outstanding corn exhibit. A similar award was given to Roger Pawson, Tipton for the best crops exhibit other than corn. His exhibit was one of red clover seed.

Approximately 200 people attended the evening program, following a pancake and sausage supper served by the Project Mothers Club. Comments on corn breeding work at Michigan State College Experiment Station were given by E. C. Rossman, Farm Crops Dep't., Michigan State College. Mr. Rossman was assisted by Mr. Walling, and Mr. Korowski of MSC, in judging all crops exhibits. Further comments were made by Kenneth Oosterhout, Ass't. State Club Leader, MSC.

The Felix Witt special corn award was won by Charles Kapnick, Blissfield. Two other boys winning special seed awards as made possible by Felix Witt, Jasper, were George Voorhees, Clayton, and Jerry Eaton, Tecumseh. As part of the judging the following exhibits were selected by the judges to represent Lenawee County at the International Hay and Grain Show, Chicago, Illinois, November 27- December 4: David Riesling, Adrian, Route 3; Mariel and Roger McRoberts, Adrian, Route 4; Charles and Arlan Kapnick, Blissfield; Ralph Setzler, Blissfield; Charles Bishop, Britton; Ronald Rogers, Palmyra; Robert Garno, Deerfield; John

TONNEBERGER SOLOIST IN DETROIT CANTATA

Thomas J. Tonneberger will be the tenor soloist in the Cantata, "When The Christ Child Came," by Joseph Clocky, which will be presented at the Emmanuel Evangelical Church on West Livernois in Detroit, December 5, at 8 p.m.

The choir will be under the direction of Keith Lusted, organist and choir director of Emmanuel church. James Q. Chapman of Ann Arbor will accompany various sections on the piano. Miss Maxine Norman, soprano, of Detroit; Miss Ruth Kirkhohn, contralto of Ann Arbor; and Robert Mulford, bass, of Ann Arbor, will also be heard in solo roles.

Mr. Tonneberger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tonneberger and is a senior in the University of Michigan School of Music. He is also organist and choir director of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Tecumseh.

Santa Will Visit Shut-ins And Sick

Santa Claus is going to make still further efforts to spread happiness among Tecumseh children. He is afraid that some youngsters may be sick along towards Christmas time and unable to come downtown to see him. If such is the case, he is going to try to find the time to go to their houses and at least wave to them through the window.

Parents whose children are ill or shut-in are asked to drop Santa a note in care of the Chamber of Commerce. He'll try to make his visit during the week before Christmas.

Chest Drive Is Nearing Quota

CHAIRMAN IS OPTIMISTIC THAT GOAL IN COMMUNITY FUND WILL BE REACHED

"I am very hopeful that Tecumseh will reach, and possibly exceed, its Red Feather Community Fund quota," Vance Ogden, chairman, said today. "I am happy too, that we will succeed because once again this community has defended its war-time record of never failing down on a civic enterprise."

As of today, Mr. Ogden said, Tecumseh has subscribed $4,825 of its $5,320 total. Only $500 remain to be raised to reach the goal.

"It now appears almost certain that the Fund drive will be a success," Ogden said. "We still must hear from two or three of the area captains who are soliciting, and there are two or three other pledges still to come in. It is altogether likely that when we get these reports and pledges that we will find ourselves over the top in the campaign."

The Fund drive was to have closed last week but was extended through the month of November to enable a more vigorous solicitation. A week ago, less than one-half of the quota had been subscribed. "It probably will take another week to clean up all of the detail, and get the records in order for the board," Ogden said. "I hope, by next week Thursday, to announce that we have succeeded in the campaign."

The Red Feather drive was inaugurated here three or four years ago, combining all local civic money-raising drives into a single campaign. In that way, giving once to all of the cooperating organizations.

Participating in this year's budget are: Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary, $500; Cancer Control Society, $350; Hallowe'en and Christmas parties for children, $200; Girl Scouts, $400; Boy Scouts (Wolverine Council of America), $400; Sister Kenny Foundation, $100; Salvation Army, $300; Michigan Welfare League, $10; Michigan Aid for Blind, $50; Tecumseh Recreation Center, $500; Reserve for emergencies, general welfare and campaign expenses, $2,500.

"Residents should bear in mind that this is a combined effort—one solicitation and one gift for all of the organizations listed. All of the enterprises in the Chest are worthy of support, and I cannot but feel that when folk think it over they will give generously. In these final days of the drive let's make every effort to put Tecumseh over the top in the worthwhile cause," Ogden said.

Designing Jobs For Folk Is Subject Of Talk

"Designing Jobs For Humans," was the subject of an interesting talk by Frank Blevins, a member of the industrial relations department of the Willys-Overland Co., Toledo, when he spoke to Rotarians following dinner at Brees House, Tuesday evening. Mr. Blevins was introduced by the Rev. B. O. Bashore.

Mr. Blevins declared that in the 15 years that he has been doing industrial relations work, many attempts have been made to fit men to jobs, rather than to fit the jobs to the men. He said that such a program seems wrong to him, although no scientific attempt ever has been made to change it. "I have no formula for such a plan, and perhaps, as a result of the discussion tonight, someone may come up with the answer."

Following Mr. Blevins' talk there was a round table discussion several local employers asking and answering questions.

IS LAST WORD IN SUPER-FOOD MARKET; ELECTRIC EYE OPENS DOOR FOR CUSTOMERS

Tecumseh's newest super-food market—a new $125,000 Kroger store—was officially opened to the public Wednesday morning.

While flash bulbs exploded, movie cameras clicked and sound-recording machines made permanent the voices of those participating in the ceremonies, Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., cut the ribbon that before 9 a.m., had held back the crowd that awaited entrance to the new store.

"I am happy to join in this program, and to welcome Kroger to this community," Mr. Herrick said. "The fact that Kroger believes sufficiently in Tecumseh's future to bring to us this fine new store is a tribute to our progress." Mr. Herrick then pictured Tecumseh as one of the fastest-growing towns in the mid-west and he pointed out that "the end is not yet."

At the request of Kroger officials, Herrick rung up the first sale on the new battery of electrically-operated cash registers, the first customer being Earl L. Wickwire, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"We just opened what we believed to be one of the finest food stores in the mid-west in Toledo, and now I am told that this store surpasses our Toledo store," Carl Fuller, branch manager of the Kroger company, said. "This store is the finest you'll find in any community anywhere the size of Tecumseh."

The new food market is ultra-modern, even to the electric eye which automatically opens the door for customers. "Bundles in customers arms no longer are a problem when it comes to door-opening," Mr. Fuller said. " As they step into the beam of the electric eye, the door is automatically opened for them.

Immediately adjacent to the new store, located on Chicago boulevard on what formerly was known as the Shull property, is a parking lot, sufficient in size to accommodate 100 cars for customers.

The new Kroger building is 130 feet in length and 60 feet in width. Its 6,500 square feet of floor space is completely utilized by the several departments.

There is a complete frozen foods department, a portion of the meat department is self-serve, and the dairy and produce departments are completely refrigerated. In addition, there are the grocery departments, the canned goods section, bakery department, drug department, confections and many others.

The floor planning has been studied scientifically, it was said, to assure the greatest ease in shopping.

The store is larger than any other Kroger store in this section of the state, outside of possibly Detroit.

Ground for the new building was broken last August by Hubert Van Camp, who has leased the structure to Krogers. During the past few weeks the building program has been rushed to enable this week's opening. The electric eye, for instance, was flown to Detroit from the east, arriving here after midnight, Wednesday morning.

Prior to Wednesday's opening, the Kroger company entertained some 200 women at a sound movie at the Strand Theatre, Tuesday afternoon. Burdette Kilzer, district manager, Erwin Bauer, meat buyer, and William Walsh, meat merchandiser, were in charge of this program. "Never keep a good steak waiting," was the subject of the movie, which instructed the women on ways to cook and serve meats. Kroger Tenderay beef, of course, was featured.

Harvey Wilson, is the manager of the store. There are 25 employees. In the former Kroger store here, nine persons were employed.

SNAPPERS TO MEET

The Indian Snappers will meet at the Tecumseh Camera Shop, Monday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock. Every member should plan to attend and bring a guest. Clyde Giltner will be the speaker and will have a display of his pictures.

LEARNING BY EXAMPLE

The New York Times recently carried a dispatch from London which has a deep significance. It said, at the beginning: "Great Britain has undertaken to curtail expenditures on social-improvement and betterment projects when such outlays interfere with her ability to become independent of dollar aid. By this decision Britain has demonstrated in a concrete way, for the first time, that she recognizes that her need to pay her way internationally must take precedence, if necessary, over some of the Socialist Party's favorite programs."

Implicit in this is the fact that socialism, no matter how honestly administered and well intentioned, is essentially non-productive, and simply tends to create more and more deficits even as it saps the vitality of a nation. Britain has socialized or is planning to socialize all her basic industrial resources—the utilities, banking, railroads, coal, and so on. At the same time, she has come pretty close to socializing labor too—workers in vital industry are no longer free agents, and can change employment only by government permit. The result has been a decline in production in many cases, a failure to reach announced goals in other cases, and widespread dissatisfaction on the part of labor which was promised benefits it has not received and which, in instance after instance, is much worse off than in the days of private enterprise.

The European Bureau of the American Federation of Labor has published, in its newsletter, a very interesting critique of British industry. Both management and labor, according to this finding, have braked production through restrictive practices. As an example, the policy has been to reduce output to the level of the least efficient performer. And that, too, is a major barrier to Britain's solvency, and to raising the present low living standards of her people.

Thus, example after example piles up of the inefficiency of socialism—whether it be the mild variety that exists in England, or the tough, police-state brand that exists in Eastern Europe. The poorest-paid, poorest-fed, and poorest housed peoples live in the nations where the state has gone farthest in seizing and socializing industry, in regimenting the population, and in destroying free labor.

If we Americans can learn anything by observation, we will learn that only a free enterprise system, where private capital carries on the business and government keeps within the basic province of governing, can produce the most benefits for the most people—and keep our liberties intact at the same time.

$3 Million Motor Plant Opened By GE In West

SAN JOSE, CALIF.—A $3,000,000 motor manufacturing plant, which at peak production will be able to turn out more than 1,500 electric motors weekly, was officially opened here by the General Electric Company.

The San Jose factory ultimately will produce all of the company's output of single-phase capacitor integral motors—a multi-million dollar business, according to H. V. Erben, GE vice-president and general manager of the company's apparatus department.

One of the largest and most modern industrial plants in central California, the 144,000-square-foot factory already is producing electric motors, ranging from 1 to 500 horsepower, at the rate of several hundred weekly.

When You Buy Quality Lumber
You Buy Long - Lasting Satisfaction

Whether you're building a new house or repairing or remodeling an old one, a major part of the satisfaction that you will eventually derive from the job depends upon the quality of the lumber and supplies that you use.

In our four yards—in Tecumseh, Clinton, Britton and Dundee—we pride ourselves on the quality of the materials that we sell. We know, from years of experience in the lumber business, that it is the quality that counts—that gives genuine customer satisfaction.

If you have a building problem, we'd like to discuss it with you. We'll give you honest advice, and we'll do everything in our power to hold down your costs.

In these days of budgeting, costs are important but don't forget, too, that the quality of the materials used is important if you are to be satisfied in the years to come.

DOUGLAS SUBDUES PLUNGING HORSE

LONDON—Lewis W. Douglas, American Ambassador, won a polite British cheer recently for subduing an ornery horse with a frightened woman aboard.

The animal, startled by traffic lights at Hyde Park's Albert Gate, reared in front of Mr. Douglas' car. The ambassador hopped out, grabbed the reins, and led the plunging horse to the nearby "Rotten Row" bridle path.

"Explained the Daily Mail, knowingly: "Mr. Douglas has been a rancher in Arizona."

DIFFERENT KIND OF CHURCHGOERS . . . Before the war the Memorial church at the end of Kurfuerstendamm Strasse in Berlin was filled to overflowing with worshippers on Sundays. Now the church, a gaunt Gothic wreck, symbol of the war's devastation, stands as a silent warning to those who seek gain by force. Nothing is sacred to Berlin's hungry, poverty-stricken people, and now they can be seen on Sundays scrounging through the ruins of the church for scraps of wood for fuel or perhaps a bit of metal they may sell for money with which to buy food.

It is the hope of the Association that some day it can be self supporting.

Mrs. Grenval Spangler together with her officers and other members of the Association will be very busy this week working out the details for a successful bazaar. Mrs. Ralph Helzerman is general chairman and Mrs. T. Rentschler is chairman of publicity. The Brownies and Scouts are awaiting the day patiently when they can be on hand to serve customers. Good scouting is one way of helping to keep the peace. The bazaar is open to the public.

WE'RE ALL DOWN THERE SOMEWHERE . . . Mother Earth shows her curves plainly in this photograph made by a camera installed in an aerobee rocket which was lounging around 57 miles up in the air at the time. The rocketborne camera filmed a 1,400-mile strip of terrain extending from upper Wyoming into Mexico. The aerobee actually attained an altitude of 70 miles at the peak of its flight. Cameras used in the experiment, sheathed in steel and protected against the shock of landing, were battered but in fairly good condition when found after the drop.

Note Stability

American home. In addition to employees, the report was mailed to a number of community leaders and to Quakers in the company's dozen other United States plants.

A boiled-down financial statement for the fiscal year which ended last June 30 was contained in the report. It pointed out that the Quaker payroll took $22 million of the $30.4 million in receipts from sales which remained after payment of taxes, material costs and operating expenses. The payroll figure is equivalent to 72.36 percent of that balance, compared with 71 percent for the same time in 1946-47.

Comments on the food industry's employment stability were contained in a section on job security. Employees also were assured that their earnings are guarded by Quaker policy against dismissal without good cause, and by the company's guaranteed work plan for eligible hourly employees. Payments under this plan, "which cushions any financial bump you might get during an unavoidable layoff," totaled $28,863 in 1947-48.

In telling of other company expenditures for employee benefits, the report lists profit-sharing payments of $914,326, an average of several weeks' extra pay for full-time employees; $456,711 for vacations and paid holidays; $20,000 for sports and recreation; $604,564 for retirement plan annuities (two-thirds of the total cost, the remaining third being paid by participating employees); and $160,882 for social security which, for Quakers, supplements their retirement plan payments.

Employees also were reminded of the stockholders' place in the company. "Without the savings which they invested, there could be no jobs, no good wages, and no profit sharing or similar benefits," the report declared, adding that the company's 9,000-plus owners have invested more than $9,000 in every Quaker job.

CHEMICAL TESTS FOR PENNY PINCHERS

New chemical techniques whereby researchers can tell if a person has picked up a penny recently, will probably be translated soon into new grist for the writers of "Who Dun It" detective stories.

It could be done before, but it usually involved a lengthy process of spectroscopic analysis. The new method is so simple, according to Prof. Philip W. West of the Louisiana State University, "that portable kits can be made capable of greater efficiency than is ordinarily obtained in a large laboratory."

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor:

Referring to Mr. George Schumm's communication in your paper on November 23rd. I am prompted to answer immediatly because I have been looking for an opportunity to start publicizing a pageant.

Arrangements have been made for the United Productions, formerly the Red Path-Horner Chautauquas, to present a beautiful and timely pageant in the Tecumseh Methodist Church on March 24th and 25th of 1949. This biblical drama is very appropriate for the lenten season. The cast may be drawn from the community and I trust that Mr. Schumm will give us a bearing when we go knocking at his door.

Also, may I say that the parents were well pleased with the work of their children in the plays that were presented in the school auditorium on November 11th in observance of National Educational Week. These plays together with the "Open House" were the P. T. A. program for that month—many thanks to the teachers. By the way, another play will be presented for P. T. A. in March in which the fathers and mothers will participate.

Another real treat coming up as a part of our adult education program under the direction of Mr. Neville Hart and under the heading of fine arts is the appearance of the Dow Chemical Chorus, consisting of a very large number of male voices, on April 4th, 1949. But, as Mr. Schumm wishes, the first mentioned affair use the Tecumseh folk while the latter is entertainment for us.

Thanking you for this privilege and trusting that Mr. Schumm will be interested in publicizing our future calendar, I am

Sincerely

Ruth V. Rentschler, (Mrs. T.)

P. S. Oh yes, the seniors are performing Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at the High School Auditorium in "The Inner Willy."

Retail Grocery Store Sales Top Year Ago

WASHINGTON—Sales by retail grocery stores in September were estimated by the Commerce Department at $2,055,000,000, a gain of 2 per cent over August and 6 per cent over September, 1947.

The department said chain store sales mounted to $748,000, or 36 per cent of the total. This was a gain of 1 per cent over August and 13 per cent over September of last year.

Sales by wholesale grocers totaled $845,000,000, highest since the $929,000,000 peak set in October, 1947.

The department also said:

September sales of retail general merchandise dry goods and "country general stores" totaled $306,000,000, a gain of 10 per cent over August and 5 per cent over September, 1947.

Sales by retail radio and household appliance dealers increased 4 per cent over August to $242,000,000. That topped any previous month of 1948.

The department noted that export of electrical machinery, apparatus, and supplies during September totaled $31,792,214, a decrease of $8,000,000 from August and the smallest amount in any month since October, 1946.

Jacob Renamed Israel, Is Told God's Plan

Jacob and his family had settled near Bethel, after having safely fled from Shalem. In token of God's help in making this escape, he built an altar for the worship of his tribe.

One day, while he was worshipping this altar, God came to him, and said something strange:

"Thy name is Jacob: thy name shall not be called anymore Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name: and he called his name Israel."

God had a plan for Jacob, or Israel, as he was now known. He told him:

"A nation and a company of nations shall be thee . . ."

And the land which I gave Abraham and Isaac, to thee will I give it, and to thy sons after thee I will give thee land."

Here was the beginning of the twelve tribes of Israel, which you know from your Bible. Here was Jacob, now Israel, who was chosen by God to sire the first real company of nations blessed by God, and approved by God.

In our company of nations, we could do more to strengthen the loose bonds of fellowship by an everlasting faith in Him than we can ever do in council halls or battlefields. For the faith of your choice, the God you follow, always preaches peace rather than conflict, fellowship instead of distrust. You can aid this cause for greater friendship among nations by reenlisting in your church's battle against intolerance and evil.

Attend the church of your choice this week and every week.

Could Have Been Prevented

School fires occur at the rate of more than five a day in the United States and Canada. More than 825,000 fires that could have been prevented occurred last year. Fortunately, 60 per cent were put out by fire extinguishers when they were only small blazes. However in the homes, only 5 per cent are equipped with portable, hand fire extinguishers. And nearly 300,000 fires occur annually in homes. Many police cars in the nation are equipped with portable fire extinguishers. These are responsible for putting out of many of the fires in their early stages. In addition to these losses more than 175,000 fires were reported in the forests of the nation last year.

Perform Double Duty

The days of the familiar rural telephone system, serviced by farm subscribers and with its wires held aloft by notched tree limbs or, occasionally fence posts, appear to be numbered. The power line carrier telephone has arrived. By means of this newly developed communications system, telephone messages and electric power are transmitted over the same lines simultaneously and without interference. A device, installed outside the telephone user's house, allows the carrier current to enter or leave the power lines, but prevents the power current from entering the telephone instrument.

Tuberculosis Death Rate

As the 20th century began, the death rate from tuberculosis in this country was roughly 200 per 100,000 population. Now, it is only one-fifth that figure. Since 1900, tuberculosis has been pushed from first to seventh place among the cause of death in the U. S. These facts testify to medical and social advances. Along with generally improved living and working conditions have gone more and better health education, and a strengthened system of diagnosing, isolating, treating and rehabilitating the tuberculos. In diagnosis, the chest X-ray has assumed increasing importance.

Lactose Cited as Aiding Health of Farm Poultry

Lactose (milk sugar) is important in poultry feeds because it favors development of "friendly bacteria" in the intestines and this helps provide good intestinal health.

Because of this and the flushing effect it produces when fed in larger quantities, dried cheese whey (rich in lactose) long has been used in preparing flushing mashes. These mashes are an aid in the control of coccidiosis when proper sanitary practices are followed. Flushing mashes are prepared by mixing dried cheese whey into the mash at the rate of 25 per cent of the total feed mixture. This is fed for a period of four to seven days. It is recommended that a feeding of the flushing mash be repeated one day every three weeks throughout the chick growing period.

When mixed in mashes at recommended levels for normal feeding dried cheese whey helps maintain healthy eliminations without a flushing effect. The maintenance of a "friendly bacteria" in the intestines, aided by lactose, also favors assimilation of minerals in the ration, especially calcium and phosphorous.

For normal feeding, dried cheese whey is recommended at 7½ per cent in starting mashes, 5 per cent in growing and broiler mashes and 2½ per cent in laying mashes. Authorities claim that less than these percentages do not provide sufficient whey nutrients for maximum results.

Consumers Are Protected If Milk Is Pasteurized

Of all the contributions which Louis Pasteur made to humanity and medical science, the greatest is the one whose value he did not live to see. He died in 1895, but pasteurization of milk—with its untold saving of lives—was not developed until later.

Pasteur's research was prompted by a desire to protect the wines of France. Sailors complained that on long voyages their wine turned vinegary.

Pasteur would hardly be sympathetic with anyone who yearns for the day when milk was five cents a quart but dangerous. Present conditions compared with the past have been vividly summarized by famed Dr. Victor G. Heiser:

"The changes wrought have been swift, but only to the health officer do they appear dramatic. The vanishing of summer complaint has been a great victory. Typhoid has been vastly reduced, septic sore throats proportionately diminishing."

How Geysers Perform

Geysers have been defined as hot springs which intermittently eject columns of boiling water and steam. They are found only at places where the internal heat of the earth approaches the surface. The action of the geyser is comparatively simple. Water from the surface or from subterranean sources collects in the bottom of a deep tube-shaped opening in the rocks. This opening which has been enlarged from a crevice by the dissolving action of heated waters charged with sulphur gases, is known as the geyser tube. The water in the bottom of this tube is heated by hot gases rising from below or by contact with heated rock, but because of the weight of the column of cooler water in the tube above, it does not form bubbles of steam although it is heated much above the boiling point. The hot water gradually rises until the entire column of water becomes heated and the water near the surface, which is under less pressure, begins to boil, causing a certain amount of water to overflow the rim of the geyser.

Cleaning Your Clock

Generally when a clock stops it needs cleaning and oiling. To clean and oil a clock, you need to take it apart. Take a feather and strip it down until there is a tiny bit of fine material on the small end, then dip this in gasoline or benzine and brush the bearings of the clock slightly, being careful at all times not to damage the hair spring and balance wheel. By using care there is little danger of doing damage to your clock. Never touch the metal parts of your clock with your hand if you can avoid it. If you do so, it means tarnish afterwards. After the benzine, gasoline or naphtha has evaporated use a very light fine oil or mineral oil thinned with kerosene. Moisten the feather with this oil and brush lightly on the bearings.

Many Farmers Fly

National Flying Farmers association is the sole nationwide organization of aviation-minded farmers and ranchers. Only 18 months old, it boasts some 2,700 members in 27 state chapters, stretching from New Jersey to California. An estimated 50 per cent of the members already fly their own craft, while the rest either have planes on order or hope to acquire one in the next few years. Only requirements for membership in the National Flying Farmers are that the applicant hold a private pilot's license and that he—or she—be interested in flying his plane for the furtherance of agriculture.

Warn Of Danger Of Monoxide Gas

CARS AND HEATING EQUIPMENT NEED CAREFUL CHECKS, DEPT. WARNS

Give a little thought to carbon monoxide right now; it may save your life this winter, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.

Each year carbon monoxide poisoning takes the lives of 20 to 30 Michigan people.

This, the season of the year when cars are warmed up in the garage, when motors are left running to keep the occupants of a car warm while parking, when hot furnace fires are built and when water heating equipment gets extra use, is the time when carbon monoxide deaths occur.

Carbon monoxide gas is a colorless, tasteless, odorless gas which has no irritating effect on eye, nose or throat. It is caused by incomplete combustion of carbon compounds such as gasoline, fuel oil, gas or coal. It cannot be detected by any of the senses.

Do not sit in a parked car with the motor running unless you know that the exhaust system of the car is absolutely tight. Eight parts of carbon monoxide gas to 10,000 parts of air during a two-hour period may kill you. You may just snooze, and unless someone wakes you, you may sleep for ever. Drive with a window open. Only two parts of carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air on a three-hour drive may put you to sleep and wreck your car. If you begin to feel drowsy, if your head begins to ache, or if you begin to feel dizzy or ill, get out of the car at once.

Open the garage doors before you warm up your car. The most satisfactory way of eliminating the danger of carbon monoxide fumes from a running motor in a garage is to attach directly to the exhaust pipe a device which will carry the fumes outside the building.

Furnaces require particular attention. Before severe winter weather sets in they should be checked for ill-fitting pipes, worn and corroded parts, clogged chimneys and poor dampers. The person who banks the furnace for the night should know how to do it properly. Defective parts or poor banking can permit dangerous carbon monoxide fumes to enter the house while its occupants are unawares or sleeping.

Gas heating equipment in homes and tourist cabins take lives each year. The small water heater in your basement can give off fumes that will kill you just as surely as those from a poor furnace. Have these heaters checked to make sure their vent pipes are clear.

Open all the doors of a house thought to have carbon monoxide contaminated air. If a person is overcome take him out of the contaminated atmosphere and into fresh air, wrap him in blankets to keep him warm and give him artificial respiration until the physician and an inhalator or respirator have arrived.

Stock Market No Longer Is Business Barometer

CHAMPAIGN, ILL.—A University of Illinois economist has shelved the stock market as a business barometer.

V. Lewis Bassie, director of the university's bureau of economic and business research, said in an Illinois Business Review article:

"All things considered, the stock market seems to be a barometer of nothing but the confusion of a group of jittery professional traders."

He said the stock market in recent months has been far out of line with business earnings and prospects.

"Today," he said, "stocks are practically the only things that are cheap."

Mr. Bassie said the recent election provides no basis for a new break in the market.

"If the abandonment of price controls brought a decline, should their reimposition have the same effect?" he asked. "Even the wave of stock market pessimism seems unlikely to affect anything but stock prices."

He noted that increasing international tension and fear of war have been popular explanations for the lagging market, but declared that recent market reactions have been irrational with "the market failing to follow through on its own signals in both directions."

His advice to business was "to let the market go in its own irrational way."

To Tour Africa By Private Car

TRAVEL COMPANIES OFFER UNUSUAL ADVANTAGES IN AFRICA AND ITALY

BOSTON—Outstanding features of the Western Mediterranean Winter Tour and the European Spring Tour, recently announced by Raymond-Whitcomb, are seeing North Africa by private automobile and Italy by chartered motorcoach.

Leaving the United States Jan. 22, the Western Mediterranean Winter Tour spends 28 of its 65 days abroad in North Africa, traveling through Morocco, Algeria, and Tunisia by private automobile, except for the brief ride from Oran to Algiers. The tour will visit such unusual places as Marrakech, Meknes, Fez, Taza, and Oudjda in Morocco. Tlemcen, Bougie, the Great Kabylie, Cape Carbon, and Bone in Algeria. In addition, Casablanca, Oran, Algiers, Batna, Timgad, the Oasis of Biskra, Constantine and Tunis will be visited.

After North Africa on this escorted tour comes Palermo, Segesta, Syracuse and Taormina in Sicily where again, all travel is by private automobile; Italy, including Naples, the Amalfi Drive, the Island of Capri, Rome, Florence, Venice, and Milan. Six days will be spent in Paris as the final wind up of the tour.

The European Spring Tour leaves March 24, Consisting of 57 days in Europe, the tour begins with a visit to Holland in the tulip and hyacinth season and continues with Brussels, Luxemburg and Switzerland before starting the 26-day drive through Italy by private motorcoach.

This motorcoach drive goes all the way from the Italian lakes to Milan, Venice, Florence, the Italian Hill Towns of San Gimignano, Siena, Perugia and Assisi, Rome, Anzio, and along both the French and Italian Rivieras.

The Atlantic eastbound crossing will be made in first-class accommodations on the Queen Mary and the Nieuw Amsterdam and returning first-class on equally well-known ships.

'PICTURE A MINUTE' CAMERA NOW READY

The new type Polaroid Land Camera, which produces a finished print in a minute, is coming off the production line at the Polaroid factory in Cambridge, Mass., and will be ready for the public within a few weeks, according to Dr. Edwin H. Land, president.

Containing no tanks or liquids, the camera turns out a finished permanent, sepia-tone picture 3¼ by 4¼ inches within one minute after the shutter is snapped. The special film develops and prints the picture automatically when the roll is moved up for the next exposure. It looks very much like a conventional folding camera and will sell for "well under $100," say company officials.

Monarch's ELECTRIC "Deep-Heet" Cooker is DIFFERENT because it has IMAGINE yourself sitting INSIDE a circle of hot radiators! You'd soon feel pretty well "cooked." But if you sat DOWN on a radiator, the application of heat would be decidedly concentrated. The same principle applies to Monarch's exclusive side heat cooker. Monarch's side heat actually "wraps" the heat around the food – speeds cooking – tenderizes more thoroughly – and bakes rather than stews. No need to stir – foods do not stick to bottom!

Slump Hinted In Food Market

ADVERSE PRICES LIKELY FOR BIG FOOD PRODUCING COUNTRIES, BELIEF

WASHINGTON — Countries which already are heavy food producers face the danger of an unfavorable market, the director of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said.

FAO Director N. E. Dodd, in a report for the organization's annual conference here said:

"The drive for increased production will continue to be the dominant note in national and international plans, carries a danger for countries already at a high production level.

"Unless steps are taken to achieve orderly marketing—the aim of the proposed wheat agreement for example, which failed of ratification last year—the producers of some important agricultural commodities in those countries are likely to face trouble as world production increases."

Mr. Dodd reported generally on work of the FAO, saying that after its three years of existence, international cooperation to increase the output of the world's farms, forests and fisheries "is a reality."

While saying that the movement has been "halting and imperfect," Mr. Dodd added that the wonder is "not that cooperation has failed to go farther but that it has gone as far as it has in this short time."

The FAO includes representatives of 57 nations. Its program for 1949 includes:

"Work toward control of animal diseases and feed infestation, development of information on little known fishery resources, sponsorship of worldwide and regional forestry conferences, aid to governments in fostering practical nutrition projects, and encouragement of extension work in agriculture."

Longfellow said "It takes quality to make a person."

SHORT STORY

Hanging The Shingle

By RICHARD D. CARR

"IMAGINE a girl like Miss Justin getting into trouble!" exclaimed Mr. Kibb, the corporation's senior auditor. "You can't be sure about anyone!"

His young assistant, Mark Thorne, locked his hands thoughtfully behind his head. "How about Dyhart, the manager?"

3-Minute Fiction

"Why, Dyhart's been with the company for years," scoffed Mr. Kibb, as he left, "besides, you've got to admit she endorsed each check."

"Mr. Thorne," said a voice behind him as Mark studied the personnel files.

"Why, Miss Justin!" he said, "I—wasn't expecting you. Were you to work tonight?"

"No, I came to see you. I overheard you and Mr. Kibb talking about those checks and it had me worried. Is something wrong?"

"Plenty," said Thorne. It was hard to begin. He ran a nervous hand through his black hair. "Then you know about the checks—you cashed them?"

"Yes. I cashed the checks because Mr. Dyhart told me to. Wait—you don't believe I took all that money!"

He saw cold, tight lines etched about her lips. "No, Miss Justin, but Mr. Kibb can't see it any other way. Didn't you suspect anything?"

"Certainly. I guess I looked puzzled, because each time when I handed Mr. Dyhart the money, he mentioned a change in the accounting rules."

Thorne jumped. "If Dyhart said that, it's plain no one else was in on it. He disguised his signature, so that when it came to a showdown, he could blame everything on you. That's why he had you cash the checks!"

"How can you prove it?" asked Miss Justin weakly.

"Well, it's a long chance," said Thorne, slamming his fist. "If I lose and the corporation kicks me out—I've been wanting to hang out a shingle for a long time."

MR. DYHART looked surprised as he ushered them into his living room. "Just leaving, Thorne, but business before pleasure. I suppose it's something to do with the audit?"

"That's correct," said Thorne. "Dyhart," he purposely skipped the "Mr.," "you had Miss Justin cash several checks recently, amounting to nearly $10,000."

"Ridiculous," smiled Dyhart. "I know nothing of any checks."

"We've practically discovered the guilty person," went on Thorne dryly, as he opened his case and removed a cancelled check. Thorne took a sheet of paper, placed the check on it, and flashed it before Dyhart's eyes.

"All you have to do, Dyhart," he said, "is copy the signature on this check!"

The manager's lips curved bitterly, but he took the pen. The only sound was the tick of a clock. The pen dropped from Dyhart's hand and plopped on the rug.

"I guess you won't hang out your shingle," said Miss Justin.

Thorne snatched the pen. "Never mind, Dyhart, that's enough. This afternoon we asked every employee to copy that signature. Not one hesitated. You did, and you're guilty. I reasoned, since the tellers passed those checks, the signature, though doctored a bit, was actually yours—disguised!"

A groan fled Dyhart's lips. "I wanted to get the money back in time," he gasped. "I didn't mean to involve Miss Justin, but she was my secretary. Don't swear out a warrant, Thorne. I'll pay it all back—"

After they were in the street, Thorne took a deep breath. It made him tingle and look up at the stars pinned on a clear sky.

"Well, you're still a travelling auditor with a job so I guess you won't hang out your shingle," said Miss Justin softly.

"If I could find a secretary, a good one. Miss Justin—would you—"

"Take dictation from you?" Miss Justin laughed when she said it. Thorne decided it was the pleasantest laugh he had ever heard.

HORSEPOWER COMPARED WITH MANPOWER

General Electric physicists asked to give the value of manpower in terms of horsepower conducted a practical experiment with a healthy man, a bicycle, and an electrical generator. They found that for a short time the man could keep a 100-watt lamp burning, which corresponds to about an eighth of a horsepower.

Which means it's usually more efficient to buy electricity and put it to work for you, than it is to do the labor yourself.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Baptist Church school Christmas program will be held Wednesday evening, December 22, it was announced today by Cliff Curran, superintendent. A potluck supper will precede the program and distributing of gifts.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Why Dutch is Growing a Beard

That beard on Dutch Miller's chin doesn't mean that he's getting ready to play Santa Claus. He's simply paying off the election bet he lost to Cappy Swanson.

And while some folks allow it's all a lot of nonsense — like the wheelbarrow ride that Cappy had to give Dutch after last election day—from where I sit, it's a mighty wholesome aftermath to a difference of opinion.

Because good Americans all take their politics and voting mighty seriously. But when the issue's settled, and the die is cast, they accept the verdict in a spirit of good humor.

And that's as it should be when it comes to any difference of opinion. Some folks vote for beer as their favorite beverage—others vote for cider. In fact, we all have differences of taste in almost everything! But that doesn't mean that we can't live together in a spirit of good fellowship.

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LANSING—Is the "power of the press" waning in Michigan?

Republicans are inclined to crow that the 1948 election majorities in Michigan fully vindicate the press. Did not a majority of the voters favor a Republican nominee for President, a Republican nominee for the United States senate, a substantial majority of Republican nominees for Congress, a 23 to 9 Republican majority in the State Senate and a 61 to 39 majority in the State House of Representatives?

Democrats point gleefully to the Truman upset in the face of pollsters' prediction of a Dewey triumph. And the surprise defeat of Republican Governor Kim Sigler by Democratic Nominee G. Mennen Williams is held up as proof of a declining press.

In both assumptions the power of the newspaper is predicated on a belief that the press influences through the editorial page. Actually such assumption is far off base!

Under the American plan the public wields power at the ballot box by strength of majority action. The people arrive at their decision, wisely or unwisely, as the result of information, right or wrong, as made available through various media of mass communication. Such information appears in the news column; in pamphlets, magazines; on lecture platforms and motion picture newsreels; on the radio air waves; even over the back fence among neighbors.

If there has been any power, it has been the power of the PEOPLE.

This power is derived directly from NEWS.

A free press will continue to report honestly the news as it happens, and the American people will continue to arrive at majority decisions — right or wrong — through their own appraisals of the facts at hand.

A free press will continue to offer personal opinion, qualified and openly presented as editorial expression of the newspaper editor. The reader has the right to agree or to disagree. He may even write a letter for newspaper publication.

If there is any mandate in the 1948 election, in Michigan or otherwise, it is a mandate for the press to report truthfully, to interpret honestly, and to let the people choose their own path. In the fulfillment of this mission lies the real power of the press.

Curfew Curbing Teen-Age Crime

NEW DETROIT LAW SEEN BY POLICE AS DEFINITE AID IN WAR ON GANGS

DETROIT — Juvenile gangs, which have posed a major problem in Detroit law enforcement, have been greatly curbed through the month-old city curfew law.

Also, the ordinance, which requires that youths of 17 and under be off the streets at midnight, unless accompanied by an adult, has brought a decided decrease in teen-age crime, Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy reported.

A survey made by Kennedy Sellers said, "But for the past two weeks we have had very few after-midnight violations."

Sergeant Sellers credited the curfew with doing more to clear up the Detroit delinquency problem "than anything I can remember over the long period I have worked with these cases."

Prior to the curfew law, Mr. Toy, who waged a long battle with the Detroit City Council to get the measure enacted, said the police were almost powerless against the young gangs that roamed the city.

"We realized that arresting them only made them more bitter," Mr. Toy said. "But now the curfew gives Detroit police an effective control over delinquency."

Lawrence, deputy superintendent of all Detroit police precincts, showed that the curfew ordinance was accomplishing its objective.

"In one month, 16 parents have been ordered to court to answer curfew violations," Mr. Lawrence said.

Under the Detroit law, parents are held liable for the curfew violations of their children. Parents can be sentenced to 90 days in jail or a $100 fine or both.

"The word has spread around to these various gangs—and their parents," Mr. Toy said, "that we intend to really enforce this law. We aren't getting many complaints now about street-corner gangs.

"We have felt all along that parents are responsible in many ways for the delinquency of their children and had the law aimed at them. Police have no desire to give youngsters a black mark in life with an early arrest on their record.

"By making the parents more aware of their children's wrong doings, we are correcting the problem in the best method we know—putting the child back on the right path and at the same time bringing the parent closer to his child."

Sgt. Dunbar Sellers of the Boys' Juvenile Bureau reported there already is a noticeable decrease in "breaking and entering" by boys. "Our records show that most of these offenses occurred during the late hours of the night," Sergeant

Japan Builds Tourist Trade

COUNTRY HAS MUCH TO OFFER VISITORS AND RESTRICTIONS ARE EASIER

TOKYO—Japan has dusted off its temples and mountains in an effort to lure tourists with American dollars it so badly needs.

So far the revived tourist trade has been kept on a very limited scale by occupation authorities, but stopover tours of up to seven days have been authorized for those passing through by air or sea.

Japan has considerable to offer the traveler. The finest resorts escaped the war. Enchanting scenery and hot springs abound. Ancient monuments and oriental fine arts carefully have been preserved. Legends and tradition flourish.

The Japan Travel Bureau, a nonprofit organization with 3,000 employees in 200 offices throughout the country, has 20 rebuilt, air-conditioned railway compartment cars to haul the tourists. Its aim is to sell Japan as "the land of color, courtesy, and charm."

So far only 16 persons have taken the travel bureau's seven-day tour out of Yokohama, although occupation headquarters authorized up to 24 a week, beginning last July.

The price, fixed by the occupation, is $175 for the works, including sleeper, hotels, meals, guides, and tips.

For those who cannot stay the full week, there are two-day trips from either Yokohama or Kobe. These cost $44 each. For those who only have a day to spend, there are several bus excursions.

New $400,000 School Started

DISTRICT GETS $72,500 IN GIFTS AS GROUND IS BROKEN BY BERKHOF

Gifts totaling $72,500 were received by the Tecumseh School District last Friday afternoon when ground was broken on North Maumee street for a new $400,000 high school. The first shovel full of dirt was turned by William Berkhof, Mt. Clemens schoo superintendent and former superintendent here as members of the board of education and several hundred interested residents watched the ceremony.

In a brief talk during the services, Mr. Berkhof, under whose superintendency here the school was planned, declared that the new building will stand as a monument to Tecumseh's foresight, its desire to build for the future, its determination to share its responsibilities without government assistance. Quickly, he reviewed Tecumseh's growth in the past 15 years and declared that it has been largely due "to the foresight and determination of its community-minded citizens."

"I want to tell you that this is one of the happiest moments of my life," Berkhof said as he turned the first shovel of earth that started the building on its way to construction.

Earl H. Place, superintendent of schools, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced members of the board of education. When Jens Touborg, president of the board of education, was introduced he presented Mr. Satterthwaite, the treasurer, with a check for $22,500, one-half of a $45,000 gift to the district by Mr. Touborg and his associates, F. K. Smith and C. M. Brown.

Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., was introduced and he presented to Mr. Touborg a check of $50,000, one-half of a $100,000 gift by himself and the Products company.

The remaining $72,500 to be given by Products and Messrs. Herrick, Touborg, Smith and Brown will be presented when the building has been completed.

Mr. Herrick said that he was happy to present the money to the board and he believed, briefly, the Chamber of Commerce mass

EVENING SCHOOL OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT, DECEMBER 10

Live To Learn . . . Learn To Live, Is Slogan

Do you want to live and learn to live? Would you like to have that pleasurable glow of satisfaction that comes from making the most of your opportunities for self-improvement? Would you enjoy increasing your knowledge and skill in a friendly atmosphere with fine instructors and agreeable companions and have "fun while learning?"

Then, all you have to do is come to the Tecumseh High School Auditorium on the evening of January 10, 1949 at 7:30 p.m. for a pleasant journey on the road to learning. Our only requirements for enrollment are that you be over 16 years of age and that you pay the nominal $2 enrollment fee," Neville Hart, high school Adult Education supervisor said today.

"Each year many people in this area take advantage of the varied opportunities for learning, fun and fellowship offered by the Tecumseh Public Evening School. These folk are a happy, alert group interested in making the most of themselves and in getting the most out of life. They would be glad to have you join them and so would we—why not take the plunge?" Mr. Hart said.

YULE PARTY WITH GIFTS FOR KIDDIES, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18

Santa and Reindeer to Greet Youngsters in Tecumseh

"This is to confirm my previous wire to you that I will be in Tecumseh at 8 p.m., Saturday, December 18, and I want to tell you that I'll bring my silver sleigh and my reindeer. I'll have a gift for every youngster who comes to see me, and I want them all to come—for miles around. I'm busy this year, so let it be known that all of the kiddies in the Tecumseh trading area should be on hand because I want to hear from them, personally, just what they want for Christmas."

The above message was received yesterday by Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, from Santa Claus at the North Pole. Mr. Harris immediately wired St. Nick that Tecumseh would be expecting him and that at least 1,000 children would be on hand to greet him.

"Santa told me in a previous wire that he would have candy, gum, popcorn and peanuts this year for the kiddies," Harris said, "and we want to give the jolly fellow a rousing welcome. We want the youngsters from the country and from neighboring towns to come to see him, too. They are all invited."

Tecumseh will be in its finest holiday dress for Santa's visit. The downtown streets have been decorated more elaborately than ever before. There is festooning and stars at the main downtown intersections, two 25-foot lighted business district and hundreds of twinkling lights wink-out from the 100-odd Yule trees on the several ornamental lamp posts.

Christmas trees are located at each end of the boulevard in the

The job of decorating this year has been under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce with Leon P. Williamson as chairman. He has been assisted by Vern Mansfield, John Kopke, Dewey Turner, Arthur Harding and Rex Snellenberger of the village crew, and others from the Consumers Power Co.

"There is a genuine surprise in store for the kiddies this year," Harris said, "in that Santa will be bringing his reindeer. If all goes as is planned, Santa's silver-coated sleigh and deer will be flown to Tecumseh on a transport plane and he will be escorted to the business district by the high school band."

The children's party is an annual affair under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club. This year, financial assistance is being given by the Community Chest, the Chamber of Commerce and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The latter group donated $50.

"Rotary is glad to assist in staging this party for the kiddies, and we sincerely hope that there is a big crowd out to receive Santa," C. O. Butler, president of the club, said.

Harris said that Santa will make calls in other cities over the week-end, but will return to Tecumseh on Monday afternoon, December 20. He plans to spend considerable time in the stores here each afternoon and evening during the week before Christmas.

Starting Monday evening, December 20, local stores will be open each evening to accommodate holiday shoppers.

Stores Open Evenings Week Before Christmas

To accommodate Christmas shoppers, Tecumseh's stores will remain open each evening during the week before Christmas—starting on Monday, December 20—it was announced today by Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Harris also said that stores that normally close on Thursdays are remaining open on that day during the month of December.

"Merchants appreciate that the week before Christmas is a busy time for everybody," Harris said, "and they desire to cooperate in every way with busy shoppers. Then, too, Santa Claus will be here during that week, and grownups and children, alike, will want to see him."

Santa plans to spend considerable time in Tecumseh stores during the afternoons and evenings of the week before Christmas.

C. of C. Warns Of Solicitors

RESIDENTS SHOULD ASK FOR CREDENTIALS OF HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANVASSERS

Recently, the Chamber of Commerce has had reports from residents regarding an up-swing in the number of persons who are soliciting for this or that purpose, of others who have been conducting so-called "surveys" and of still other groups who appear to be house-to-house sales folk, intent upon cashing in on holiday dollars.

"If there is any doubt in a resident's mind regarding the right of these persons to carry on their work, they should ask them to identify themselves and to show credentials issued by the Chamber to all worth-while organizations of this kind," Ronald Harris, secretary, said today.

"The Chamber is organized to protect the community from needless campaigns and solicitations and it will do just that if residents will cooperate. However, unless the Chamber is notified, often such solicitors work for days before it is brought to our attention," Mr. Harris said.

Harris urged that in the future, residents who are contacted by solicitors first learn from them if they have the Chamber's approval. Such approval always is given in letter form. If solicitors are unable to show proper credentials, a call should be made to the Chamber and an immediate investigation will be made.

CHANGE IN ZONING DENIED BY COUNCIL

The Village council, in regular session Tuesday evening, denied a petition to change the zoning of lots 67-68 in Assessor's Plat No. 1, from Residence A property to Business B property. The lots are located on the west side of Mill street, north of Brown street.

The council also authorized the transfer of $4,000 to the water fund and $2,000 to the highway fund from the general fund. Heaters were ordered installed in two highway trucks.

Reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file and current bills were audited and ordered paid.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matthews will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, December 12, with open house from 2 to 10 p.m., at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Furgason, 212 South Democrat street.

Vivian Victoria Mellon and Roy Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Matthews, were united in marriage December 14, 1898, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mellon. To this union three children were born, the late Mrs. Gladys Kempf, Mrs. Lila Furgason and Mrs. Mary Furgason.

Scout Bazaar Big Success

MORE THAN $200 ADDED TO TREASURY AS RESULT OF ONE-DAY PROGRAM

The second annual bazaar of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Association which was held in the Methodist church last Saturday afternoon was declared a great success. According to the treasurer, Mrs. W. Winfield, who was cashier of the day, the profits will be approximately $200 when all reports are finished. The bazaar was not only a festive occasion lasting seven hours but also a date to be remembered. The public showed great interest by visiting and buying from the energetic Brownies and Girl Scouts.

Many of the following committee-women were on hand most of the day to help the girls whenever needed: Mrs. Kenneth Ross, Mrs. Raynor Ross, Mrs. Chas. W. Hanna, Mrs. Leo Alderdyce, Mrs. Chester Beach, Mrs. Donald Van Hook, Mrs. Wayne Patton, Mrs. Elmer Buehrer, Mrs. W. G. Porter, Mrs. Gene Judson, Mrs. Frank K. Smith, Mrs. Ernest Greene, Mrs. R. H. Community Fund Exceeds Quota

LAST-MINUTE DONATIONS SWELL CONTRIBUTIONS TO $5,455.95 TOTAL

The announcement that the quota had been reached was made today by Vance Ogden, general chairman, when he let it be known that cash contributions and pledges amounted to $5,455.95. The quota was $5,320.

"I am very happy to say that Tecumseh again has gone over the top in the Chest campaign," Mr. Ogden said. "Early in the drive, I was a bit doubtful of success, but when the community realized the danger that we would fail to make our quota, contributions were heavier."

It was necessary this year to run the campaign 10 days longer than a year ago in order to reach the goal. Ogden explained this as due to numerous call-backs by solicitors and the inability to contact many contributors.

"I would like to take this opportunity," Ogden said, "to say a sincere 'Thank You' to everybody

Public Invited To Attend Play

TWO-HOUR ENTERTAINMENT, FREE, THIS EVENING AT PRODUCTS' UNION HALL

The public is invited to attend, free, a two-hour entertainment, including a one-act comedy play, this evening at the Tecumseh Products Company Union Hall. The entertainment starts promptly at 8 p.m.

"The Christmas that Bounced," is the title of the one-act comedy which, according to "Cy" Kring, director, provokes more than a laugh a minute. In addition, there will be several acts of vaudeville, musical entertainment, etc.

"About two thirds of the folk who take part in this entertainment are employees of the Products company and the other third resides in Tecumseh," Mr. Kring said. "We have just started these entertainments and, in the future, we hope to be able to stage an old-fashioned minstrel show.

"We are interested in contacting anyone in this community who has talent for the stage. Persons who desire to take part in plays, who can help us to direct them, or assist with the musical scores are invited to help us. If they'll contact me, I will appreciate it," Kring said.

The players recently staged a three-act play a the Union Hall and attracted a large audience. Reception was excellent and that is the reason for the continuance of the entertainment.

NOT A BLANK CHECK

A stranger reading the post-election discussions in the United States would think we elected a President for the principal purpose of serving the labor group, the farm group, the industrial group, or some other group that claimed he owed his success to it. As a matter of fact, we elect a President to serve all the people.

It is important to call the people's attention to this fact—and also to the fact that this election was not a directive to Congress to rubber stamp the acts of the President, because Congressmen generally received more votes than the President.

There has been a lot of loose talk to the effect that the election of Mr. Truman automatically meant a swing to the left in this country—a swing toward more socialization and regimentation of business, and more and more paternalism in government. Again, the facts do not justify such a belief by any Congressman or the President.

The failure of our people to poll a record vote in the last election indicates they felt no real choice in party platforms was offered them. Many thought it better to ride along than bring about a change with a candidate who both failed and refused to take issue with his opponent and who stood for no program in definite opposition to the Administration in power. The Republicans failed to nominate a fighting ticket and take a chance on the solid Americanism of the people. Will the Democrats in their victory fail to see that it was no mandate to swing to the left? If they do, they will have a surprise in store for them when the people get a chance to vote on that issue.

The vote was no blank check to either the President or Congress to play fast and loose with the resources of this nation, or to endorse socialistic measures which undermine the security of American labor, American enterprise, and the fullest freedom of action for all American citizens.

TECUMSEH'S "REST-ROOM"?

Yes—Tecumseh, our thriving, progressive city—not a mere village or town anymore—but still it has no such thing as a "Rest-room." Maybe some folks think that isn't necessary, but how can you see it that way? WHY isn't it a necessity?

Just WHERE do you figure the ladies and children who come miles to shop in our town, are they going to go when in need of that kind of a place? O, yes, some of you may say "why they can go to the "ladies toilet" at the gas stations. Very well, let me ask you would you want your daughter or wife have to sit in a place where tourists go? People from everywhere, every state and direction. Think this over, PLEASE. There has been quite a lot of discussion on this subject. For a place the size of Tecumseh the stores all have their ow "rest-rooms" but those are private and for their employees, which is perfectly O.K. because, after all, the store owners should protect their help in this situation. Tecumseh is getting larger and larger every day and if it is to be "kept on the map" with it's sister cities, then let's have that long needed "rest-room" somewhere up town in the business district. And the town won't be super until it owns and has one.

Please canvass the town and see if you can find a place to accommodate man, woman or child.

Who agrees it is a worthwhile subject for discussion? There are many who do, and it is just as important as decorating our town for the Holidays, because that is enjoyed by all our home town people as well as visitors and these very same people CAN and WOULD enjoy that nice, convenient "REST-ROOM" also.

IS THIS A MIRAGE? . . . We're not drilling any policemen. Anyway, we don't have enough policemen to drill, is the general gist of Russian replies to Western powers' questions on the reported great increase of Red-zone police power and rumored military drilling of the police as militia. However, this photograph secretly snapped through a window of a blocked-off and remote area of the Russian sector of Berlin shows Berlin police terminating a military drill with a march to the auditorium in the background.

A Herald Reader and Tax Payer

(Editor's Note: The writer apparently desires to call the public's attention to the fact that the rest room in the Council Building, for years maintained by the Village, recently was abandoned and the space given over to offices for the police department. Village officials say that the "ladies" rest room, during the last year's of its existence, was a distinct "headache," that, athough it was cleaned several times daily, it was nearly impossible to keep it sanitary, and finally, in despair, it was closed. It seems that there are two sides to the issue and, perhaps later, some provision may be made to provide rest room service. However, until some of the women—and it was a woman's room, exclusively—who did use the room, and who, undoubtedly, would use it in the future, learn a little better to appreciate such a service, one hardly can blame the village officials because of their disgust. Laws are necessary not because all people need them but because a few make their enactment mandatory. Society, generally, suffers because of the acts of a few. It seems that such is the case in the rest room issue.)

SHORT STORY

Childhood Encore

By ROGER S. VREELAND

THE house still stands at 215 Inwood Lane, Claremont. The Inwood Lane is important. Remember that. The number doesn't make any difference, because then there wasn't another house within 500 yards.

Honeysuckle at the end of the piazza entwined a lattice screen and you could really suck the honey. Uncle Clem — who wasn't really my uncle—had shown me how. Cannas grew funnel-shape way up past the piazza railing. Mother's round peony garden on the side lawn by the swing that my father had made (I never remembered him) grew luscious creamy pink and white flowers.

Inside was the brick fireplace before which the three of us would sit in the winter, Uncle Clem taking care of the fire and telling us stories while Mother sewed, and I would watch the picture of Nero's Horses over the mantel until I saw their eyes roll and breath steam out of their nostrils.

3-Minute Fiction

This was the house I was born in. It was big and it was old and it was full of strange nooks from cellar to attic. I knew Mother liked it for she often said she hoped some day to buy it.

Considering she was a widow, my mother did well in providing for the two of us until Mr. Hale came. That was Uncle Clem's real name. She didn't need the small amount he paid her. It was just from the kindness of her heart that she gave him a home. He was old, feeble, bent over; he carried a cane most of the time. I know those things now. But strangely I remembered him as spry, full of pep and fun. He was good and kind and always thinking of things to do.

MOTHER never knew where he came from, until after he was gone. The first I ever saw of him was when he appeared at the door into the living room and "entertained" him until Mother came in from the chicken coop.

Mother was cool to him at first. She was always suspicious of strangers. But I saw the kind of fellow he was right away. He told her his family was gone and asked if she had a room to spare. He said he had a little money, enough to pay for his room and board.

Uncle Clem spent nearly all his time with me. Sometimes he would forget what we were playing, and sit with a kind of dreamy, faraway look. Then he would snap back into what we were doing. He got to calling my mother Mom and I guess she didn't mind.

Once I heard him tell her that his working days were over and he enjoyed trying to be a boy again.

But there were some things I couldn't understand about him.

His will was made out to Mother, leaving her enough to buy the house.

When we played hiding games he'd seem to have an uncanny sense of where to look. He knew about the flat stone over the abandoned well behind the chicken coop before I showed it to him, the loose board on the floor of my closet, the recesses over the eaves in the attic, and the door to the unused cold storage vault in the cellar. He even knocked on one of the inside walls where it sounded hollow, and he said: "There was a window there once."

When Uncle Clem died I cried all night. Mother had to go into his personal things. His will was made out to her, leaving her enough to buy the house. I'll never forget her cry of surprise when she came across an old newspaper clipping he had saved. It was about his retirement from business. I have it now.

"Clement B. Hale," it began, "was served a testimonial dinner last night by the insurance company which he has served for 40 years. This is a record for the company, stated John H. Quinn, the president, who presented Mr. Hale with a gold watch. Hale, who now retires on pension, was born March 19, 1852, on Inwood Lane, Claremont . . ."

meeting earlier this year at which time gifts of $145,000 were pledged the district by the four gentlemen on condition that the electors vote a $180,000 bond issue. This was mandatory so that when the building was finished, it would be free of debt. The bond issue later was approved and the other $75,000 necessary to finance the building program comes from a sinking fund, previously established.

"I've said it many times and I say it again," Herrick said as he handed over the check to the board president, "that this is the greatest town on earth. We are very happy to be a part of such a community."

Mr. Place then handed the silver-painted shovel to Berkhof and the ground was broken.

The Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Friends church, asked the invocation, and the high school band, under the direction of Clare Camburn, played the national anthem. Mr. Foubert also spoke briefly when he presented Mr. Place as master of ceremonies.

The contract for the construction of the building was awarded a week ago by the board for $392,-230. Excavation work on the basement and the footings already is under way and it is hoped that construction can proceed throughout the winter. It is the board's hope to have the building finished and ready for occupancy in the fall of next year.

Tecumseh's present school enrollment is near the 1,000 mark and three churches and the public library are being used for classroom purposes. When the new building is finished it will house the junor and senior high schools and the present central building will be given over to elemetary grade students.

who helped to make this campaign a success. By that I mean those who were captains and solicitors, those who aided in other ways, and those who gave of their money as well as their time.

"A campaign cannot be successful," the chairman pointed, "without complete cooperation on the part of the community. I believe that we had cooperation here, and Tecumseh is to be congratulated.

The Red Feather drive here is an annual affair, inaugurated three years ago to do away with a dozen or more individual drives for as many worth-while organizations.

Participating in this year's budget are: Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary, $500; Cancer Control Society, $350; Hallowe'en and Christmas parties for children, $200; Girl Scouts, $400; Boy Scouts (Wolverine Council of America), $400; Sister Kenny Foundation, $100; Salvation Army, $300; Michigan Welfare League, $10; Michigan Aid for Blind, $50; Tecumseh Recreation Center, $500; Reserve for emergencies, general welfare and campaign expenses, $2,500.

Irelan, and Mrs. Richard Doyle. Many other mothers helped too. Th officers were present also to assist the president, Mrs. Grenval Spangler, and the general chairman, Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, throughout the day.

On behalf of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Association, Mrs. Helzerman wishes to thank all who had a part in making the affair so important in the lives of the scouts. It exceeded all expectations. The proceeds will supplement the aid from the Community chest.

The Association feels that its friends who contributed to the Community Chest Fund with this organization in mind had vision in program building for youth and, therefore, feels that it has a very important charge to keep for the community. At present there are fourteen troops of Brownies and Girl Scouts numbering 185 girls.

Nursing Is Proving To Be More Attractive

Nursing as an occupation has attracted more new students in 1948 than in any previous year except during the war, according to a report from the Michigan Nursing Center Association.

"Prospects that the supply of nursing service in Michigan will begin to catch up the mounting demand look brighter than for a long time," says Thelma Scratch, R. N., Detroit, chairman of the association's committee on Careers in Michigan.

With 1423 freshmen admitted this year to schools of professional nursing, the state's record is 19 per cent better than a year ago and comes within five per cent of 1500, the quota for 1948.

Practical nurse training centers, set up in seven cities, by boards of education, under the auspices of the Office of Vocational Education, Michigan Department of Public Instruction, now have 360 students enrolled in the one-year course. The centers are expected eventually to train 860 practical nurses a year.

High school and college students are advised by Miss Scraten to seek information early from the Michigan Nursing Center Association, 750 East Main Street, Lansing, if they wish to qualify for entrance into schools of nursing in 1949.

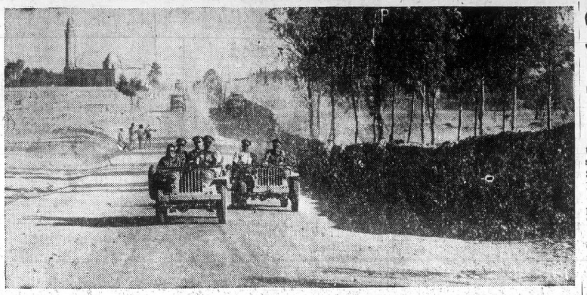
TYPEWRITER and adding ribbons Get yours at The Tecumseh Herald.



THE ROAD FROM BEERSHEBA . . . The victorious sweep of the Israeli army against Arab and Egyptian forces in the Holy Land revives in the minds of many the names of the cities of the Old Testament—Ashdod, one of the five most important Philistine cities, and ancient Beersheba. Now Jewish soldiers in modern vehicles of war are speeding over the main Gaza-Beersheba road after the capture of the ages old city. The Mosque of Beersheba can be seen looming in the background. The city was wrested from the Egyptians by Israeli forces after the U. N. enforced truce in the Holy Land broke down.

IS YOUR DISPOSITION BAD? ARE YOU IRRITABLE?

Maybe It's Because You Don't Eat Lunch Regularly

Your lunch is more important than you know.

It gives you mental, physical and nervous energy for the afternoon. It helps keep your disposition pleasant, and your morale, efficiency and production high for the last four working hours, and it has its effect on your evening's pleasure, too. Studies have shown that without a complete and proper lunch, a school child does not concentrate or learn well, he is more susceptible to error and accident and may be accused of being lazy. The same is true of adults.

These things, the Michigan Department of Health said today in advising everyone to (1) take time for lunch (2) know what you should eat, (3) eat it. The sandwich and coke or coffee diet eaten by many teen agers and office workers is not enough! the Department said.

Drink a half pint of milk. Eat two ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish or cheese, OR one-half cup of cooked beans, peas or soybeans, OR four tablespoons of peanut butter. Eat one or more portions of bread or muffins, and two teaspoons of butter or fortified margarine. Add to these, and THIS IS IMPORTANT, three-fourths cup of vegetables or fruit, or both. Remember these are neither very expensive nor very fattening and they contain food values which you must have. If you need more food because you work at hard labor add more of the same things or additional starchy or fat foods.

Your lunch should contain at least one-third of all the food values you need for the entire day. If your lunch and breakfast are not adequate, you will be so worn and irritable before you get your dinner that you'll have less fun in your evening recreational hours, the Department said.

outlook on life largely depends upon your attitude." Miller said during his serious moments. "We say it is a 'rotten' day when it rains or snows but we fail to realize that it is a glorious day—glorious because we are Americans, living in the greatest country on earth, enjoying the greatest advantages of anybody on earth."

Leon Williamson, president of Tecumseh Club, presided at the meeting which was in charge of Earl Lindsley, general program chairman. Ellsworth Collins, program chairman for December, introduced the speaker. The Rev. Michael Collins asked the invocation and group singing was directed by John Saling, assisted by John Nixon of the Adrian club.

About 50 members of Adrian Exchange and their wives were guests at the meeting. The TP Broadcasters, local Barbershop Quartette, were unable to keep the program engagement and instead the "Hell Raisers" of the Adrian Exchange furnished intermission music. Later, dancing was enjoyed, with music by Driscoll's Orchestra.

The junior high chorus will sing "A Merry Christmas" and "Christmas Folk Song," followed by the senior high chorus singing "Jingle Bells" and "The Shepherds' Christmas Song." In the finale Nancy Schoolmaster will be the angel, as the high school, junior high and grade school choruses join in singing "Silent Night."

Kempf, received congratulations from many friends and relatives when they held open house at their home on East Chicago Blvd., Saturday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. in observance of their 45th and 10th wedding anniversaries, respectively.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the lace-covered table. Mrs. Floyd Billington and Mrs. Grith Hall presided at the urns while Mrs. Velma Miller served the guests. Mrs. Luther Wood was in charge of the guest book. Many cards and remembrances were sent by friends who could not attend.

Thirty-five years after the Whelans were married, their daughter Margaret and Henry Kempf were married in the same home, same room and same corner. On Saturday evening, Mrs. Kempf wore the same royal blue velvet gown in which she was married. Mrs. Whelan was attractively dressed in blue with a corsage of pink roses.

Friends and relatives came from Jackson, Brooklyn, Manitou Beach, Onsted and Britton as well as from this vicinity.

Blind Advertisement

By EMMIE BELL PORTER

THE newspaper advertisement read: "WANTED: Sober, reliable man to take complete charge of advertising department of large firm. Must be able to assume full responsibility. College-trained men only need apply."

"Yes, it does sound good," agreed Mona, over his shoulder.

Ted reflected. "It isn't that old Todd is a bad sort . . . it's just that he doesn't seem to want to give me full rein, and you know I work better without so much supervision."

3-Minute Fiction

Mona raised her hand in a dramatic sweep "Onward and upward, my lad . . . Let's enter greener fields via this ad . . . let Todd feed his business to the birds!"

Thirty minutes later Ted leaned back. "Read it to me, honey . . . let's hear how it sounds."

"Dear Sir: If you are looking for a man with initiative, willingness to work and a capacity to handle your advertising, look no further. However, I would have it understood from the beginning that I am to have full charge and not be hindered, swayed or crippled by any supervisor, helper or owner. I am at present employed but unfortunately my present employer is afraid to trust me to stand on my own feet, in fact, I do not believe he fully trusts his own feet. I know what I can do and all I ask is a chance to prove it. Respectfully, Theodore Shane."

Mona's eyes glowed. "Oh, Ted, that is a good letter, but is that part bad about your boss not trusting you?"

Ted's jaw set. "All my cards are on the table, honey . . . might as well let him know where I stand right from the beginning."

Kissing Mona goodby, Ted whispered, "Keep your fingers crossed for luck, sweet."

AT FOUR O'CLOCK that afternoon the buzzer on Ted's desk impatiently summoned him into the inner sanctum of the Big Boss—J. Anthony Todd, himself. That illustrious individual sat stiffly erect, his halo of steel gray hair burning excitingly.

"Sit down, Shane!" he thundered. "Sit down. I want to talk with you about that Finkle advertising deal. Just how would you handle it?"

Ted blinked in surprise. "Why, sir, I would channel it through the mediums of the small retailer for there's not enough volume to interest the large concerns."

The owner of Todd and Todd nodded in agreement. "Right! That's just what I've been telling my partner should be done! Go right ahead with it!"

"Thanks!" agreed Ted. "That should be quite a deal if handled properly."

"By the way," inquired Mr. Todd, his eyes twinkling, "just how would you handle the new plastic deal with the Denver people?"

He ushered a dazed but happy Ted to the door.

Ted outlined in enthusiastic detail the plans he had been longing to put into action.

WHEN he had finished, the boss looked at him in astonishment. "My boy," he instructed. "Go right ahead. Call me in for a conference only if you feel you need moral support." He shifted his weight and smiled. "Come back tomorrow. We will draw up a new arrangement as well as full authority in your department."

After he had ushered a dazed but happy Ted to the door, the head of Todd and Todd drew a letter from his desk. He chortled. "This is really good!" Adjusting his glasses he read:

"My present employer is afraid to trust me to stand on my own feet, in fact I do not believe he fully trusts his own feet."

Putting the letter back, he smiled again. "I guess young Shane will always wonder why he never received an answer to that letter. It was a good thing I made that advertisement a blind one, otherwise I might have never discovered what a tip-top advertising fireball I had right here all along!"

About The Folks You Know

Even the weather has taken a turn to keep in step with the Santa Claus spirit which appears to be very much alive in the community . . . Leon Williamson, ably assisted by several passers-by from time to time, was seen putting the finishing touches, in the form of colored lights on the Christmas trees downtown, Saturday, in time to greet the evening shoppers.

Word comes from California that Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sargeant, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Lepon, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Williamson, jr., all met recently for dinner at the Naval Officers' Club, at Terminal Island, Calif. All are former residents of Tecumseh who now live in Los Angeles.

Mrs. S. W. Boyce left Monday for the sunny south where she will spend the winter. Mrs. E. C. Barnes of Fairfield accompanied Mrs. Boyce and they will live in Eustis, Fla.

Lt. William A. Wright, U. S. N. R., has arrived in China where he will remain for six months, according to word received by Mrs. Wright . . . Pfc. Conrad Fosbender of the Marine Corps spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fosbender. Conrad returned to Parris Island, S. C., Monday and expects to be sent to Pennington, Calif.

Parties, showers and weddings highlight the social events as the holidays draw near . . . Mr. and Mrs. Barton Meyer entertained at dinner last week Wednesday evening, in observance of the 84th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Nettie Hamilton. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mathews and Mrs. Louise Vaughn of Britton . . . Mrs. Percy Bowen was in East Lansing Sunday with her daughter, Louise, whose sorority, Alpha Gamma Delta, entertained the mothers at breakfast and a Christmas party.

Miss Jean Bailey, December 19th bride-elect, was honored at the John Lott home, Saturday evening, by Mrs. Joan Lott Hesse and Miss Dorothy Bowen. Bridge was the diversion and Jean was showered with many personal gifts. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Jacquelyn Costigan was the surprised person when she entertained her bridge club last Thursday evening. Jackie will be a New Year's Day bride and the women presented her with a wedding gift . . . On Friday evening, Mrs. D. F. Wright and Mrs. William A. Wright entertained at a dessert bridge in the former's home honoring Miss Costigan. Prizes wrre won by Mrs. F. E. N. Thatcher, Mrs. Ford Mudgett and Mrs. Wesley Costigan and these were presented to Jackie as well as many lovely miscellaneous gifts.

Mrs. Woodrow Green, the former June Costigan, Jackie's sister, became a mother recently, so Mrs. Clyde Mitchell and Mrs. Seymour Barritt entertained at a shower for her, last week Wednesday evening, in the Mitchell home. Bridge was the diversion and prizes were won by Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. DeLee ManWaring and Mrs. Jean Partee, who in turn presented them to Mrs. Green. At small tables decorated with bouquets of flowers in baby shoe vases, some 12 guests were served refreshments. Mrs. Green opened many lovely gifts.

The Ernest Hammacks entertained last evening in their home in honor of Doris and Deloris O'Neill, former residents. The twins had a two-weeks vacation from the airline company with which they are employed at Houston, Texas, so came back to Tecumseh, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Nichols . . . A Christmas party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach last evening when they entertained the officers of the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. After a delicious potluck supper there were the usual games and prizes, followed by an exchange of gifts.

If nothing more serious than the Sunday incident happens before Christmas the local police department will be happy. Sunday afternoon the streamers of greens extending from each of the four corner buildings to the stoplight took a "nose dive." Police kept the traffic under control as the green stuff was put back into place . . . and fastened securely just in case another high wind comes up . . . The big white star hanging so prettily in front of a local business establishment was also ripped to shreds by the wind, Sunday, and had to be removed.

ISSAC DIES; JACOB AND ESAU SEPARATE

Jacob's father, Isaac, was very old— in fact he had lived on the earth 180 years. The Bible tells us that Jacob went to Hebron, where Isaac and Abraham lived, and there he had the sad duty of burying his father.

But the land of Hebron was too large for both Jacob and Esau. So, while Jacob dwelt in Canaan, Esau moved into the land near Mount Seir, with his tribes, his cattle, his family.

There he was the head of a race later called the Edomites.

The Edomites were not so well remembered in the early history of our religion as the Israelites, or the tribe of Jacob. However, since Jacob and Esau, in their youth, had been constantly warring against each other, and deceiving each other, it is not surprising that they considered the land around Hebron too small for them both.

Relationships based in deceit and trickery never stand. That is one of the struggles your church is fighting every day—to keep this foundation strong with the basic doctrines put forth by your Church. Regardless of your creed, you will find these words in your Church tenets: Fellowship, Faith, Hope, Love. Be sure to help others by absorbing more of this brotherly love to practice on your fellow man. Attend the Church of your choice this week and every week. It needs you.

Fay Bainter, distinguished playwright and actress, plays the title role in "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," one of the dramatizations in GREAT SCENES FROM GREAT PLAYS, presented by the Protestant Episcopal Church. Plays are presented each Friday at 8 P. M., eastern standard time, corresponding periods in the other time zones. See local newspapers for time and station. The programs are presented as exceptionally fine entertainment, with a short message from the Church, which has a real value for the listener.

Pre-Yule Play On Air, Friday

Throughout the world there are many unfortunate men and women who struggle to combat the curse of loneliness with varying degrees of success. During the pre-Yuletide season the plight of the lonely seems all the more poignant, which is why Sir James Barrie's heart-warming drama, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," seems particularly appropriate at this time, because it speaks to the hearts of men and women at every age. His touching story of how a London scrub-woman found happiness is an enduring testament of faith and courage. It is the eleventh radio drama to be heard over station CKLW, sponsored by the Episcopal families of this community.

Miss Fay Bainter, who plays Mrs. Dowey, the scrub-woman, won her stardom laurels on Broadway in such famous stage successes as "Lysistrata," "The Admirable Crichton," and "Dodsworth." More recently she starred in the films "State Fair," "The Virginian," "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," and currently in "Deep Valley." In her present radio role of the lonely Mrs. Dowey, Miss Bainter turns to make-believe to find a son for whom she can live and make sacrifices.

When Sir James Barrie brings Mrs. Dowey's mythical son, Kenneth, to life in the form of a six-foot-two killed private in the famous Black Watch Regiment of Scotland, things begin to happen. The adventures of this ill-sorted pair, during his five day furlough in London, are both tender and touching. After his return to the front and subsequent death in action, Mrs. Dowey's grief is great indeed but still she is ready to go on with her life—secure in the knowledge that she can find in God and the Church the comfort and strength she needs.

TO CHOOSE OFFICERS

The Florence Weld Mission Guild will meet Monday, December 13, at the home of Miss Mary Whitelock, for a potluck supper at 6 p.m. sharp. During the business meeting new officers will be elected and there will be a short Christmas program. Mrs. Fred Rector will lead in devotions.

Happiness is largely a habit—cultivate it.

1948 Xmas Club Funds To Reach $831 Million

NEW YORK—A total of $831,000,000 will be distributed to about 10,175,000 Christmas Club members by approximately 5,700 banking and saving institutions and other organizations during National Prosperity Week, starting Monday, November 29, according to an estimate given out by Douglas T. Johnston, president, Edward F. Dorset, executive vice-president and Mrs. Herbert F. Rawll, vice-president of Christmas Club, a corporation.

The total distribution is 11.3 per cent ahead of last year and represents an all-time high for the 38 years of Christmas Club operation. The average per-member distribution is about $91.25 in large Metropolitan areas and $81.50 for the entire country, as against $78.50 last year. The total number of individual members participating this year shows an increase of 675,000 over a year ago.

In the distribution of Christmas Club funds this year, New York State leads the other states with about $230,600,000; the estimates for Pennsylvania are $102,000,000; for Massachusetts $82,500,000; for New Jersey $64,100,000.

The store is located in a new building on East Chicago boulevard.

To Reduce Accidents, Slow Down At Sundown

"Slow down at sundown!"

That's the advice of the Chamber of Commerce in its traffic safety campaign this month emphasizing night traffic hazards.

This is the time of year when traffic accidents usually are on the increase. And as the days get shorter and darkness encroaches more and more on the average person's working day, the Chamber urges those who drive cars to make allowance for the lessening visibility, be more cautious and drive more slowly.

"We are all too likely to keep up the same schedule we follow on the longer days of the year," A. W. Porter, chairman of the Chamber's Safety Committee said today. "Yet we can't see as well, for each day it gets darker a little earlier. And the 'gray hours' of twilight makes traffic even more dangerous. It's just good common sense to allow more time for getting home. Drive more slowly—and you're more sure of getting home safely.

"And when you walk from your place of work to your car or wherever you walk these evenings—remember you are in far more danger as a pedestrian than on the long bright days.

"A little more care on the part of every motorist and pedestrian is the best way to keep the darkness from increasing traffic deaths and injuries on our streets. So LOOK OUT WHEN IT'S DARK OUT!"

TO ELECT OFFICERS

The Royal Neighbors will meet Monday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. Tillie Tuckey. All members are urged to be present for the election of new officers. Those attending are to bring sandwiches.

More Benefits For Aged Urged

GOVERNOR-ELECT TO ASK LEGISLATURE TO BOOST SECURITY FOR THOSE OVER 65

LANSING — Governor-Elect G. Mennen Williams informed President Truman, during a White House conference last week, that he intends to ask the state legislature in 1949 to do something about old age assistance—better security for persons 65 years or older.

From W. J. Maxey, director of the state social welfare commission we gathered the following facts:

The average monthly retirement benefit to 62,497 insured workers in Michigan was $22.96 last June. This amount is paid by the federal government out of old-age insurance funds, financed jointly by workers and employers by a 1 per cent payroll tax.

The average check for old-age relief (granted only to needy persons, regardless of whether they are eligible for old-age retirement benefits) was $42.17 in November. This payment is financed jointly by state and federal funds. The legislature appropriation for the current fiscal year (ending July 1, 1949) was approximately $19,000,000.

Because the $22.96 old-age retirement benefit does not fully cover post-war living costs, approximately 10 per cent of these retirement recipients have had to petition for old-age relief. Furthermore, (and this is hard to believe!) the federal law now says that a retired insured worker can earn only $14.99 a month in addition to his earned $22.96 monthly retirement benefit. This restriction has had the effect of compelling most insured workers, otherwise eligible to draw insurance benefits, to stay at work.

Michigan ranks 26th among the states in population rate of old-age citizens who are receiving old-age relief. We rank 22nd among the states in point of the average monthly old-age payment ($42.17). Among nearby states which outdo us are Illinois, Ohio, Iowa and Minnesota. New York pays $49.45 a month; Colorado leads with $78.43.

Governor-Elect Williams campaigned against the 1947 legislative enactment which required the state welfare department to file a claim against the estate of a deceased relief recipient to recover the amount of public relief paid.

President Truman has proposed liberalization of social security retirement benefits, advocating "at least 50 per cent" increase for retirement payments. Oscar R. Ewing, federal security administrator, favors a 100 per cent increase. Why? Because the cost of living has gone up 75 per cent since the formula was first adopted, and tre result (quoting Ewing) is "an outrageous situation." This is the situation in a nutshell.

STAR FARMER . . . Kenneth Lewayne Cheatham, 19, of Greenville, Ill., a farmer, who is a member of the Future Farmers of America, was selected as the Star Farmer of America at the 20th convention of the FFA in Kansas City.

As a Democratic governor, succeeding the crusading Republican Governor Kim Sigler, he will have a Republican dominated administrative board and a Republican dominated state legislature to work with. He favored retention of the sales tax amendment which diverts 76 per cent of the sales tax revenue back to home government, yet he will face a prospective deficit in the state treasury at the end of the coming fiscal year unless new or higher taxes are imposed by the legislature.

The budget problem alone will call for a miracle.

Ironically enough, the man who counseled Governor Sigler on reforms for state government is slated to be replaced by the governor-elect. It was the conviction of John Perkins, controller who heads the new department of administration, that Michigan's 100-odd state agencies should be streamlined whereby the governor could be held responsible for the success or failure of their performances.

Centralization of authority in the hands of the governor—yes, that was the conclusion as voiced by Mr. Perkins, himself an able and competent person in his field.

Only by placing authority in the hands of the governor—the power to hire or fire the heads of leading state departments, would the State of Michigan achieve direct responsibility, so Mr. Perkins reasoned.

Quoting from a recent paper prepared by Mr. Perkins: "The cry of 'too much centralization' has been raised without seeming awareness that government has really centralized in Washington because there has not been more integration in the state capitols."

The present state controller sees clearly that "acute fiscal difficulty" is just ahead for the State of Michigan and that "a deficit of millions of dollars" appears now to be inevitable. Higher taxes are now freely forecast for our federal government. The same logic applied to Michigan, would bring a parallel conclusion.

If retail sales continue their present decline, state sales tax revenues will soon start to fall. It looks like the time of reckoning may not be far off.

Movie Star To Head Inauguration Group

HOLLYWOOD—Melvin Douglas, actor, has accepted chairmanship of a committee to arrange for a representative film colony delegation to President Truman's inauguration January 20, he said here.

The request came from the Inauguration Arrangements Committee in Washington.

Initially, Mr. Douglas plans to ask persons who were active in Mr. Truman's behalf during the campaign to serve with him on the committee. These would include, he said, actors, Ronald Reagan and Gregory Peck, producers George Jessel and Brian Foy, and Roy Brewer, of the AFL-International Alliance of Theatrical Stage employees.

"We shall attempt to send as broad and representative a group as possible to the inauguration Mr. Douglas said. "It will include actors, actresses, producers, executives, film labor representatives and others from a cross-section of the industry."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Yes Sir, Insomnia's Contagious!

When Bud Swanson had trouble sleeping nights, and tried to get over it by turning up the radio full blast, he started an epidemic of insomnia all down the block!

Folks finally dropped a hint to Bud that he close the windows or turn the radio a little lower. Bud did—and that was the quickest cure for other folks' insomnia I've ever heard of!

Not that any of us object to the radio, or swing bands, or anything else that helps another person relax of an evening. (Myself, I like a glass of beer with a bit of cheese before I go to bed. I can't speak for you.)

From where I sit, good neighborliness means nothing more than simply respecting the other person's tastes and rights — without forcing your own tastes or opinions down his throat. And that goes for Bud's radio, my glass of beer, or whatever temperate pleasure you happen to enjoy.

Rheumatic Fever Warning Sounded

IS TAKING LIVES OF MORE MICHIGAN CHILDREN THAN ANY OTHER DISEASE

Rheumatic fever takes the lives of more Michigan school children than any other disease, and its resulting heart damage causes the crippling of multitudes, according to Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner. The illness is more common in Michigan than most parents suspect.

The disease flourishes in cold, damp weather, under crowded living conditions and among children who do not eat proper food. The disease is not contagious, like measles or mumps, but it often follows the highly contagious streptococcic throat and nose infections.

Cause of the illness is not surely known, but symptoms which should indicate an immediate check-up by the child's physician, especially if the child is under 14 years, are: low, unexplained, persistent fever, pain in muscles and joints, rapid heart beat, repeated nosebleeds without apparent cause, pallor, poor appetite, loss of weight or failure to gain, jerky nervous movements, and frequent sore throat.

These signs or symptoms may be so slight that the family doctor has to study the child for months and consult specialists before he is sure. But to protect the life and future health of the child, early diagnosis is of the utmost importance. More than 50,000 Michigan adults are now suffering crippling heart defects from rheumatic fever; and heart disease takes the lives of more Michigan people than any other illness.

Bed rest, perhaps for months, proper diet, prevention of recurrences of the illness, and avoidance of respiratory illness are of the utmost importance to the child ill of rheumatic fever. Parents should see that the child is properly clothed for winter or cold weather, that he keeps his feet and body dry, that he follows medical instruction, eats the foods he needs, rests as his physician advises, and avoids other children who are ill. He should be taught how to protect his health and the reasons for doing so.

Symptoms listed do not necessarily mean rheumatic fever, but the child ill of rheumatic fever will recover a maximum of health only when his case is diagnosed early and he is given proper care.

For better diagnosis of rheumatic fever and for consultation, the Michigan State Medical Society in cooperation with the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the Michigan Crippled Children Commission has established or is establishing 30 Rheumatic Fever Consultation and Diagnostic Centers in the State. Of these, 16 have been established in the Detroit, Wayne County area, and one each in Alpena, Ann Arbor, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Marquette, Pontiac, Saginaw, and Traverse City. Centers are being completed in Battle Creek, Muskegon and Port Huron. Admission to these centers is arranged by the family physician who examined the child suspected of having rheumatic fever.

"The militant campaign on the part of the Michigan State Medical Society and other agencies, places the state among the foremost in efforts toward rheumatic fever control," Dr. Heustis said. "The campaign will show its results in a lower death rate and less crippling from rheumatic fever among children, and in a decrease in total heart disease deaths in the state."

BANNER CROP . . . Military government officials estimate that 340 million bushels of rice is expected to be harvested in Japan this year. On every road, in every town and village of the rice-producing areas, the activity of cutting, drying, threshing, winnowing or transportation to the rice-collection points for sale is evident.

The cost of hospital care, like everything else, has gone up. Think of the bills you pay at home—most of them larger today than ever. Virtually every item of expense in a home—food, supplies, maintenance and wages—is duplicated a hundred-fold in a hospital. To go to the hospital today costs far more than it used to—over 98% more in typical cases since 1941.

Liquor Code Is Kansas Problem

HOWEVER, IT IS ONLY ONE OF SEVERAL ISSUES BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE

TOPEKA, KAN.—Kansas will be confronted with many problems of statewide importance when the legislature convenes in January, and Gov. Frank Carlson has expressed the hope that liquor-control legislation will not overshadow other pressing needs of the state.

The chief executive has reminded the people that state institutions, schools, juvenile policies, highways, and Kansas natural resources should be considered in their proper significance by the lawmakers, despite any tendency of the liquor question to dominate their time and attention.

Liquor-control legislation has been made necessary as a result of the voters' decision, by a majority of more than 60,000, to repeal the state's prohibition laws, which have been in effect for 68 years.

In addition to the large number of other issues that await action by the legislature, the coming session seems certain to be in for a controversy over the severance tax proposal which developed into a stirring issue during the 1947 session, and on which no action was taken.

Anticipating sharp action on the proposal, oil and gas concerns are already waging a fight against it, and Kansas educators have been taking a definite position that Kansas schools need more funds and that the oil industry should be required to supply them through such a tax.

All indications point to a warm debate over the severance tax proposal, which conceivably could develop into one of the toughest problems of the entire session.

Many Suffer From Diabetes

20,000 PERSONS IN STATE ARE ILL OF DISEASE AND DON'T KNOW IT

"More than 20,000 Michigan people are ill of diabetes and don't know it.

"If you have any symptom of diabetes, use National Diabetes Week, December 6 to 12, to have a medical examination for the disease," Dr. F. S. Leeder, Director of the Bureau of Disease Control, Michigan Department of Health, advised today.

Diabetes can be controlled so that the diabetic individual can live a virtually normal life. Untreated diabetes may be serious.

The disease occurs in people of all ages, but most common after middle age. It is not uncommon in children, especially among those in their early teens.

Symptoms of diabetes usually come on slowly, but they can begin abruptly. A child may suddenly begin to lose weight, be very thirsty, be very hungry, pass large quantities of urine and lose strength. His vision may become blurred, and there may be sweating at night. In some cases there is a gain in weight followed by a rapid loss in weight. Symptoms in adults are similar.

Diabetes does require treatment. Unless treated, it may become progressively worse resulting in death from coma or complications. Some of the complications may be hardening of the arteries, eye disease, neuritis, skin diseases and gangrene.

Diabetes can be controlled by regulation of DIET, based on age, height and weight; proper use of INSULIN; adequate EXERCISE; and EDUCATION of the diabetic to recognize and meet emergencies in his own physical condition.

The discovery of insulin, first used in 1921, made control of the disease possible. The diabetes death rate in Michigan remains high because more and more people are living into the sixth decade in which the disease is most common.

Elaborate Christmas Party Is Planned For Children

Santa, With Silver Sleigh And Reindeer, Coming Saturday Evening

More than 1,000 children are expected to be on hand Saturday evening to greet Santa Claus when he arrives from the North Pole with his silver sleigh and reindeer.

"Santa has been here before, of course, but this is the first time that he has ever brought his eight reindeer and his sleigh, and I know dozens and dozens of youngsters who can hardly sleep at night until St. Nick makes his appearance," Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

Santa will be flown from the north by transport plane and will be met at the Airport here. He will arrive promptly at 8 p.m., Saturday evening, in the downtown section.

"This will be Tecumseh's most elaborate Christmas party," Mr. Harris said, "and we want every youngster to be on hand. Not only are Tecumseh children invited, we want the youngsters from the rural areas and neighboring towns. There will be a gift for each of them . . . right from Santa's hand."

The Santa party this year, as in the past, is being sponsored by the Rotary Club with the Chamber of Commerce, the Exchange Club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Community Chest cooperating.

"Santa plans to stay an hour or two in Tecumseh, Saturday evening, and then, over the week-end, he'll make calls elsewhere. Monday afternoon he will return, and he'll spend some time here each afternoon and evening before Christmas," Harris said.

"We also want parents who have children who are ill, and who will be unable to see Santa, to let us know and we will arrange to have him call at their home. He may not be able to go into the house, but he will at least wave to the kiddies through the window. A call to the Chamber offices, phone 259, will do the trick," Harris said.

Tecumseh will be in its finest holiday dress, Saturday evening, for the arrival of Santa Claus. Downtown streets are aglow with twinkling, multi-colored lights, hidden in Christmas trees that decorate each lamp post. Two 25-foot trees, also lighted, are at each end of the business district and there are hundreds of yards of festooning carefully arranged. The decorations this year were in charge of a Chamber committee headed by Leon Williamson. The Chamber received many compliments, many folk declaring that Tecumseh is the best decorated city in Southern Michigan.

Stores To Be Open Evenings Next Week

To accommodate Christmas Shoppers, stores in Tecumseh will remain open each evening next week until Christmas, it was announced today by Leon Mix, chairman of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Santa Claus also will be in Tecumseh next week, every afternoon and evening," Mr. Mix said, "and he will spend his time in the business district, visiting the several stores. Parents who desire the children to see Santa Claus before Christmas, and have a chat with him, should bring their youngsters to Tecumseh. Santa will be glad to visit with them, and to find out just what they want in the way of gifts."

Hudson Cagers Here, Friday

INDIANS HAVE TWO WINS TO THEIR CREDIT OVER MORENCI AND IDA

The Tecumseh Indians clipped the Morenci boys last Friday night in a cage match played here that turned out a 25-22 score. The previous week, Coach Duvall's cagers overran the Ida team by a score of 31-27 so the Indians got off to a roaring start this season. In both games one of the forwards, Doug McDowell was the high point man, racking up 14 points in the Ida match and 15 points in the Morenci scuffle.

The Friday game was a close one all the way through and at the end of the first quarter the score was 4-5 with Morenci out in front. However, the Indians were ahead at the half by a slight four points, 15-11. Morenci stepped up their speed in the third quarter and scored four points to Tecumseh's one, making the score 16-15 with the Indians lead getting slimmer and slimmer.

The fourth quarter was a wild scrambing meelee with the crowd roaring. The Morenci five, behind, desperately trying to get possession of the ball and score. They did score—seven points, but it wasn't good enough, Tecumseh scored nine.

The Tecumseh reserves won their contest preceding the game by a margin of eight points, the score being 23-15. Gerald Van Valkenburg and Tom Hamilton alone accounted for 16 of the 25 points, each having eight.

Next Friday night, December 17, the Indians meet with the Hudson cage boys here at Tecumseh for Hudson's third LCAA tilt of the season.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Leo Drake, Adrian Bakery truck driver, and Jerry Murphy, 206 East Pottawatamie street, were injured at 9 a.m., Wednesday in a collision at Pottawatamie and Maumee street. Both were taken to the Tecumseh hospital and it took six stitches to close the wound in Mr. Drake's head. Mr. Murphy suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Police said that the accident happened because of the rain, fog and steamed-up windows and windshields. Both the truck and Murphy's car were badly damaged.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Matthews

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Matthews received congratulations from over 150 friends and relatives, Sunday afternoon and evening, when they celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with "open house" at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Furgason.

Light refreshments were served from a lace-covered table which was centered with a two tiered wedding cake topped with a gold ornament, lighted tapers and containers of flowers. Mrs. Glenn Furgason presided at the urn. Assisting in the serving were Josephine Furgason, Madalyn Downing and Helen Furgason. Mrs. Wendell Woods was in charge of the guest book and pinned a little gold bell bearing the names LeRoy and Vivian 1898-1948, on each guest. Max Munger and Mrs. Edith VanValkenburg were the only guests present who attended the wedding 50 years ago.

Vivian Victoria Mellon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Mellon, and LeRoy Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Matthews, were united in marriage December 14, 1898, at the home of her parents, west of town, now known as the George McKendry farm. To this union was born three daughters, the late Gladys Kempf, Lila Furgason and Mary Furgason. They also have eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Guests at the celebration were present from Onsted, Adrian, Blissfield, Deerfield, Dundee, Britton, Macon, Clinton, Tipton and Tecumseh. The honored couple received many beautiful flowers, gifts and cards.

School Problems Are Topic Of Discussion

Problems that confront state and national educators, particularly the shortage of teachers were discussed by Roy Summerfield, assistant to the director of the placement bureau, University of Michigan, when he spoke to members of the Rotary Club, following dinner, Tuesday evening at Brees House.

Mr. Summerfield pointed out that there is now and will continue to be for several years a definite shortage in the number of qualified elementary teachers. Secondary (high school) teachers already are finding it difficult to obtain jobs, he said, and this condition will become more acute, he thought, for a few more years.

Due to the rapid upturn in the birth rate, an increase nationally of eight million students in elementary grades is expected within 10 years, necessitating rapid building expansion to house classes.

WIT, WISDOM CLUB HOLDS YULE PROGRAM

The Wit and Wisdom Club met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Beck with Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Loveland assisting. The Christmas program of music and stunts were arranged by Mrs. Ellsworth Collins. Carol singing by the group was followed by an appropriate reading by Mrs. Floyd Whelan. Gifts were exchanged. Refreshments in keeping with the holiday season included mince pie in the shape of Christmas trees and many seasonal cookies. The table was attractively decorated with greens and lighted tapers.

FOOTBALL DINNER

The annual father and son football dinner, sponsored by the Tecumseh Athletic Club, will be held at the Tecumseh Grange Hall, December 20.

Grange Officers Installed Here

MEMORIAL GIFT HONORING THE LATE HOWARD MATTHEWS ALSO RECEIVED

Mrs. Jessie Matthews presented the Tecumseh Grange with a beautiful new officers' regalia with altar and station cloths to match, last Thursday evening. The gift is a memorial to her husband, the late Howard Matthews, who was a faithful worker in the Grange for many years. He also organized the present degree team. Rev. B. O. Bashore gave the prayer of dedication.

The newly elected officers of the Grange were impressively installed by Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Stout and their assistants from Rome Grange. As a delegate from the first district, Mrs. Stout gave an excellent report of State Grange, held recently at Traverse City.

Grange visitors were present from Washtenaw and Monroe counties, also the State Ceres, Mrs. Anna Campbell of Ann Arbor. State Pomona, represented by Ruby Yeutter of Rome Grange and several other Granges of Lenawee county were represented.

It was voted to give $10 to the Tuberculosis Fund.

At the next regular meeting, each Grange family will place under the Christmas tree a sack of grain or money for the purchase of food to send to the needy children of Europe. Each member is to bring a 25-cent gift marked "man", "woman", "boy" or "girl" for the Christmas party, December 23.

On Sunday, December 12, about 150 county Grange members attended the Tecumseh Baptist church services. They later enjoyed a fellowship dinner at the Grange hall and visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matthews, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Last evening, December 15, the degree team conferred the third and fourth degrees on candidates at the Palmyra Grange.

ST. PETER'S GROUP CHOOSES OFFICERS

Some 20 members of the Daughters of St. Peter enjoyed a turkey dinner at the Youth Center, Tuesday evening. Gifts were exchanged and mystery sisters revealed. Mystery sisters for next year were also drawn. The group sang Christmas carols and the rest of the evening was spent socially. During the business meeting the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Rena Hubbard; first vice president, Mrs. May McCaughen; second vice president, Mrs. Ayesha Laidlaw; secretary, Mrs. Etta Rogers; treasurer, Mrs. Lillian Kemp; chaplain, Mrs. Elona Barber. The next meeting will be January 4 with Mrs. Rena Hubbard in Herrick Park.

$29.30 Tax Rate On Property Here

RATE IS $8.40 HIGHER, DUE TO SCHOOL COSTS AND INCREASED COUNTY TAX

Property owners in Tecumseh received their "Christmas letters" this week from Amey K. Scutt, township treasurer, notifying them that their winter taxes are now due and payable. The $29.30 rate per $1,000 assessed valuation this year will raise a total of $127,691.85, of which amount approximately 80 per cent or more than $99,000 goes to the public schools.

This year's tax rate is $8.40 per $1,000 valuation higher than it was in 1947 when the rate was $20.90. The 1948 rate was established on this basis:

Of every $29.30 paid by a property owner, $6.30 goes to the county and the balance of the money goes for school purposes as follows: $9 is for the operation of the schools; $8 goes to retire school bonds, voted by the electors in the summer of 1948 for the building of a new high school; $5 goes into a school sinking fund for building purposes, established by the electors in 1945; $1 goes for operating the public library This tax was approved by the voters in 1947.

It was pointed out that the only new tax on the treasurer's notice this year is the $8 per thousand needed to retire school bonds. The county tax is 1.3 mills higher this

Debate Teams Win Contests

FINAL SPEECH MATCHES WILL BE HELD JANUARY 7; LOCAL HONORS LIKELY

The Tecumseh high school affirmative and negative debate teams won last Friday afternoon, December 10, in their meeting with the teams from Onsted. The debates, held in the high school here, were the fifth and sixth in the regular series of eight, scheduled to determine which schools in the state of Michigan shall be eligible for the elimination series to begin on Friday, February 4, 1949. The Tecumseh high debaters have thus far won five of the six debates. The debates this year were with Litchfield (two debates here) on Monday, November 15, Dundee (two debates at Dundee) on Tuesday, November 30, and with Onsted last Friday.

As in previous years, the sponsoring organization, the Michigan High School Forensic Association, poses the topic for debate. This year's topic is of paramount importance and interest: "Resolved That the United Nations now be revised into a Federal World Government." The affirmative team of Tecumseh is composed of Tom Everlove, sophomore, and William Morris, junior; the negative team is composed of Gordon Comfort, senior, and David Green, junior. Miss Marilyn Lindsley and Miss Cynthia Spafford have been acting in the dual capacities of official timekeepers and program chairmen.

Mr. Green is debating for his third successive year and Mr. Morris for his second, while this is the first year of debating for Mr. Comfort and Mr. Everlove. Their considerable study of the debate topic together with quick and able reasoning has so far this year brought them the success which they deserve. Their final debates in this series will be held at the Lambertville-Bedford school around January 7, 1949.

Mrs. Henry Hamilton Tells Women Of Greece

Mrs. Henry Hamilton was the guest speaker at the Tecumseh Monday Club, which met this week with Miss Edith Ingersoll. Mrs. Hamilton answered many questions after her talk.

During the business meeting it was voted to give $5 to the Tuberculosis Fund, and it was announced the county Federation play would be held in March. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron played a piano version of several Christmas carols and accompanied Mrs. Earl Place, who sang a Dutch carol. Gifts were brought by the members for patients at the county infirmary.

Refreshments in keeping with the holiday season were served. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. John Snow and Mrs. B. B. TurnBull. Some 25 members were in attendance.

Members of the V. F. W. and the Ladies Auxiliary entertained their families, Tuesday evening, in the post rooms. A potluck supper was served to some eighty guests in the newly-furnished dining room. After the program of tap dancing and singing before the decorated Christmas tree in the meeting room, Santa Claus arrived with gifts of fruit, candy and nuts for everyone.

MEETING CANCELED

The December meeting of the Baptist Junior League, scheduled for next Tuesday, December 21, will not be held, due to the Christmas program at the church.

High School Band Is In Need Of Uniforms

The need for new uniforms for the Tecumseh high school band was discussed by several representatives of the Band Parents Club, at the regular dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Exchange Club, Monday evening, in the V. F. W. hall.

Mrs. Clark Goodacre, Earl Place, Clare Camburn and Mrs. Ralph McCarbery were the guest speakers. It was said that the old uniforms, in use for some ten years had been altered, patched and cleaned so often, it is necessary that they soon be replaced.

IT MEANS DICTATORSHIP

General Eisenhower, in his brilliant history of the war, "Crusade in Europe," describes a conversation he once had with a top Russian officer. He writes: "I tried to make him see the virtues of free enterprise. Firmly believing that without a system of free or competitive enterprise, individual political freedom cannot endure, I showed him that, as far as I was concerned, complete state ownership necessarily would involve complete dictatorship, and that the effort to escape all dictatorial rule was the reason for America's founding and growth."

The General was unable to convince his Russian counterpart, who seemed thoroughly sold on government by dictation and had only contempt for free institutions. But what he said should be kept everlastingly in mind in this country, particularly at a time when forces which favor regimentation of industry and the individual, and virtually unlimited extension of the powers of the government, are using every conceivable technique to gain their ends. If anything on earth is true, it is that private ownership of property and private enterprise are the rock on which representative government of the people is based. Neither could long exist if the other were destroyed.

Throughout his book, General Eisenhower speaks of certain almost unique qualities which the American soldier possessed. These were the qualities of self-reliance, of the ability to improvise under difficulties, of individual initiative, of the talent for making the most of what they had to work and fight with. Those qualities were brought to the Army from civilian life, and they are typical of the American character. They—more than any material possession—have been responsible for building this nation in time of peace, and protecting it in time of war.

It is not by chance that we have become the leader of the free nations of the world. It is the result of a philosophy of government which encouraged individual initiative.

When we surrender our individual property rights and opportunities to government, we follow in the wake of other peoples who have lost their freedom to dictators.

FRENCH-SWISS BORDER AT LAST SET STRAIGHT

GENEVA—The lost border between France and Switzerland has been found and marked.

Some farmers who thought they were Swiss are paying French taxes now, and some who thought they were French now find their farms are in Switzerland.

The correction was made after more than 100 years of uncertainty along the Jura mountain frontier of western Switzerland. It involved a stretch of about 15 miles.

The frontier was fixed in 1824, but the Duke of Neuenberg on the Swiss side and his Imperial French colleagues neglected to mark it for posterity.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Missus "Ducks" Out

Slim Hartman took his missus duck hunting the other day. And after five hours of sitting in a swamp, she'd had enough! Going home, Slim reminded her good-naturedly of the time she'd taken him to a woman novelist's lecture, and insisted that he sit it out.

So now the missus and Slim have an understanding. No more duck hunting for her—no more lectures for him. They decided each to his own taste.

It's because they can agree to disagree like that, I think, that Slim and the missus get on so well—content to stay home nights together, enjoying one another's company over a glass of beer and a game of chess.

From where I sit, we can't all enjoy the same things—but we can share those little pleasures that we do enjoy—a glass of beer, a game of chess, some music on the radio—and live-and-let-live when it comes to the others.

'NEITHER SNOW NOR RAIN' . . . Here is the high point of the race to determine the champion letter carrier of the United States, held as a feature of the convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers in Miami. Instead of letters the postmen carried bags of coconuts. They ran to a line on which was an array of king-size mail boxes, complete with a bathing beauty on top of each one. There they transferred the coconuts from their bags to the mailboxes and hofooted it back to the starting point. Earl M. Logan of Staunton, Va., won the championship on this postman's holiday year than it was a year ago due, it was said, to increased welfare costs and increased costs in the County Health Unit. Also, added funds were needed by the county to furnish money for the building of a new detention home for delinquent children.

"Actually," LeRoy Titley, township supervisor, said, "of the $127,691.85 collected locally for taxes, only $29,323.35 goes outside of Tecumseh and that is for county taxes of which a large portion is returned in benefits. The remaining amount of the taxes paid in the township stay here for school and library purposes."

Mr. Titley pointed out that the $29.30 rate applies only in School District No. 7 in Tecumseh. There are seven other districts in the townships and in each of them the rate varies. Also, he said, in the Small Farms Subdivision Area, south of Quaker Oats, there is a special sidewalk assessment totaling $1,520.88.

There is, however, one mistake in the tax assessment. Due to an error in printing the collection fee was noted as two per cent. It should be one per cent and the correction will be made by the treasurer at the time of payment.

Answer to Editor's Note: On Tecumseh's "Rest-room."

Yes, I fully agree with you about the "ladies rest room" in the Council Building, and it is a headache when it can't be kept in order and sanitary.

It isn't necessary for any lady or child to enter one of these places and be so unreasonable and not do her part to help keep such rooms clean. At least a woman with any pride at all and one who keeps her own home tidy and spick and span, could bear in mind that a "ladies rest-room" calls for the same thoughtfulness, pride, cleanliness, as does her own home.

You are very right when you say others have to suffer because or through careless, uncalled for acts of a few others.

I say, any person who will go into a "rest-room" and see how much filth and dirt they can make, just because it isn't their own property, they should be ashamed to even open the door to enter one of these places. When these same people go to Detroit, Toledo or elsewhere, they can be careful. Well, then—they should practice the same thing in their own home town and co-operate with the town's officials so that we, too, can own a decent and clean sanitary "Rest-room" as well as our larger cities.

I am a woman and I never in my life have "dirtied up" a rest-room any place, and don't think it any credit to any woman or girl to do so. If they have to smoke a cigarette, then take care of the remainder when finished, don't throw them all over the floor, don't throw papers all over the floor. You would not do these very things in your "toilet" at home, would you?

Thanks, Mr. Editor, for your note and thanks for giving room in your paper for my copy on the "Rest-room" subject and I sure hope the day isn't too far off when we can have a nice, clean "rest-room," and not a filthy old hole. Come ladies and girls and let's all join hands and circle to the right, right into helping our young city to own A NICE REST-ROOM.

JACOB'S SONS MURDER TO REVENGE SISTER

In the year 1732 B. C., Jacob returned to Canaan, and had settled down near Shalem, where he bought a parcel of land. The Bible tells us he paid a hundred pieces of money for the field.

When his family had settled down, his daughter, Dinah went into Shalem to see the other women of that place. While in the city, she was seen by a young man named Schechem, who happened to be the Prince's son. It was a case of love at first sight, but the lovers went too far and Dinah was defiled.

Jacob's sons when they came in from the field, were very angry at Schechem's misdeeds.

Hamor made an honest proposal for Schechem, and offered Jacob and his family complete acceptance by the people of Shalem. Schechem too, added his pleas for the woman he loved, saying, "Yet me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me I shall give."

The sons of Jacob, still seeking revenge on Schechem, answered their father when he asked their counsel. They refused to let their sister marry a man who had not undergone the rite of circumcision.

Hamor and Schechem were delighted to agree to this condition, and they also agreed to have every male in the village undergo the same rite.

On the third day after the men of Shalem had been circumcised and while they were weak from it, Jacob's sons took their swords and killed every man in the village, including Hamor and Schechem. They completely stripped the city in revenge for their sister, even taking the women and children captive. When Jacob heard of this, he knew he had to flee Canaan, before the other inhabitants of that land revenged themselves on him.

Miss Jacolyn Gillespie Weds Geo. D. VanCamp

Before a background of palms, baskets of white mums and burning tapers in candelabra, Miss Jacolyn Peace Gillespie, and George D. VanCamp, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. VanCamp, all of Tecumseh, were united in marriage, Thursday evening, in the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson performed the double ring service at 8 o'clock.

As the guests were being seated by Harold Easton and Glenn Van Camp of Grand Ledge, Mrs. Kenton Hunt played a program of organ music. Donald VanCamp assisted his brother as best man.

A gown of ivory slipper satin was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The bodice of the gown featured a yoke of silk net and the bustle in the back of the skirt ended in a train. A cap of orange blossoms held the bride's fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible with an orchid and gardenias.

Mrs. Clara Easton, sister of the bride, and matron of honor, Miss Shirlie Moore and Miss Jo Ann Johnston, bridesmaids, were gowned in peacock blue, yellow and dusty rose taffeta, respectively. Each carried a matching muff of satin centered with flowers, and wore a headdress of feathers. Marilyn VanCamp, sister of the groom, carried the rings on a rose-shaped pillow with lace petals. Little Linda Kay Easton, niece of the bride, was flower girl and also carried a muff with flowers. Both girls were dressed in white floor length gowns.

After the ceremony, some 100 guests enjoyed a reception in the church parlor. Mrs. Edna Helzerman was in charge of refreshments and was assisted in serving by Barbara Schoeck, Jane Hanna, Pat Hammack and Louise Vanderpool. Barbara Truesdale and Barbara Perrin presided at the urns. The four-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and the traditional miniature bride and groom, centered the table which was decorated with yellow and white flowers.

When the couple left on their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a green suit with gray accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The bride attended Tecumseh high school and is employed at Wright's Drug Store. The groom graduated from Grand Ledge high school in 1946 and at present is serving with the U. S. Navy, being stationed at Norfolk, Va.

F. F. A Notes

The Tecumseh F. F. A. sent three boys to the Livestock International Show in Chicago recently. The boys left Friday morning and came back Sunday afternoon. They were Jim Dick, James Winezeler and Jerry Eaton. Mr. Locke, the local agriculture teacher, and Dick Galloway went along as chaperones. The boys are slated to give a report on December 31st when the chapter will hold its annual Christmas party. On this night there will also be a basketball game between the Hudson and Tecumseh chapters.

The pig project is well under way. The pigs have been moved to the Charles Gorton farm. The group on Hayden's Hog Balancer are just a few pounds ahead of the group on Distillers Solubles. The chapter visited the Hayden Flour Mill one day last week and were taken through the wheat milling plant as well as the feed plant.

Will rising hospital costs hit YOU this coming year?

Chances are 1 in 4 you or a member of your family will have to go to a hospital within the next twelve months

TO GO TO THE HOSPITAL today costs far more than it used to—98% more in some cases since 1941. 1,500,000 persons in Michigan are now protected by the Blue Cross Plans so that they will not be faced with staggering hospital and surgical bills in an emergency with no funds to pay them. Blue Cross provides the greatest possible benefits at the lowest cost because it is a non-profit organization operated by Michigan's hospitals and doctors themselves.

No other health-care plans offer so much for so little

For only pennies a day, you and your entire family can be protected now and whenever sickness might strike in the future.

BLUE CROSS Hospital Plan Pays up to 120 full days of hospital care per disability for Ward or Semi-Private accommodations. Eliminates admittance red tape—no forms or claims to fill out—no cash deposits. NO CASH LIMIT for maternity care (after nine consecutive months of membership) and such extra services as general nursing . . . meals and special diets . . . operating room . . . drugs, dressings . . . anesthesia . . . laboratory . . . and many more items—when a bed patient in any one of the 160 participating hospitals in Michigan which operate the Blue Cross Plan. Liberal allowance toward your hospital bill in non-participating hospitals.

BLUE CROSS Surgical Plan Pays stated amounts for over 370 surgical procedures . . . maternity care (after nine consecutive months of enrollment) . . . up to $15 per year for diagnostic X-rays . . . emergency operations.

BLUE CROSS Medical-Surgical Plan Pays (in addition to surgical benefits) stated amounts for doctor's bills when hospitalized for reasons not requiring surgery.

Talk over with your employer how your company can provide this protection for you

GOOD CARS
WE HAVE THEM

1935 OLDS—
She's got what it takes to get you there and back with no breakdown. Price is low enough for all. Will even help you finance it.

1936 FORD TUDOR—

STAR BOARDER—
Frankly we are stymied. What can we do with this thing? It's too big to fit under a Christmas tree but it's big enough to haul them. People drop in, make an offer, then back out on the deal. We know this Buick is a ten-year-old, but she is a real work horse. Of course it's a little lame and needs shoes pretty bad, and is subject to an occasional attack of stubborness. Now, folks, please make us an offer. If none of you want it, drop us a card suggesting what to do with it.

1941 HUDSON—
Last week we ignored this one, and so did you. Now it's gone. A fine car. Clean, warm, dreamy music. Tell me, at this low price what more could you ask. One owner, 46,000 actual miles.

1941 FORD—
It's good and if you are waiting for the price to drop you're wasting your time. Prices are at the low for this year, so why don't you drop in and buy a good one for the low buck. $875.

HERE ARE SOME EXTRA GOOD VALUES

3 CHEVROLETS—

1947 FLEETLINE TUDOR—
A slicker.

1946 FLEETMASTER FOURDOOR
We will give you an extra good buy on this.

Listeners Hit At Soap Operas

MURDER AND MORALS PLAYS UNDER FIRE BY CALIFORNIA GROUP

SAN FRANCISCO—Now Radio Listeners of Northern California has leveled its guns at soap operas.

First it was radio shows for children. This young organization developed quickly from a move on the part of numerous groups interested in getting better radio entertainment for youth.

In September the group got organized permanently, with Mrs. Walter C. Feil, past president of the San Francisco branch of the American Association of University Women, as president. PTA's, juvenile court officials, women's clubs, and church groups, participated in its formation.

Soap operas rate the top place on its agenda for the time being. But quiz shows, newscasts, round tables, and so on, are on the list for scrutiny.

What Radio Listeners of Northern California is out to do primarily, is to find out exactly what radio is giving people in these parts. It seeks comprehensive information on this point. It wants a basis for determining what radio is failing to give.

New as it is, its program is attracting attention. Wire services have picked up stories about it. "Variety" and "Radio Daily" have carried articles. Mrs. Ernest Lenn, publicity chairman, says she has been "swamped" with inquiries from the radio trade journals.

How fast it can influence broadcasters, Radio Listeners is not sure. But it knows of one case where a San Francisco station completely reorganized a children's program one week after the group wrote a letter. It knows of other changes.

"We count largely on aroused public opinion," says Mrs. Lenn, "and on the hope that news of what we are doing will stimulate citizens in other communities to form critical groups similar to ours."

When the organization's Soap Opera Committee got under way, it found that one San Francisco station was broadcasting 18 soap operas a day. An average of only 7 per cent of the listening audience, the committee says, listens to this type of show.

It's a kind of show, the committee says, that specializes in morbidity. Themes listed from surveying soap operas in this area included murder, insanity, medical operations, jealousy, broken hearts, indifferent husbands, mother-in-law trouble.

Why, asks the committee, is a meager 7 per cent of the listeners allowed to monopolize the airways: Because, it concludes, it happens to be the 7 per cent that buys the advertised product.

But, insists the committee, this does not excuse a station for broadcasting 18 soap operas a day.

RIVAL PARTY CHAIRMEN DISAGREE ON MEANING OF NOVEMBER 2 VOTE

WASHINGTON — The national chairmen of America's two big political parties are still in disagreement. Before the election they disagreed on who would win. After the election they disagree on what it all meant.

Hugh Scott, Jr., chairman of the Republican National Committee, has addressed a 1,200-word statement to the 22,000 official party leaders throughout the country. Mr. Scott announces the intention to "start right now" to "audit and police the Truman New Deal."

Senator J. Howard McGrath (D) of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, issues a 100-word reply saying that the election means no such thing.

"Mr. Scott," observes Senator McGrath sarcastically, "apparently has not read about the election, or, if he has, prefers not to believe it."

Mr. Scott announces that the Republicans will endeavor, through Congress, to block the return of price controls, which he terms "police state machinery," and to block increases of individual income taxes, construed as "a prelude to further wasteful expenditures of public money."

"In these and other instances of opposition to the indicated policies of the administration," declares Mr. Scott, "we shall be simply keeping faith with ourselves and with the nearly 22,000,000 voters who supported the Republican ticket on November 2.

"We have declared our conviction that certain things are wrong, and they are just as wrong after an election as they were before."

Mr. Scott, on his part, with a somber satisfaction, announced that, he and his congressional leaders plan to remind President Truman at appropriate intervals "of each and every one of your campaign pledges," including in particular the promise to cut living costs, hold farm prices up, repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, bring low-cost federal housing, and fix store price controls and rationing. Mr. Scott feels it is next to impossible to carry through all these pledges.

"When you come to think of it, Mr. President," Mr. Scott wrote, "you have taken on a load that would make a magician shudder."

"We will remind you (President Truman) that you have pledged total repeal of the Labor-Management Law of 1947, which you do not dare carry out because to do so will deprive the laboring man of many valuable rights which he would sorely miss as soon as you took them away from him."

He charged Democratic leaders already were qualifying this pledge.

Mr. Scott did not deal in detail with the November defeat, but mentioned some reasons as he saw them. By noting "mistakes," he said, the Republican Party might "benefit in the future."

GRANDAD OF OYSTERS WEIGHT 2¼ POUNDS

Ten inches long, the oyster was encased in a shell four inches high and five inches across at the lip. An average oyster is three inches long, weighs a few ounces, and is 1½ inches high.

A bivalve expert said ridges on the shell indicated the giant was 15 years old.

Cost Of Old Age Benefits On Gain

EXPANDED PROGRAM OF INSURANCE IS URGED AS POSSIBLE REMEDY

The cost of old-age assistance has increased from $155,000,000 paid by federal and state governments in 1936 to $1,100,000,000 in 1948, a trend entirely contrary to the intent of the original Social Security Act, states John J. Corson of the Washington Post in the feature article of the new issue of Amerlan Economic Security, the social security magazine of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The original blueprint in social security, writes Mr. Corson, formerly director of the Federal Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance was the 1935 report of the Committee on Economic Security.

This document, he states, envisaged a rapid expansion for the federal old-age insurance system with this contributory program coming to eliminate the need for costly assistance for the aged. But, he continues:

"The federal Congress and the state legislature have proven unable to resist the political siren songs which demand larger appropriations for the needy aged. The formula for federal old-age assistance grants has been increased three times since 1939. Meanwhile, every proposal for comparable liberalizations in old-age and survivors insurance has been rejected.

"Together these facts are profoundly disturbing. Serious, unbiased students increasigly wonder whether old-age insurance is not being worsted in what amounts to a competitive struggle. They forsee the ultimate liquidaton of old-age insurance as a distinct possibility."

The indicated solution, says Mr. Corson, is legislation improving the federal insurance program while simultaneously beginning a gradual withdrawal of federal funds from old-age assistance.

One concrete suggestion the author mentions "would be to add a proviso to the federal old-age assistance law whereby the federal funds otherwise to be granted would be reduced by, say, 5 per cent in the first year following the amendment and by an additional 5 per cent in each succeeding year. In this illustration the federal government would be entirely out of old-age assistance financing in 20 years, with the states assuming full responsibility thereafter; meanwhile, of course, the federal government would do its part by expanding and liberalising old-age insurance."

"Businessmen in particular," he adds, "should come to recognize that their opposition to increased pay-roll taxes for old-age insurance is penny-wise economy if the Congress simultaneously raises the annual appropriation for old-age assistance by $250,000,000, as in 1947."

"Government, both federal and state," concludes Mr. Corson, "is in the business of providing security for the aged for keeps. The annual cost is large and grows larger each year as more of our people become aged. Every citizen has a direct interest in seeing to it that these provisions make for real security for the aged. And every taxpayer, recognizing the present annual cost of old-age security, must be concerned that orderly and financially sound methods are employed in providing this security. It's high time we dusted off our original plans and then made them work."

R. L. Hibbard of the Wisconsin Unemployment Compensation Department, in another issue of American Economic Security, discusses methods of "Coordinating Unemployment Taxes With the Business Cycle."

"DON'T LET DEATH TAKE YOUR HOLIDAY"

Don't Let Your Christmas Tree Cause A Fire

With hundreds of Christmas trees beginning to make their appearance in Tecumseh homes, business places, churches, and schools, urgent warnings are being given that these traditional emblems must be properly handled and cared for in order to protect life and property. The Fire Prevention and Safety Committees of the Chamber of Commerce join in urging everyone to follow these simple precautions:

When setting up the tree, cut off the base diagonally and cover it with water. Replenish the water frequently if the absorption is effective. Increase the humidity of the room. Keep the tree indoors for as short a time as possible.

Place the tree away from fireplaces, powerful electric lights, radiators, or other sources of heat. Don't use candles. Keep tinsel and other metallic decorations away from light sockets. Keep flamable Christmas wrappings away from trees, and use decorations that are nonflammable and noncombustible.

Before hanging light strings on the tree, check the wiring and sockets thoroughly. Turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room. If too many light circuits in one outlet blow out a fuse, replace the fuse and use more outlets.

In all places of public assembly, place trees away from exits and have them watched by competent persons equipped with buckets of water or extinguishers, in homes a pail of water should always be kept handy.

The Chamber's committees repeat the famous slogan from the National Safety Council: "Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday."

Free Yule Tree Pick-up Is Offered By Village

Kenneth Dawson, village engineer, announced today that the village [illegible] make a special collection to remove the fire menace of old Christmas trees. Tecumseh residents who wish their trees disposed of, are requested to have them at the curb by the morning of Wednesday, January 5 and trucks will carry them away.

This is not to be confused with the regular garbage and rubbish collection, Mr. Dawson pointed out. Different trucks and a different schedule will be required. Those trees which are not ready for the special pick-up will need to be disposed of by the owners.

Thousands See Santa Claus And His Eight Reindeer

Photo above shows a few of the thousands of grown-ups and kiddies who were in Tecumseh on Saturday night for the coming of Santa Claus. The good old Saint of the Christmas season arrived in his silver sleigh, driving his eight reindeer. It was by far the most elaborate Yule party ever staged here. It was under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club with the Exchange Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Community Chest, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Village Council cooperating. Hundreds and hundreds of sacks of candy, cracker-jack, gum and oranges were given out by Santa as the youngsters told him just what they wanted for Christmas.

Gifts flowed like water in Tecumseh last Saturday evening—there were oranges, candy, cracker-jack and chewing gum—when Santa Claus, driving his "eight tiny reindeer," arrived for the Rotary Club's annual pre-Christmas party for the children of this village and the trading area. A crowd, estimated at between 4,000 and 5,000, of which number more than one-third were children, was on hand to greet St. Nicholas.

Dressed in a fire-red suit, trimmed in grey fur, with black leather boots and belt, Santa came to Tecumseh in a silver sleigh to which was attached his reindeer. Because the snow fall came 24 hours late, the deer and sleigh were mounted on a truck and trailer, furnished by the Hoyt E. Whelan Co., and especially designed for the purpose by Fay Whelan and Earl Bryan. Santa came to Tecumseh by plane, and was met at the airport by the local committee.

"I have been told that it was by far the most elaborate pre-Christmas party to be staged by any community in the state, aside from some of the metropolitan areas," Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said. "The Rotary Club and others who assisted in making this affair possible are to be congratulated for their efforts."

It took Santa nearly two hours to pass out the gifts that he brought for the children who met him. Tiny tots—and some even larger—insisted upon shaking his hand and telling him in person just what was wanted under the Yule tree.

"I want to say," Santa told The Herald, "that Tecumseh has a fine lot of boys and girls and I'm going to remember them on Christmas. I will be in Tecumseh with my reindeer each afternoon and evening this week until and including Christmas Eve, and I'd like to personally meet as many boys and girls as I can. They'll find me on the streets or in the stores," he said.

Santa also emphasized that in the event there is sickness in any Tecumseh home, and a tiny tot is unable to come downtown to see him, a call should be made to the Chamber of Commerce and arrangements will be made to have Santa call, or at least wave to the youngster through the window.

Tecumseh was in its finest holiday dress for the pre-Christmas party. Thousands of multi-colored lights winked out from Yule trees that decorate the downtown lamp posts, and two 25-foot trees at each end of the shopping district on Chicago boulevard also are aglow with lights.

"The Chamber of Commerce has received many messages of congratulation on the excellent appearance of the town at this Christmas

Goodfellows To Bring Christmas Cheer To Needy

TECUMSEH CLUB GROUP ORGANIZES TO ASSURE GIFTS FOR THE LESS-FORTUNATE

Determined that not a single Tecumseh youngster — or oldster, either, for that matter — is passed by by Santa Claus this Christmas, members of The Tecumseh Club have banded together as "The Tecumseh Club Goodfellows," their sole purpose being the distribution of gifts, food and clothing to those less fortunate at the Holiday Season.

"To date, we have found about 50 youngsters who, had it not been for our group, might have had a rather slim Christmas," Wade L. Jones, president of the Club, said today. "For these youngsters there will be toys — guns and games for the boys, dolls for the girls and other presents, and, where clothing is needed, it will be furnished, too. Already, some kiddies have been outfitted from tip to toe, and there is still more to be done."

Mr. Jones said that the expense of the toys and other gifts is being borne by the members of the club. Sharing in the cost of the project is the Community Chest and the Child Study Club.

"We have received many of the needy names from the school teachers, and we are grateful to them for their cooperation. We have contacted other groups that should have such information, and we trust that no one will be passed by who is worthy of our service. There still is time to care for others, and persons with knowledge of folk in need should contact us at once," Jones said.

Jones declared that an effort is being made to make the Goodfellows organization a permanent one and permit all other groups in Tecumseh to clear through it at Christmas time. In that way, he said, duplications will be avoided.

"To date," Jones said, "we have found but little actual need for food. However, it is possible that such a need does exist and if it does, we would appreciate being told where it is needed. Such cases will be investigated and if found deserving food will be sent."

PRICE CONTROL?

Those who think that the last election was a practically unqualified victory for partisans of price control, do not seem to be supported by the available facts. For example, the Associated Press polled the members of the new Congress in an effort to learn their positions on a number of highly important and controversial matters. When it came to price control, 200 members took a definite stand in answering this question: "Do you favor giving the President power to fix price controls and allocations?" Ninety-seven said yes — while 103, including a considerable number of Democrats, said no.

This certainly does not mean that a majority of Congressmen are not interested in the complex control of inflation. But it does mean that there is a widespread realization of the fact that price control would create worse problems than the one it is supposed to correct. It is a perfect example of dealing with symptoms of a bad condition instead of with the cause of that condition. How, in the face of unbridled government spending, record income, record employment, exhorbitant taxes, ever-soaring wages, and all the other inflationary forces, can anyone expect to successfully force prices down by fiat and still keep the production machine going.

One particularly good illustration of the hopelessness of effective price control is retail trade. Typical stores, including both chains, and independents, which deal in such staples as food, earn a net profit of only one or two cents out of each dollar spent with them. Stores dealing in other kinds of goods earn five to seven cents. Increasing competition is forcing a shading of even these small profit margins. In other words, room just doesn't exist to make anything resembling a noticeable cut in prices. Most manufacturers are in a similar position. So it's no wonder that enthusiasm in Congress for price control seems to be far more universal.

LANSING—Elimination of 37 of the state's 99 agencies is now recommended by a special legislative study committee.

The December report heralds renewal of the debate whether the State of Michigan must impose new or higher taxes in order to divert a threatened treasury deficit. Such a deficit has been long forecast by State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and more recently by Controller John Perkins, if Michigan is to continue to divert 76 per cent of its sales tax "golden egg" back to home governments.

Michigan, voters rejected overwhelmingly on November 2 legislative recommendation that this constitutional earmarking should be repealed. The verdict is decisive.

It is significant that the legislative committee, in looking into possible reorganization of state government, emphasized the mounting cost of public services. Where total disbursements for state and local governments, as financed from the state treasury, were a mere piddling $23 million back in 1918 (those were the days of "normalcy"), the taxpayers' bill has now soared (1948) to the astronomical height of $471 millions. And that, ladies and gentlemen, is pretty close to a cool half-billion dollars!

By inference at least, the legislative committee lends moral support to the belief among taxpayers that State government has become top-heavy with bureaus and that some of the state funds had better be diverted back home for more useful needs. This attitude assumes that elimination of agencies at Lansing will automatically save millions of dollars, money which could be spent at home to better advantage or else used to balance the state treasury.

This breakdown of direct tax responsibility, whereby local communities look to Lansing or Washington for financial salvation, has been long decried by thoughtful students. Too often citizens who thump loudly for economy at Lansing are first to support a move to get more "state money" for use in their home communities.

In the meanwhile, postwar inflation has boosted the cost of all public services to a point where present revenues are reaching the vanishing point. The question thus becomes this: Shall we do away with some of our present services, state-and-locally-financed? Or shall we pay new or higher taxes in order to get the benefits we continue to demand? Whether the money comes from Lansing or Washington, the taxpayer must foot the bill. He is merely kidding himself to think that money from these sources costs him nothing.

Science Whips Farm Problems

"MODERN" AGRICULTURE IS BELIEVED THE ANSWER TO AGE-OLD PROBLEMS

MOSES LAKE, WASH.—United States Reclamation Bureau farm experts are carrying out a program to clear the way for prospective farmers in the Columbia Basin Project area.

It involves "development farms," each one designed to afford growers and observers an opportunity to find answers for the region's chief growing problems.

The first was established in 1947, two miles east of here, on 80 acres of Class 2 soil of the sandy loam type. It is irrigated by well water.

The second farm, 15 miles northwest of Pasco, was started this year. It covers 45 acres, and like the Moses Lake farm, will follow traditional or furrow methods of irrigation, in contrast with sprinkler irrigation to be tested at a third farm near Winchester.

In general, the plan is that the Reclamation Bureau develops and operates the farms, furnishing water and equipment. The Washington State Experiment Station and the Bureau of Plant Industry will carry out research programs, testing the water and fertilizer requirements of crops.

These development farms are let out to farmers on a cash lease and percentage income basis. The cooperating agencies supervise and control a portion of each farm, which is set apart for experimenting with crops new to the region and for other research projects.

WOMEN VOTERS PLAN LESSONS ON SPENDING

NEW YORK—The league of Women Voters is going to try to teach 83,000 members in three states what government budgets mean to the housewife.

The league decided to set up a two-year course in individual communities to study government spending, taxation, fiscal policies and other subjects.

Home Is Called "Lab" Of Christian Living

CINCINNATI—A New York University professor of education declared here the home and not the church, school, or Sunday school is the most effective laboratory for the development of Christian living.

Dr. Samuel L. Hamilton, in a speech prepared for delivery at the National Conference on Church and Home, likened the church and the home, however, to Siamese twins—if they are separated both may succumb.

"The church cannot function unless she employs the home as her main reliance to nurture Christian living," he said "The family cannot be a Christian family or a happy family unless it shares those spiritual influences of which the church is the great custodian."

Dr. Hamilton described the traditional concept of the Christian home as a place where "grandmother gets the warm spot by the fire or mother is 'hushing' the baby to sleep" and he urged church leaders to take a "more realistic view" of the home as a character-building institution."

GUARD AGAINST ACCIDENTS AT HOLIDAY TIME

"A careful Christmas is a cheerful Christmas," the Michigan Department of Health counselled today.

"Don't let accident, sickness or death take your holiday," the Department warned in its annual reminder of pre-holiday and holiday hazards in the December issue of Michigan Public Health, now being distributed.

One tenth of all accidental deaths in the state in 1947 occurred during December. Of the 322 December fatalities due to accident, 102 occurred in the home while traffic took the lives of 137. Falls, burns and poison gas were other major causes of accidental death.

Falls Take Many Lives

Falls took the lives of 86 persons during the month, with 42 persons dying from falls in their own homes, and 44 from falls in building and public places.

People fall when they climb, when they miss a step going down stairs, when they stumble over something, or when they slip on something in their path. Use a sturdy stepladder when you are decorating your Christmas tree. Move it around the tree. Remove those skating rugs from above and below the staircase. Don't leave toys, packages or wrappings on the staircase, and don't carry huge armfuls of bundles down the stairs. Be sure your outdoor steps are sanded, and remind all members of the family of furniture moves made to accommodate the Christmas tree.

Guard Tree Lights

Home fires, burns and explosions took 31 lives last December. Guard against over-heated furnaces and stoves, and put out all open fires, candles and lights when leaving the house, (even for a few minutes) and when going to bed. This includes Christmas tree lights. If your tree lights flicker, turn them out until they are checked. Santa Claus can find a totally dark home, but he might miss a burned one.

Use a strong standard for your Christmas tree so it will not fall, and place it far from fireplace or candles. Don't hang stockings by a lighted fireplace, nor place candles near curtains. Check your tree lighting circuit for shorts, and be sure that neither tinsel nor metal icicles touch it. Put discarded wrapping paper into metal containers, and dispose of it at once. It is highly inflammable. Keep lights and breakable decorations out of the reach of the small child.

Quit Shopping When Tired

Quit shopping when you are tired or irritated. It is the weary, preoccupied person or the one who just had a couple of cocktails to freshen up, to whom an accident occurs. Automobiles killed 58 pedestrians during December last year, in addition to the 44 persons who were killed in falls in buildings, or in public places. Don't load yourself to the eyebrows and then walk down store steps, on icy streets, or through traffic. One third of fatal pedestrian accidents occur between intersections. Cross only at intersections and then with the light. Do not walk from in front of, or behind a bus or streetcar without first taking time to be sure it is safe. Plan a brief special shopping session with the children.

Watch Out For Others

Give the other fellow your right of way when downtown shopping or driving in holiday traffic. More than 137 persons were killed in automobile accidents last December. Drive slow and allow plenty of time to stop on slippery pavements. Be sure your car is in good condition, with brakes equalized and all lights working. Slow down well in advance of intersections and curves, and be especially careful at dusk. Poor traction and poor visibility are the biggest hazards of winter driving. Be prepared for adequate defrosting of windows, front and rear, and use chains when they are needed.

Do not drive when you have been drinking, and do not ride with a driver who has been drinking.

Crowds Carry Colds

It's healthful and safe to do your Christmas shopping early. Getting overheated in stores, getting chilled out of doors, getting your feet and head wet, and running through crowds all help a cold to get a start. It is better to make several short shopping trips than one long one. When shopping wear comfortable sensible shoes and boots, do not overdo, keep your patience, and don't get overexcited.

Buy Safe Toys

And then, buy safe toys. Don't buy babies' toys which can be swallowed either wholly or in part, or toys which will break or splinter. Be sure that the toy's paint is non-poisonous. Don't buy toys which use sparks or flames, or toys with sharp points. Buy a toy chest to go with the toys. Teach the child how to use his new motor-scooter, bicycle, tricycle, wagon, skis or skates, bows and arrows, electric train, gun or sword, and teach him the dangers of each.

Use a little care to keep your Christmas cheerful, this year and always, the Department advised.

S. S CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Victory Sunday school class of the Ridgeway Nazarene church was entertained at the home of its teacher, Nellie Grimsley Saturday night, with a Christmas party. Games and refreshments were enjoyed and an offering taken for the promotion of the church. Mrs. Grimsley was presented with a gift from the group.

The Tecumseh Music Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gallant Tuesday evening, December 28. Members are to bring a $1 gift for exchange. Roll call will be answered by the first line of a favorite Isaac Watt hymn.

Christmas Eve

Hart and Miss Marjorie Mohr are the directors of the choirs and Mrs. F. C. Dickinson is organist.

Monday evening the church school of the Presbyterian church presented its annual Christmas program and party. After a program of songs and recitations by the primary department and a tableau by the junior department, Santa Claus came and distributed the gifts.

The children of St. Peter's Sunday school presented their Christmas program during the time of the morning service, Sunday. The Christmas story was dramatized by the Junior department children and a short play was presented by the Senior department. The Nursery and Junior departments enjoyed a Christmas party at the Youth Center Tuesday afternoon, and in the evening a party was held for the Intermediate and Senior departments.

Monday evening the Methodist church school children and their parents were shown a special film of the Christmas story by David Dick. Following carol singing and entertainment, Santa Claus arrived with gifts for all.

The primary and junior departments of the Baptist church presented their programs Tuesday evening following a family night supper in the dining room. Gifts were distributed to the children after a program of recitations, singing and playlets.

B. & P. W. Club Enjoys A Yuletide Program

Some 33 members and guests of the Tecumseh Business and Professional Woman's Club met at the Baptist church, Monday evening, for dinner. The yuletide program was announced by Mrs. Naomi Sallows and Mrs. Lulu Waldron. The Girls Chorus of the Friends church, directed by Mrs. Amos Wilson, sang "Christmas Story" and "O Holy Child." Four girls of the chorus played an instrumental number, "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear."

Mrs. Lulu Waldron had arranged a stage at one end of the room to resemble a picture frame, and from this several persons posed for Madonna pictures. As Mrs. Murray Day sang "God's Perfect Gift", Marie Frauchi as the angel Gabriel, and Alice Seeger as the Virgin Mary, posed for "The Annunciation." Mrs. Bette Williamson and her little son, Bobbie, posed for "Dulci Madonna" as Mrs. J. M. Mulvaney sang "Jesu Bambino." Mrs. Williamson and Bobbie presented the picture, "Sisty Madonna" as "Ave Maria" was sung by Mrs. R. S. Moore. "Madonna of the Chair" was portrayed by Mrs. Perry Hayden and son Johnnie and Donna Nixon as Mrs. Amos Wilson sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." As the club sang "Joy To The World," Mrs. Murray Day posed with Johnny Hayden, Donna Nixon and Bobby Williamson for Rafael's "Madonna and Child and Little St. John." Mrs. Ivah Van Valkenburg read "The Black Madonna" and for the closing number Mrs. Waldron played Christmas chimes on the piano.

By Gordon Comfort

The Tecumseh high school Indians won their second cage game of the season in an overtime game, when they traveled to Dundee, Tuesday evening, for a non-league tilt. When the official's horn blew the score was tied 37-37. In the over-time minutes of the game Tecumseh racked up 4 points and at the same time holding Dundee to 3, making the final score 41-40. Doug McDowell was high point man for Tecumseh with 21 points and Jack Gillin followed with 12. Goodridge was high for Dundee with 10 points.

The Tecumseh cage team last week took two losses in their stride and looked forward to their next game. The first clash was with Clinton whose tall, lanky players, racked up 60 points while holding Tecumseh to 28. The second was a closer game with Hudson. The score was 31-37.

In the Clinton match at Clinton, both Gillin and McDowell, each scoring nine points, strove valiantly to hold the Redskins, but could not guard their better than six-foot tall opponents. Played here, the Hudson match was, for the first three periods, a draw. So too, until the last part of the fourth quarter when the Indians yielded slightly and a last minute score broke Tecumseh's chance of winning. Tecumseh's high point man was Gillin with 14 points. Next came McDowell with 12 points.

The Indians second team had a little better luck by taking the Clinton second team 28-26 and the Hudson Reserves 17-16. The Reserves have lost only their first game — to Ida.

Police Urge Driving Care

"DON'T LET DEATH TAKE YOUR HOLIDAY," WARNING ISSUED BY OFFICERS

With Christmas just around the corner, Sgt. Carl Miller, of the Clinton post of the Michigan State Police, is urging motorists not to forget that the holiday season is also the period of the highest traffic accident rate of the year.

"Don't let death take your holiday," the December traffic safety slogan, should be borne in mind by every driver so that the gayest season of the year does not become saddened by an accident, Sgt. Miller said.

"In the winter months the accident rate per 100 million miles of travel in Michigan jumps 68 per cent, while the death rate is 17 per cent higher," Sgt. Miller continued. "The peak in total number of accidents is reached in December."

Sgt. Miller pointed out that last winter nearly six out of 10 fatal accidents occurred on highways that were wet, snowy or icy; eight out of 10 of these accidents took place during hours of darkness; one out of eight drivers involved had his vision obscured by rain, frost, snow or ice, nearly one out of eight vehicles had defective equipment.

High speed was not necessarily a factor in the fatal accidents, seven out of 10 occuring at speeds of not more than 35 miles an hour, but nevertheless too fast for conditions.

Pedestrians accounted for nearly one-half of the persons killed.

"We don't want to take the joy out of Christmas by citing unpleasant facts," Sgt. Miller said, "but one way to keep the joy in Christmas is by remembering that this is the season of the greatest driving hazards, and the danger is emphasized because there is considerable celebrating and more drinking. So make it a genuinely merry Christmas by being doubly vigilant and doubly careful."

About The Folks You Know

"'Twas the week before Christmas," and all through Tecumseh lights were aglow awaiting the arrival of Santa Claus. Mr. Claus did come Saturday evening and so did hundreds of youngsters, and grown-ups too, from many miles away. . . . Pre-Christmas festivities are in full swing as the holidays roll around . . . Employees and their families of the C. F. Smith store and the Watkins Shop enjoyed a Christmas dinner at Brees House, Friday evening. Later they gathered at the Watkins home, where moving pictures were shown and gifts exchanged . . . The Ernest Brandts and daughter Dorothy, the Max Brandts and son Jimmy and Ivan Gore of Petersburg were in Coldwater Sunday, for a family gathering . . . Mrs. George Wittrup and Mrs. A. L. VanWinkle entertained their Brownie Scouts, Red Rose troop No. 1, at dinner, Tuesday evening, at the VanWinkle home. The little girl's enjoyed a gift exchange later.

Mrs. Anna Hardenburgh entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barber at dinner, Sunday, in celebration of their wedding anniversaries. The Clyde Barbers were married 42 years on the 18th and the 15th marked the second anniversary for the Gibbs Barbers . . . God Reunites Jacob's Household At Bethel

Jacob had been advised by God to leave Shalam and go to Bethel. In order to start their new life at Bethel with no traces of the unfortunate events of Shalem, the Bible tells us that Jacob said to his household:

"Put away the strange Gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments; and let us arise, and go up into Bethel, and there I will make an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and who was with me in the way which I went . . ."

And, his household obeyed him, because they, too, were anxious to forget the fact that Jacob's sons had slain every male in the village of Shalem.

"And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hands, and all the earrings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the oak which was by Schechem . . ."

Here was Jacob and his family, torn apart by dissent, yet united again when they heard the call of the Lord to lead them out of their trouble. So they left that land, and were settled again at Bethel. There they got a fresh start as a family unit again—under the protection of their God.

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS 1948
That's our greeting to you in this happy season.
Schneider Bros. Garage Inc.

Miss Gladys Swarthout and Mr. Lawrence Tibbet, stars of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will sing on the Episcopal Church's special Christmas eve radio broadcast in the series, GREAT SCENES FROM GREAT PLAYS. Instead of a play, the Christmas program will be of music, with an augmented orchestra, the two distinguished singers, and a chorus of 16 fine voices. The program is of Christmas music, arranged and conducted by Mr. Nathan Kroll (center) who conducts the music for GREAT SCENES FROM GREAT PLAYS regularly. On all Mutual Broadcasting Stations and many independent stations. See local newspapers for station and hour, Friday, Christmas eve, December 24.

To Tell Story Of The Nativity

SPECIAL EPISCOPAL PROGRAM WILL BE BROADCAST ON CHRISTMAS EVE

A truly devotional and inspirational Christmas Eve program with the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, D.D., presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, reading the Story of the Nativity, and Gladys Swarthout and Lawrence Tibbett of the Metropolitan Opera singing new and old favorites with a large mixed chorus and augmented orchestra will be broadcast from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. over Station CKLW and sponsored by the Episcopal families of this community. This broadcast will supplant the usual program of Great Scenes from Great Plays broadcast at this time.

Miss Swarthout will sing for the first time over the air The Silent Stars especially written for her by John Jacob Niles, the distinguished American composer. Mr. Tibbett has chosen the beloved Cantique de Noel (Christmas Canticle) written over a century ago by Adolph Adams, the French composer of some 39 operas, 14 ballets and numerous sacred cantatas and choruses.

Two gay and joyous carols seldom heard over the air will be sung by a great choir of mixed voices. They are the old Swiss carol, There Came of Old and the English composer, Peter Warlock's Tyrley Tyrlow.

The Story of the Nativity read by Bishop Sherrill is taken from the second chapter of the Gospel to St. Luke beginning at the first verse.

According to Nathan Kroll, musical director of the Episcopal series, this Christmas Eve broadcast will conclude with the singing of Silent Night with Miss Swarthout and Mr. Tibbett singing alternate verses.

Mr. Kroll's ability as conductor-composer for many of radio's outstanding broadcasts has been amply demonstrated through the years. As a child prodigy he made his debut playing the violin at Aeolian Hall in New York at the age of twelve and toured the country as a soloist until 1923. He was awarded a fellowship at the Julliard Musical Foundation in New York where he studied composition and conducting. From 1943 to the end of 1945 he became a conductor on production staff of the First Army Air Force Radio Unit under the command of General H. H. Arnold and directed four network shows weekly over the major networks. In addition to acting as conductor-composer for the Episcopal series, Mr. Kroll also directs the music for the new U. S. Air Force and Army show entitled Theatre, U. S. A.

PENNSYLVANIA WANTS MORE JEFFERSONS

PITTSBURGH — How many towns of the same name can a state handle?

That question will be put before the Pennsylvania Superior Court by a group of taxpayers of Jefferson Township, Allegheny County, who want to incorporate under the name of Jefferson.

During a hearing November 15 before Judge Russell H. Adams in Quarter Sessions Court, it was pointed out that there already is a Jefferson in Green County, Pa., as well as a Jefferson borough.

On the other hand, Leo Kostman, attorney, representing the group seeking incorporation, said there already are 12 municipalities named Jefferson in the state and that one more won't make much difference.

Judge Adams referred the matter of the name to the State Superior Court, adding that he will rule on the incorporation after that issue is settled.

Margery Jean Bailey Weds Royce E. Beal

White chrysanthemums, tall white candles and the traditional Christmas greens provided the setting for the wedding of Margery Jean Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walter Bailey of Tecumseh and Royce Eugene Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Beal of Renfrew, Ontario, Canada. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 19, in the First Presbyterian church here. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson officiated, using the double ring service.

Mrs. Frederick C. Dickinson Sr., presided at the organ. During the musical service Miss Colleen Vedder, of Monroe, former classmate of the bride sang "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Ich Liebe Dich" by Edward Grieg and at the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Alencon lace over white satin, made with tightly fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline edged with illusion ruching, long sleeves and a very full skirt ending in a short train. Her three-quarter length tiered veil of illusion tulle fell from a Juliet cap of the lace which was embroidered with pearls. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums centered with an orchid. She carried a lace and linen handkerchief given to her by Mrs. Elmer E. Beal of Ann Arbor, grandmother of the groom.

The bride's matron of honor, Mrs. Paul E. Hesse of Lansing, was gowned in poudre blue taffeta. The tightly fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline, six folds of the material forming the deep collar of the gown. The full skirt was caught at both sides by panier drapery of the same material. She wore a cap of blue malline from which fell a waist-length veil of blue silk net. She wore short white gloves and carried a cascade arrangement of pink pom poms and pink daisy poms.

Little June Landreth, of Ypsilanti, cousin of the bride acted as flower girl. Her gown was of Alice blue taffeta made with a deep collar edged with a narrow ruffle. The long full skirt tied with a bow in the back. She wore short white gloves and carried a miniature cascade arrangement of pink daisy poms. Her halo hat was of matching blue net.

Mr. Beal chose James Ryan of Adrian to act as best man and the groomsmen were Robert Bailey, brother of the bride, Richard Opal of Ann Arbor, Philip B. Nelson of Adrian and James Hypes also of Adrian.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon gown of hunter's green crepe fashioned with a full skirt and draped neckline. Her accessories were in black and her shoulder corsage was fashioned of gardenias tied with a pale green ribbon. Mrs. Beal chose for her son's wedding a dress of mauve taffeta with hat to match. Her accessories were in brown and her shoulder corsage of gardenias was tied with gold ribbons. Both grandmothers wore shoulder corsages of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for the guests was held in the church parlors. Christmas trees, white chrysanthemums, and white candles were used about the room. The long table was covered with a white damask cloth. Large white candles, greens and silver Christmas ornaments made the table attractive. The four tiered bride's cake topped with a gardenia was further decorated with white bebe chrysanthemums and surrounded at the base by a wreath of holly. It was served, from an adjoining small, linen covered table, by Miss Wanda Poffenberger, dietitian at Adrian College. Miss Mary Lou Carlson and Miss Dorothy Bowen, both of Tecumseh, presided at the tea and coffee services, Miss Marilyn Lindsley, also of Tecumseh, at the piano played softly during the reception, a program of Christmas carols and other appropriate music. Miss Joan Bailey, of Ypsilanti, cousin of the bride had charge of the guest book.

Those assisting during the reception were Mrs. John Lott, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Louis Carlson, and Mrs. Percy Bowen. Others who helped about the room were Miss Anne Thompson, Miss Zoe Ann Pennington and Miss Cynthia Spafford.

Among the relatives and friends who attended from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. James F. Beal and Mrs. Franc Bertram of Renfrew, Ontario, Miss Genevieve Bertram and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mallnowski of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Beal, Prof. and Mrs. Charles M. Davis, Mrs. Rice A. Beal, Miss Maud Muma, Mrs. Vera Metcalf and Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Ayers of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Wesley of Chicago, Miss Elizabeth Hawxhurst, Detroit; Mr. Wellington Hunt, Grosse Pointe; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wilson of Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Ross of Lapeer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bohn, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Nemire, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hypes, Miss Wanda Poffenberger and Mr. Philip B. Nelson of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hesse of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. John Keeney of Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Callihan and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Bailey of Macon, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. McIntyre and son Joe, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gasner and son Billy of Clinton, Miss Ruth Herdershot and Miss Mary Beth Hendershot of Macon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Augustus and Lee Augustus, all of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Opal of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. John Addis of Ann Arbor.

When the newlyweds left for a short wedding trip the bride wore an elephant-gray wool suit with brown accessories. She pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet to her brown corde' bag. The bride, a graduate of Adrian College, received her A.B. degree in June 1948, and is now teaching in the Deerfield high school. Mr. Beal attended Renfrew Collegiate Institute. He served thirteen months in the Navy and is at present attending Adrian College where he is taking a course in Journalism. The young couple will be at home to their friends after January first at 235 S. Main street, Adrian.

Mrs. Beal was complimented with a pre-nuptial shower of personal gifts, given in the John Lott home by Mrs. Paul Hesse and Miss Dorothy Bowen and again in Deerfield by the members of the high school faculty.

COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. Wickwire, Editor
Tecumseh, Michigan
To the Editor:

Everyone was wishing for a white Christmas and now we have one, only to find that some of the sidewalks in town are not shoveled off.

We wanted to have a white Christmas for our little children who love to romp and play in the snow. It seems our wish was granted and now we can watch our youngsters be happy and enjoy the fun of the snow.

However, I wonder if it would be a happy Christmas for our youngsters if their Mothers or Grandmothers would fall down on some of the sidewalks that are full of snow.

I wonder if the home owners realize the number of people they would make happy if their sidewalks were cleaned off. If nothing else, they should clean them for the spirit of Christmas.

I wonder (again) if the city would enforce their ordinance stating that each occupant should clean their walks before a certain hour.

Wishing everyone a very merry Christmas and a winter of clean sidewalks, I am,

Albert Schumm

Dutch Miller's Back In Uniform

After ten days in the city, Dutch is back in uniform. I don't mean Army khaki or Navy blue—but a different uniform, that's every bit as patriotic and American.

Blue jeans and a denim shirt, for work around the yards and barns; stout boots for tramping through the fields; and a straw hat when the sun gets high—a uniform you see from Maine to Texas, Iowa to Alabama.

It's the uniform of an army—the great army of American farmers who, by their productivity, are helping to keep this nation strong—bolstering the forces of democracy that guard our freedom.

And in their way of life, too, they are champions of freedom. Temperate folk who enjoy a moderate glass of beer—but never quarrel with those who prefer cider. Tolerant people who fight to the bitter end against oppression and intolerance. From where I sit, a credit to America!

WE HAVE THEM

1935 OLDS—
She's got what it takes to get you there and back with no breakdown. Price is low enough for all. Will even help you finance it.

1936 FORD TUDOR—

STAR BOARDER—
Frankly we are stymied. What can we do with this thing? It's too big to fit under a Christmas tree but it's big enough to haul them. People drop in, make an offer, then back out on the deal. We know this Buick is a ten-year-old, but she is a real work horse. Of course it's a little lame and needs shoes pretty bad, and is subject to an occasional attack of stubborness. Now, folks, please make us an offer. If none of you want it, drop us a card suggesting what to do with it.

1941 HUDSON—
Last week we ignored this one, and so did you. Now it's really a fine car. Clean, warm, dreamy music. Tell me, at this low price what more could you ask. One owner, 46,000 actual miles.

It's good and if you are waiting for the price to drop you're wasting your time. Prices are at the low for this year, so why don't you drop in and buy a good one for the low buck. $875.

HERE ARE SOME EXTRA GOOD VALUES

3 CHEVROLETS—
All have at least radio, heater, defroster and are excellent in appearance.

1947 FLEETLINE TUDOR—
A slicker.

1946 FLEETMASTER FOURDOOR
We will give you an extra good buy on this.

GLEN F. McCAUGHEY FAMILY AT ONSTED MADE HOMELESS BY SUNDAY BLAZE

Two fires, both of them caused by defective wiring, destroyed two homes in Lenawee county over the Christmas holiday week-end, and two more blazes in the same period damaged other dwellings, reports from county firemen revealed today.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen F. McCaughey and family on South Main street in Onsted was almost completely destroyed by fire at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, as the family—father, mother and eight children—were preparing for dinner. The blaze, believed to have started from defective wiring, was discovered by a passer-by. The household goods and clothing of the family were removed to safety.

The McCaugheys moved their household goods to a vacant house nearby, and they were cared for by friends and neighbors until they were established in the new quarters. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Hilton of near Clayton was destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock Saturday evening. The blaze was discovered by the Hiltons as they returned to their home from a Christmas dinner at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lucille Griffin, northwest of Clayton.

The Hilton fire also is believed to have started from defective wiring. Mr. Hilton rushed into the blazing house and was overcome by smoke. He was removed to Thorne Hospital, Hudson. He will be confined to his bed for a few days, it was said.

The loss at the Hilton farm, which also included an out building, was estimated at $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

Rural firemen also answered a call to the Fred Bradish home in Madison township where a gasoline stove had exploded, Sunday afternoon. Damage was confined to the kitchen and an adjoining room.

Sunday morning, firemen answered an alarm at the O. W. Benner home in Palmyra township. An overheated furnace started a fire, but the blaze soon was brought under control.

Onsted School Merger Favored

CONSOLIDATION PROGRAM IN 12 DISTRICTS WINS APPROVAL OF VOTERS

Voters of 12 school districts approved a consolidation plan which would combine 11 rural districts with Onsted high school, Cambridge district 5, last week Wednesday. The voters were divided into two groups, the village favoring consolidation 181 to one, while the rural area voted 166 to 102 for consolidation.

The rural districts involved were 2 fractional, 4 and 6 in Cambridge township, 1, 2, 3 fractional, 4, 5, 6 and 7 in Rome township and 8 in Woodstock. The original plan called for 18 districts but most of the six not included in the consolidation were eliminated because they were not contiguous with the proposed unit.

A five-man board of education, representative of all 12 districts, will be elected next month to administrate the district.

The state department of public instruction recently approved the consolidation project. It was said with such a move rising costs of operation and standards of instruction and facilities required for a complete education program, could be met. About 470 pupils of school age are involved in the consolidation. The valuation of the 12 districts is about $2,000,000.

Crash Injuries Fatal To Driver

Funeral services were held from St. Elizabeth's Catholic church here Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for Woodrow F. Green, 30, president of the Tecumseh Airport Bowl, who was fatally injured last Friday morning when his car skidded and overturned on a curve on M-50, just west of Ridgeway. The Rev. Fr. Michael Collins officiated and burial was in St. Dominic's cemetery, Clinton. The bearers were Clyde Mitchell, Charles Reynolds, Oscar Shonsheck, Lillard Brown, Jerry DuFore and Vance Ogden. Military services at the grave were conducted by Underwood-Orr post of the American Legion. The Rosary was recited on Monday evening at the Collins Funeral Home.

According to state police who investigated the accident, Mr. Green was driving west on M-50 at about 1:45 a.m., Friday, when his car went out of control on the curve. It struck a telephone pole, traveled 200 feet and struck a second pole and then overturned. The crash noise awakened nearby residents who phoned Tecumseh police and an ambulance was dispatched. Green was pinned in the wreckage of the car. He was removed to Tecumseh Hospital where he died about 9 a.m.

Acting on the findings of the state troopers, Coroner Paul Mott of Adrian held that an inquest was not necessary. Green suffered a broken neck, skull fractures and other injuries.

Green, aside from operating the Airport Bowl, was employed by the Tecumseh Refrigeration Sales and Engineering.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. June (Costigan) Green, a three-months-old daughter Patricia, his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Green of Saginaw, three sisters, Mrs. Raymond Barry, Mrs. Joseph Schramkowski and Mrs. John Richter of Saginaw, four brothers, William Green of Flint, Vincent and Terance Green of Saginaw, and Michael Green of Tecumseh.

Friends and relatives attended the services from Mt. Pleasant, Lansing, Gladwin, Harrison, Flint, Charlotte, Milford, Bay City, Saginaw, Clinton and Tecumseh.

Funeral Here Friday For Mrs. Blanche Sones

Mrs. Blanche Sones, 75, died as she was being admitted to Tecumseh Hospital at 1:45 a.m., Tuesday. She had been ill for about six weeks, but her death was sudden and unexpected.

Born February 16, 1873, at Sharon Hollow, Mrs. Sones was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Asa Gage. She was a member of the Methodist church of Tecumseh and the Royal Neighbors.

Surviving are a son, Harold Davidson, Tecumseh, and a daughter, Mrs. Stanley Swain, Santa Cruz, Calif., two grandsons, one granddaughter and one great-grandson.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Byron Sones, in December of 1945, and a former husband, George Davidson in 1918. Also by two sons, Kenneth Davidson in 1918 and Howard Davidson in 1927.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the Collins Funeral Home, the Rev. Norman MacNaughton officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

DAUGHTERS TO MEET

The Daughters of St. Peter will meet at the home of Mrs. Lynn Hubbard in Herrick Park, Tuesday evening, January 4, at 8 p.m.

CARE IN DRIVING URGED OVER NEW YEAR'S

Live To Enjoy The Holiday, State Police Urge

Leonard said that last year the Alarmed by the traffic accident record, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard is urging motorists and pedestrians alike to observe the utmost caution over the New Year's week-end to avoid a repetition of the Christmas death toll of 25 persons.

Of those who died over the three-day week-end, eight were pedestrians. The total of 25 was just three short of the 28, including 11 pedestrians, who were killed over the same period a year ago.

"We can't take much comfort from the figures," Leonard said. The reduction this year is too slight to warrant any feeling that our holiday safety record has improved. In fact, when all the information is in, especially with respect to persons critically injured, it may be even worse." Christmas death toll apparently made motorists more careful, for the following New Year's week-end there were only nine fatalities, "although that was nine too many."

"Take it easy over New Year's and be happy," the Commissioner said. "Drive safely and walk safely. Live to enjoy the holiday and live to enjoy next year. Don't take chances. Be careful for your sake and the other fellow's."

Will Pick Up Old Yule Trees

COLLECTION BY VILLAGE WILL BE ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5

That Christmas tree which has been the pride and joy of your household is by now rapidly turning into a first class incendiary bomb. This warning was repeated today by the Fire Prevention and Safety Committees of the Chamber of Commerce, who urge that householders remove their trees as soon as evidence of drying appears.

Kenneth Dawson, village engineer, repeats last week's announcement that a special collection to remove old Christmas trees will be made Wednesday, January 5. Residents who wish their trees disposed of are requested to have them at the curb and the village crew will carry them away.

This is not the regular rubbish collection, different trucks and schedules being required. Those trees not ready for the special pick-up will need to be disposed of by the owners.

HERALD TO RETURN TO THURSDAY PUBLICATION

Next week, The Herald will return to its regular Thursday morning publication. Last week and this week, because of the Christmas and New Year holidays, The Herald was published on Wednesday to assure complete distribution to subscribers before the holidays.

3 Car Loads Of Wheat CROP Goal In Lenawee

The week of December 26 to January 2 has been designated for the statewide drive of the Christian Rural Overseas Program, sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief. The CROP committee has set a goal of three carloads of wheat (which amounts to about 4200 bushels) from Lenawee county. Any bank in the county will accept cash donations and any elevator the contributions of wheat.

The purpose of CROP is to feed the hungry, speed rehabilitations in war torn countries, and build toward a better world. Although the government is helping the needy countries, CROP reaches special groups, such as orphans, widows, the diseased and institutions such as hospitals. The distributions overseas are handled through church agencies. The administrators of the agencies are competent and experienced, and no discrimination is made because of creed or nationality.

WELCOME CLASS

The Welcome Class of the Friends Sunday school met Tuesday evening in the church basement with Mr. and Mrs. George Meads and Miss Mabel Lockwood as the host and hostesses. After an exchange of gifts, the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Marvin Johnson; vice president, Mrs. Henry Hamilton; secretary, Mrs. Meads; treasurer, Herman Radant; flower committee, Mrs. Herman Radant; teacher, Mabel Lockwood; assistant teacher, Raynor Van Valkenburg.

Near Zero Weather General On Christmas

Tecumseh and Lenawee county—in fact all of Michigan and the mid-west—felt the grip of winter over the Christmas holiday week-end when the temperatures dropped to near or below the zero mark, the coldest of the winter.

Christmas morning temperatures in Tecumseh ranged from five to 10 above zero and the mercury remained almost stationary throughout the day. On Sunday morning, readings from two above to two below were reported.

It was not a white Christmas, as many folk had wished. The first real snow of the season, last week Monday, had practically all melted by the time the holiday arrived. However, persons who motored long distances to be with their families over the week-end were grateful for clear pavements, free from ice.

DISCUSSION GROUP PLANS PROGRAMS

Beginning next Sunday, January 2, the Men's Discussion Group of the Baptist church, will conduct a series of discussions based on the theme "World Understanding and Outreach," under the direction of George A. Schumm. The group meets during the Sunday school hour, from 10 to 11 a.m.

The topics have been arranged as follows: January 2, "Explaining Our Troubles"; January 9, "Does The Church Have The Answer?"; January 16, "China's Headache—And Ours"; January 23, "Our Own Understanding."

STATE LISTS 10 LEADING CAUSES OF DEATH

Year Of 1948 Healthiest In Michigan's History

When all the figures have been tallied, the year 1948 will be the healthiest in the state's history, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner said today.

The death rate for 1948 will be healthiest in the state's history. On the basis of the first ten month figures, the state's death rate will drop to 9.15 per 1,000 population as compared with the rate of 9.36 in 1947 and the previous low of 9.52 in 1942.

The incidence of communicable disease and the death rate from communicable disease in the state will reach an all time low. Infant and maternal death rates will also be at all time lows.

Judging from the first nine months of the year the ten leading causes of death will undergo several changes. The only two communicable diseases among major causes of death will move down the list; pneumonia from sixth to seventh place, and tuberculosis from eighth to ninth place. Both prematurity and diabetes will move up, prematurity from seventh to sixth place and diabetes from ninth to eighth place.

Heart disease will continue to lead all other causes of death. There will be about two and one-third as many deaths from this as from the next cause of death—cancer. During the first nine months of 1948, heart disease caused 13,836 deaths in comparison with 13,705 for the same period in 1947.

The ten leading causes of death for the year will be: heart disease, cancer, apoplexy, accidents, inflammation of the kidney, premature births, pneumonia, diabetes, tuberculosis, and arteriosclerosis, the commissioner said.

Tecumseh's Health Generally Improved

The general health of Tecumseh was far better this year than a year ago, according to vital statistics records in the office of Wade L. Jones, village clerk.

During the past 12 months, the records show, there were only 70 deaths as compared to 88 in 1947, a drop of about 20 per cent.

"There may be a slight decrease in the number of births," Mr. Jones said, "although we know that not all of the doctors have reported new arrivals during the past few days. As the record stands now, 375 births have been recorded against last year's figure of 395."

Churches Plan For New Year's

Several Tecumseh churches are planning special services for New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, as is customary. A New Year's Preaching Mission will be held at the Tecumseh Friends church beginning Sunday, January 2 and continuing until Sunday, January 9, with Merrill M. and Anna Coffin of Whittier, California, as the guest workers.

A special Watch-Night service will be held at the Friends church on Friday, New Year's Eve. Carol Cox and Elizabeth Escolme are in charge of a social gathering beginning at 8:30 p.m., and at 10:30 p.m., light refreshments will be served. At 11 p.m. those in attendance will gather in the church auditorium for the devotional service with Mr. and Mrs. Loren Kuhn of Cleveland, Ohio, in charge. There will be special music by Merrill and Anna Coffin and others. The main address will be given by the Rev. Mr. Coffin. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin have been successful pastors and have served as missionaries in India. Both are accomplished singers.

On New Year's Day a prayer hour will be held at the First Presbyterian church from 11 to 12 a.m. There will be directed prayer and personal prayer and Mrs. F. C. Dickinson will play intermittently at the organ. All Presbyterians and friends are invited to attend.

On New Year's Eve, there will be devotions at St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, at 7:30 p.m., led by Fr. Michael Collins. There will be masses at 8 and 10 a.m., New Year's morning.

A special service will be held at the Grace Ev. Lutheran church from 8 to 9 p.m., New Year's Eve. The Rev. J. deRuiter, pastor, will deliver the sermon.

Mrs. Mary Sisson, 78, Is Buried In Brookside

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:30 p.m., from the Collins Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary Sisson, 78, who died Thursday, December 23, at 12:30 p.m., at her home two miles west of Tecumseh. The Rev. Edward Escolme officiated and burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were George McKendry, Robert McKee, George Tilton, Garland Gove, Harold Gove and Russell Gove.

Friends and relatives attended the funeral from Adrian, Toledo, Detroit, Tipton, Tecumseh, Rochester, Ann Arbor, Clinton and Ypsilanti.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Tilton, Mrs. Sisson was born August 5, 1870, in Tecumseh. Her husband, Otis Sisson, preceded her in death, December 24, 1945. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Vera Osburn of Tecumseh, four grandchildren, one brother, William Tilton of Tecumseh and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

James C. Palmer, 24, Adrian, was arrested here Friday morning by local police. He was arraigned before Justice Clyde Barber, Monday, charged with being drunk and drew a fine of $10 and costs of $7.50.

Indian Cagers Humble Dundee

WIN OVERTIME BATTLE BY 41-40 AFTER LAGGING IN THREE QUARTERS

By Gordon Comfort

The Tecumseh cage team was victorious in an exciting clash with the Dundee high school last Tuesday night, which ended with an overtime score of 41-40. For the first three quarters the Indians trailed, and they were behind twelve points at the end of the third period. Then the two forwards Gillin and McDowell got warmed up. Gillin sank four shots in a row for eight points and McDowell put in two for four points and at the end of the fourth period the scoreboard read 37-37. The Dundee five were leading at the end of the first period 10-8, and at the half 17-14. The end of the third period saw the score 30-18, with Tecumseh 12 points behind. Then in the last quarter the Indians couldn't miss and dazzled the home team with an excellent display of basket making or a total of 19 points to their opponents' seven.

McDowell was the high scoring man, making better than half of Tecumseh's score. He had 21 of the 41 points. The other forward Gillin, came next with 12 points. Those two men alone scored more than three-quarters of the score. This was the third victory for the Indians, having lost

P. T. A. Enjoys Yuletide Music

PROGRAM PRESENTED ON THURSDAY EVENING BY LOCAL SCHOOL STUDENTS

For its December meeting, the Parent-Teacher Association enjoyed a fine program of Yuletide music, provided by the supervisor of music, Miss Marjorie Mohr, and the teacher of band music, Clare Camburn, under the general planning of Darwin Smith, principal of the grade schools, Thursday evening. The auditorium at the Central building was filled with interested parents, relatives and friends and many were seated in the balcony.

The band ensembles, which opened the program, were very effective and demonstrated the usefulness of instrumental music. Their poise was noticeable and their harmony was excellent.

Most of the vocal music was presented by the children of the grades, although the junior and senior high school choruses had very important parts. All displayed good musical training.

Mrs. Murray is of the extension service of the University of Michigan and is an outstanding authority on the subject of Home and Family Living.

The course, free of charge, is open to women only and anyone interested in the discussions is asked to call Mrs. Truman Rentschler.

NO ROOM FOR DICTATORS

The Chicago Daily Tribune recently devoted a thoughtful editorial to the coal miners' pension fund, which is paid for by a tax on every ton of coal mined, that deserves wide reading. In part it said. "The fund obviously increases Mr. Lewis' dictatorial hold on the mine union . . . The welfare fund benefits, including pensions, go only to union members. If a union member kicks at the way Mr. Lewis runs the union, Mr. Lewis can, and does, kick him out. Hereafter he will lose not only his job, but also the benefits purchased by the royalties he earned.

There is a remedy for this. It is to set up actuarial schedules of benefits to be paid out of the fund, and to credit each miner with his share of them according to the tonnage he mines. If Mr. Lewis is going to run a private social security system, it should be run with at least the same attention to the equities of contributors that prevails in the public system."

Whether or not the Tribune's solution is the best available may be a matter of question. But there is more and more concern over the manner in which Mr. Lewis has obtained virtually unlimited authority over 400,000 American workers—and over an industry which is vital to the life of this country at home, and to the success of our foreign policy abroad. Many are convinced that Congress must eventually provide the answer through legislation—there is no room for dictators of any kind in the United States. And the country cannot afford to have the production of coal periodically stopped at Mr. Lewis' whim.

LOS ANGELES — Development of an automobile motor oil capable of remaining fluid in temperatures down to 60 degrees below zero was announced here by MacMillan Petroleum Corporation.

The new product, developed by the company's oil technologists, will aid starting and lubrication in sub-zero climate, L. L. Rebber, MacMillan's Director of Research, said. He said it is fortified against oxidation, foaming and varnish while retaining film strength and penetrating qualities.

The company's tests showed little ring or bearing wear, very light carbon sludge and normal oil consumption, Mr. Rebber added.

Good For Every Day

AMONG many New Year greeting cards, bright with their joy-giving messages for that season, came one concluding its cheery salutations with the words, "Happy Eternity."

This unusual expression arrested attention and carried thought beyond the limits of the accustomed good wishes for a happy New Year into the infinite realm of measureless being.

On page 598 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, defines "year" in part as "a solar measurement of time; mortality; space for repentance." And she concludes her definition thus: "Time is a mortal thought, the divisor of which is the solar year. Eternity is God's measurement of Soul-lilled years."

Truly each New Year affords not only "space for repentance" but opportunity to live every moment to the glory of God. But do we not permit memories of the past to torment us with regrets and remorse? Do we not make the present tense with strain and struggle? And does not our concern for the future with its tantalizing uncertainties too often rob us of present joys? To linger in thought over a mistaken past, to worry over an uncertain future, is to waste precious moments of a present glorious with fresh opportunities.

It's a very happy New Year we're wishing for you.
Good Luck in '49!

"Buick's the Buy!"

EVER since this '49 Buick made its bow, we've been telling you it's a buy.

We've invited you to match it—feature by feature and dollar for dollar—with anything else offered to you. You can start with the delivered prices shown here.

But don't stop with that. Check the policy under which Buicks are sold—and see for yourself that Buick means a better deal as well as a better buy!

Briefly, our Four-Square sales policy is this:

1. NO PRICE PADDING! We guarantee our prices to contain nothing but charges that were standard practice in figuring prewar delivered prices. You receive an itemized bill of sale showing all charges. And we display our prices in our showroom.
2. NO "LOADING" OF UNWANTED ACCESSORIES. All cars are delivered with accessories as ordered. We pledge ourselves to add no "extras" you do not want.
3. NO COMPULSORY TRADE-INS. Selling used cars is part of our business. Naturally we like to take cars in trade. But you do not have to sell your car to us! We will take your order, and deliver your car, without requiring a car in trade!
4. NO COLLUSION WITH "GRAY MARKETEERS." We will not knowingly be party to a sale of Buick cars to any individual who operates in the "gray market." Our interest is entirely in delivering cars to bona fide customers.

In other words—you know exactly where you stand when you buy a Buick. What you get—what you pay—all the details of the deal open and aboveboard.

So we repeat: Check the price. Check the policy. Buick's the buy any way you want to look at it.

Germans Are Eating More Than They Did

PARIS—Western Europeans are eating less than they did before the war, but more than last year, food and agriculture experts of the Economic Cooperation Admnistration said here. These experts say further improvement in diet is in sight.

The daily average this year has been 2,650 calories, compared with 2,500 last year. These figures are based on a survey among Marshall Plan nations. The daily prewar average was 2,800 calories.

Imports of food and equipment under the European Recovery Program have helped build up the amount of food available, but the good weather which aided this year's harvests is considered the biggest factor.

Coach Rip Engle (second from left) probably is thinking that the bear would be a bear at backing up the line.

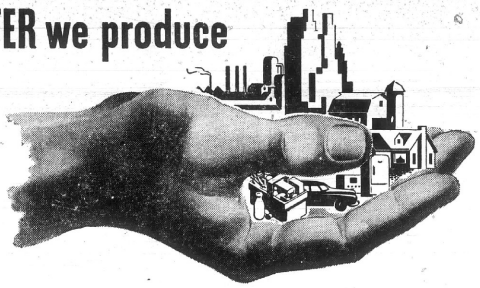
the BETTER we produce



the BETTER we live

The history of our cherished America is the story of the development of a system of producing goods in an atmosphere of freedom, so that each of us may enjoy the greatest measure of benefit from our individual efforts. Yet the major product of our system is not limited to the individual. That product is the unrivaled American standard of living, shared by all. During the past 40 years alone — a period during which we fought and won two world wars, because our system was threatened — we have bettered our production and the income of our families two fold and we have reduced the average work week by 18 hours. More goods to choose from. More income with which to acquire goods. More time in which to enjoy living.

As another New Year arrives amid a welter of debate over prices, wages, profits and hours and vague promises of dubious Utopia, let us profit from the lesson of our heritage. Our world's best standard of living is the product of our freely determined will to produce a better life. Let us resolve our problems within the scope of a system that has met the test of time. Let us not permit the system to be destroyed.

We, of Tecumseh Products Company, look upon the New Year with confidence. Market trends indicate a swing to a buyer's rather than a seller's market. We must meet that challenge by tightening our belts, increasing our production, cutting costs, and facing our competition squarely.

As one happy, loyal family we have in the past and will continue in the future to share our blessings.

Spending Spree Is Near End For The Tourist

1948 BELIEVED TO MARK END OF "EASY DOLLARS" IN RESORT INDUSTRY

The year 1948 marked the end of the era of easy dollars and free spenders in Michigan's tourist industry, according to Robert J. Furlong, administrative secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

"It is quite obvious that the lush days of the immediate post-war period are over," said Furlong. "We are going back to normal. Michigan's tourists in 1948 were more choosey, more conservative in their expenditures.

"This is a healthy sign, however. It means keener competition among the resort owners, the cabin camp operators and all of the others who are in the business of catering to our visitors. I am certain that this competition will be reflected next year and in succeeding years in improved accommodations, better services and a general upturn in the entire industry."

Furlong stated that although vacation budgets were tightened in 1948, the year will go down in the tourist industry's record books as a good one. Statistics indicate that there were more visitors to the state's vacation areas in 1948 than there were in the big year of 1947.

Traffic over trunkline highways was up nine per cent over 1947. Traffic at the Straits of Mackinac through October 31 was up 10 per cent over the same period in 1947. Bus lines serving the resort areas report that tourist travel for 1948 showed a five per cent increase over the previous year and railroads report an increase of ten to twelve per cent in passenger travel to Michigan resort areas.

Long distance telephone traffic in 1948 to 15 selected vacation centers in the northern part of the state showed an increase of 15 per cent over 1947. The number of visitors on Mackinac Island reached an all-time high in 1948.

According to provisional figures from the Conservation Department, there was a three per cent increase in attendance at Michigan's sixty state parks and a 14 per cent increase in camp permits issued at those parks. It is pointed out that this sharp rise in camp permits indicates that more people took their own shelter along with them in 1948.

Activities of the Michigan Tourist Council were stepped up in 1948 to keep pace with other states in what is becoming a highly competitive business. In 1947, for example, thirty-seven states were promoting their vacation attractions through national advertising and other publicity measures. In 1948, the number had increased to 45 and in addition, Canada, Mexico and other countries were putting more dollars than ever before into their tourist advertising budgets.

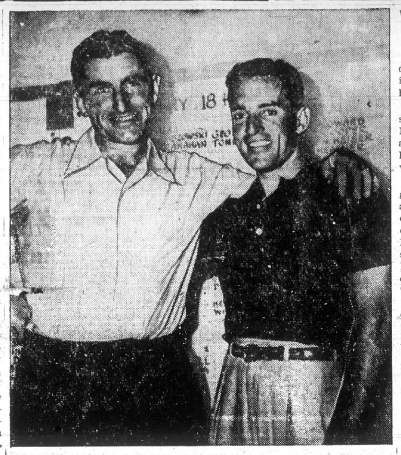
Through its Tourist Council, Michigan in 1948 carried on an advertising program in national magazines which had a combined reader audience of over 30 million.

Recognizing the fact that the tourist dollars of Michigan residents are just as valuable as the dollars left by out-of-state visitors, the Tourist Council carries on an extensive advertising program with Michigan newspapers. In 1948, 206 in-state papers carried advertising within the boundaries of their own state.

To determine the effectiveness of its national advertising program, the Michigan Tourist Council conducted a questionaire survey among thousands who had written to the Council for travel information after seeing Michigan's advertisements. One of the results of this survey showed that the state's tourist industry realized a traceable return from these visitors of $128.00 for each dollar spent in national advertising.

In addition to the Tourist Council's paid advertisements, feature articles on the state's attractions appeared in magazines and newspapers throughout the country. Also, the Council prepared and distributed colorful pamphlets and folders to lure visitors to Michigan.

During the year the Council continued operation of its branch information offices in Lansing, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland. The Cleveland office is maintained during the spring and summer months; the others are operated the year round. Through these branch offices, on-the-spot information service is made available in Michigan's most productive vacation markets.



GREAT START . . . Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, amateur golf star on the right and Stan Staszewski of Winsted, Conn., a rank outsider among the professional clan, turned in four under par 66s to pace a star studded field in the first round of the Miami open golf tournament. Here they are in front of the clubhouse scoreboard happily congratulating each other on their unusual opening rounds.

The tableaux were unusually effective and well executed as far as artistry and details were concerned. The costumes and hand properties necessary for each one were the work of the parents and teachers carrying out the idea of good parents and teacher relationships.

The president of the Association expressed her thanks to Mr. Smith, Miss Mohr, Mr. Camburn, the teachers who assisted and the parents for their fine cooperation in making this an outstanding program, as it represented many hours of careful planning and concentrated effort on the part of all.

The members of the audience left Thursday evening with the feeling that they had received another interpretation of an old, old story and as a result should have enjoyed their Christmas more.

The January meeting will be held on Thursday evening, the 13th, with a well planned program along with the usual business meeting and social hour.

Mrs. Catherine Edward Weds Albert D. Allen

Mrs. Catherine Edward of Detroit and Albert D. Allen of Mt. Union, Iowa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lauer of Mt. Union, were united in marriage Christmas Day at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jessie Matthews, north of Tecumseh. The Rev. B. O. Bashore read the single ring service at 4 o'clock before the fireplace. White mums adorned the mantel and on either side were lighted tapers in floor candelabra.

Mrs. Edward was given in marriage by her brother, Max Umbarger. The bride chose a gray crepe street length dress, with bead trim, and her corsage was of orchids. Mrs. R. S. McCoy of Detroit attended her sister wearing navy with a corsage of pink roses. Richard Budde of Mt. Union attended as best man.

After the ceremony some 40 guests were seated in the recreation room and enjoyed a turkey dinner. The room was festive with a beautifully trimmed and lighted Christmas tree and other seasonal decorations. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was on a lace covered table with a floral centerpiece of white mums and pink roses and crystal candelabra.

After a two-weeks trip through the southern states, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will make their home in Mt. Union. Mrs. Allen has been employed at the United States Rubber office in Detroit for the past three years.

Many guests were from Detroit, Dearborn and Tecumseh and those from out of the state included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lauer, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gaberline and daughter Elda, and Richard Budde, all of Mt. Union, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cox of Lexington, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Larson of Washington, D. C.

Overseas Aid Program Explained To Rotarians

The program of CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program which calls for 135 car loads of commodities from Michigan for the relief of war area persons, was explained to members of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening by S. S. Neuroth of Ogden Center, chairman of CROP in Lenawee county. Mr. Neuroth spoke to the club following dinner at Brees House. He was introduced by LeRoy Titley, a member of the club and chairman of the relief program in Tecumseh township.

Lenawee county's share of the state quota, the chairman said, is three car loads of wheat. He declared that the program is meeting with success among rural residents and he urged Tecumseh to participate.

Mr. Titley explained that because a major part of Tecumseh township is an urban area, it is desired that clubs and other organizations participate in the relief aid as well as farmers.

Joseph Is Put Into Prison

The Lord blessed the Egyptians' house for Joseph's sake; and the blessing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field. And Joseph was a goodly person and well favoured. And it came to pass after these things, that the master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph . . . And it came to pass that he hearkened not unto her . . . and when the master heard the words of his wife, he put Joseph into prison. Genesis 39:7-17.

Through conceit and deceit Joseph was accused and convicted of something he did not do. In these troubled times a sure way to get trustworthy help and guidance is to attend your church regularly and enlist its support.

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LANSING—The Alice in Wonderland aspect of our postwar economic life is illustrated currently in the demand of Michigan's youngest and largest labor unions, the United Automobile Workers, CIO, for a 1949 wage increase of "at least" 20 per cent.

That a union in seeking better living conditions for its members, via a larger pay check or less working hours, is not news.

That this union is asking the same to "restore the living standards of four years ago" is not news either. Collective bargaining, like horse trading, consists of asking for more than you hope to get.

However, it is important that the UAW believes American industry could afford to grant such a drastic wage boost (without necessity of increasing prices, of course) because of one fact: Profits are high.

Nat Weinberg, UAW research director, reasons it this way "Corporations are now paying out wages and salaries at a rate of $87 billion a year. A 20 per cent increase would amount to $17.4 billions. Since corporation profits before taxes are running at a rate of $35 billions a year, a wage and salary increase of this magnitude would leave $17.6 billions."

Then after corporation taxes are paid, the net profit left would be $10.8 billions. This amount would be greater then the peak earnings of 1944. And $10.8 billions, so Weinberg reasons logically, should be plenty for stockholders.

Now all this makes good sense if you are willing to accept these figures as being the whole truth. However, they are not. Before you reach a final conclusion, please consider the following: Almost two-thirds of all corporation earnings (profits) today are being plowed back to finance plants and equipment! In terms of dollars, more than $13 billions are being spent to buy better too's to make possible better American products!

Why? Because many persons are reluctant to invest in common stocks and securites when federal personal income taxes may take up 77% of profit dividends. We find ourselves again at the cross roads. If industry cannot finance its own needs out of earnings, the inevitable alternative is for the government to do it. Such is England's solution for economic security under a labor government.

More state socialism is the choice of the UAW. We are well on the road already. Nationalization of industry is the new pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

TROUSERS HUNG WILL LAST; THOSE WORN WILL SHINE

Textile experts of the Department of Agriculture have made a serious study of what puts shine on the seat of a fellow's wool trousers. And the results of their research will probably not surprise anyone. Just plain old wear is the answer—rubbing, bending, and creasing.

But at least it's comforting to know that the dry cleaner is not the one to blame nor is it only because the trousers are old. Hang your trousers up in the closet as long as you want and send them to the cleaner's as often as you like and they'll never get that semi-gloss look. But if you wear them, well . . . that's the rub.

The Lazy Man's Song

Another year's about to close, I'll swear I don't know where time goes;

The last 12 months sure went by quick, but I ain't got a single kick,

The fish bit good all summer long, and now the huntin' goin' strong;

I ain't been sick of anything except at plantin' time last spring,

My lame back hasn't hurt at all except at harvest time last fall,

I don't recall a year as great as we have had in '48.

Of course I haven't gotten rich, but I escape the problems which

I've made enough to keep us fed, we've got a good roof o'er our head.

To do much better would require that I work like a ball of fire;

And what would be the sense to that', I'd have no time to hang my hat

And lay upon the couch to rest, that's what I like to do the best.

No sir, I'm satisfied as is,—let neighbor be a farmin' whiz;

Why,—I'll be old and full vim, long after they have buried him.

Mr. Elmer Mason of Pittsburgh Pa., arrived Friday evening to spend the holidays with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Hess Callander.

Her mother came into the parlor suddenly and found Mabel sitting on her date's lap.

Tractor School Dates Are Set

4-H CLUB MAINTENANCE PROGRAM OF EDUCATION IS PLANNED IN COUNTY

During the coming winter months several 4-H Farm Tractor Maintenance clubs will be operating in the county. Those already being planned are at Morenci, Britton, Blissfield, Adrian, Addison, Hudson, and Tecumseh. The schedule for the first meeting for each of these communities for organization work and to outline the 4-H tractor program follows:

Britton—Wednesday, January 5, Britton High School, 8:00 p.m.

Adrian—Thursday, January 6, Supervisors Room, County Court House, 8:00 p.m.

Hudson—Monday, January 10, Stan Sink, 8:00 p.m.

Tecumseh — Wednesday, January 12, Partridge Implement Co., 8:00 p.m.

Morenci, Thursday, January 20, Graf Sales Co., 8:00 p.m.

Dates and meetings places for organization of the Addison and Blissfield 4-H Tractor clubs has not yet been definitely set; as soon as available will be announced.

The farm tractor maintenance project is designed to increase the skill of 4-H members in operating and maintaining farm tractors. It is a program of better care, not repair. Better care means longer wear and reduced operating costs.

All boys between the ages of 12 and 20 are invited to attend these meetings and carry this 4-Hwinter project. Boys interested need not have been 4-H members in the past to be eligible to join. From eight to ten meetings will be held during the winter to cover the instruction.

Instruction for first year members during the winter period covers fuel intake and carburetor, air cleaner and cooling system service, spark plug, wiring and battery service, lubrication of engines, transmission and final drive and general tractor lubrication and winterizing the farm tractor.

Two advanced projects are available to those members who enrolled and completed the project in previous years. For the second year boys the instruction parallels the first year work, although more advanced in scope. For the third year members the project is one of care and maintenance of farm implements, such as plows, combine, corn picker, cultivator, etc.

Meetings will be held at the cooperating farm implements dealers in each of the seven communities of the county. Cooperating dealers are: Graf Implement Sales and Porter Lumber Co., Morenci; Stan Sink, Lawrence Dillon, Wenig Farm Implements, Clark Motor Sales, Harper Chevrolet Sales, all of Hudson; Green Motor Sales, Barron-Minster Sales, Lenawee Equipment Co., Wilcox Hardware, Arnos Farm Equipment, Charles Ruesink, Adrian; Wilt-Knoblauch, Moore-Seeburger Co., the Banting Co., Blissfield; Britton Implement Co., Blakeley and Son, Addison; Partridge Implement Co., Robison Farm Equipment, and Hoyt Whelan Co., Tecumseh.

Eggleston, who has been associated with the institution for the past 10 years. Mr. Campbell will continue to assist Mr. Eggleston in the business.

Mr. Eggleston came to Tecumseh from Adrian where he had spent many years in the dry cleaning business. He said today that there would be no change in the shop's personnel, that there might be some slight remodeling to increase production, but he declared that the same high-quality workmanship would be maintained.

Mr. Campbell is one of the oldest dry cleaners, in point of service, in Lenawee county. He started the business here when much of the work was done with a hand iron and steadily improved the equipment in his shop until today it is one of the most modern in the county.

Exchange Club Will Aid Band

A benefit dance, the proceeds to be used toward the purchase of new uniforms for the Tecumseh High School Senior Band, was announced today by Leon P. Williamson, president of the Exchange Club. The dance will be held on Friday evening, January 21, at the high school auditorium, music will be furnished by the Tecumseh Products Orchestra.

"The Exchange Club's 1949 program covers several projects for the aid of the band, the dance being one of them," Mr. Williamson said. "The band has been in existence for about 18 years and we know that Tecumseh is proud of the organization. The band has been called upon many times for its service at civic affairs, but there is never any remuneration.

"The Band Club and the Band Mothers have carried on the band program for several years and have held the organization together. Now, the time has come when the 60 members need new uniforms. The old ones are in very poor condition and are beyond repair.

"These youngsters spend a lot of time in practice, they buy or pay rent for their instruments, and it seems to be that the community can well afford to help make new uniforms available. The cost will be about $3,000, which we hope to raise within the next few weeks," Williamson concluded.

Exchange club members are now busy with preparations for the benefit dance. Other projects to aid the uniform fund will be announced by the club later, Williamson said.

Monday Club Hears Of Town Hall Meetings

The Tecumseh Monday Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Fay Whelan for a potluck dinner at noon. Some 16 members were in attendance. An announcement was made of the Town Hall meetings, the dates of which are January 25, February 22, March 22 and April 2. The April meeting will be a concert by a chorus of 85 voices. It was also announced a book of the history of the club is available to any member who desires it.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in making baby clothes. Some 21 diapers, six nightgowns and three shirts were completed.

NEW LEGION HOME EQUIPMENT DISCUSSED

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Joan Rosenfans. Plans were discussed for equipping the new Legion home and also for the bake and rummage sale to be held January 15. A report on the midwinter conference was given by Mrs. Joseph Russell and an announcement was made of the second district meeting at Milan January 30. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Give the high school band a break if you are asked to buy a couple of tickets for the Uniform Benefit party, January 21. The band needs your help.—Adv.

Truck Buckles River Bridge

DRIVER UNHURT AS STAIB ROAD STRUCTURE GIVES WAY, TUESDAY MORNING

Traffic was moving slowly today over the iron bridge that spans the River Raisin at the mill pond on M-52 and the state had discontinued detouring cars and trucks by way of the Newburg Road to Clinton, the result of an accident early Tuesday morning that wrecked a bridge over the north branch of the Raisin on Staib road, about four miles north of here.

The detour was established on Monday when the state began the repair of the mill pond bridge. New floor planks and other supports were necessary. All went well until 5 a.m., Tuesday, when a dual semi-trailer, loaded with sheet steel and operated by Max Clark, Dearborn, started over the Staib bridge. The structure buckled under the weight of the load and jack-knifed just as the trailer was leaving the bridge. A part of the steel was thrown from the truck but the driver did not lose control and although badly shaken he was unhurt. Mr. Clark drives for the K.O.K. Transportation Co., Dearborn.

The state continued today to repair the bridge here while traffic moved over it at a snail's pace. Whether a new bridge will be built on Staib road or the old one repaired has not been announced.

War On Cancer Shows Results

WORKERS OPTIMISTIC IN FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE AS NEW YEAR BEGINS

Congratulations to the volunteer men and women of the Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society.

That is the New Year's greeting from William A. Hyland, M. D., chairman of the board of directors and of the professional committee of the division, made public here today by Mrs. Paul Weaver, commander of the Lenawee County Unit.

"In the last five years," Dr. Hyland said, "we have made great progress in organizing the fight against cancer. I wish I could thank each of the 18,000 volunteers myself for the fine work they are doing.

"As a physician, I know that our educational work is bringing results. More and more men and women are having periodic physical examinations, more and more cancers are being diagnosed in the early and potentially-curable state."

Dr. Hyland laid special emphasis on the achievements of the service aspects of the three-pronged cancer control program—research, education, and service—of the Michigan Division.

"The record of your county units in helping the cancer patient and in furnishing funds for the improvement of medical facilities is impressive.

"In 49 counties devoted women have spent untold hours in the difficult task of making dressings

Consumers Asks Rate Increase

ELEVEN PER CENT BOOST NEEDED, COMPANY SAYS, BECAUSE OF HIGH COSTS

February 15 has been set by the Michigan Public Service Commission for the start of a three day hearing on Consumers Power Company's petition for authority to make electric rate revisions to provide additional revenue of about $6,600,000 a year.

The proposed changes would increase the company's electric revenues about 11 per cent. However, taxes would cut the extra revenue of $6,600,000 to about $4,100,000.

In its petition Consumers points out that the trend in its rates has been steadily downward for 27 years. Now an upward revision of rates is necessary, the company says, because of sharp increases in the cost of doing business. Delivered cost of coal burned in generating plants has jumped 99 per cent since 1939, and the company's coal bill for the 12 months ended last November 30, was $16,665,820. Wages are up 67 per cent, according to the petition. Sharp rises in the cost of almost every item of material or equipment used in supplying electric service also are cited.

Earnings are now below four per cent on the value of the electric property, Consumers says, and a mere adequate rate is required to attract the investors needed to help finance the company's huge expansion program, made necessary by growth of demand for electricity.

Industrial, commercial and domestic customers all would pay slightly higher rates, but the increases for industrial and large commercial customers would be smaller in proportion than that for household customers. This is because a "coal clause" in industrial and commercial rates has already caused bills of customers in these classes to reflect rises in the cost of coal burned in electric generating plants. The household rate contains no "coal clause," so bills of these customers have remained at the old level.

For the average householder, the proposed revision would mean an increase of about two and a half cents a day, or 75 cents a month. His bill for 170 kilowatt-hours would be $5.25 a month instead of $4.50. For a small household customer, using 80 kilowatt-hours a month, the increase would be a cent a day, and his monthly bill would be $3.00 instead of $2.70.

HERALDS OF COMMUNISM

During the debate on the English Labor Party's bill to nationalize the steel industry—as it has nationalized coal, electricity, the railroads and other basic enterprises on which the whole economy of the nation depends—Winston Churchill often spoke for the opposition. On one occasion he observed that the socialists had boasted that they were the opponents of communism. Then he said: "Socialist parties in every European country had been found altogether inadequate barriers against it. Indeed . . . they were the handmaids and heralds of communism."

There is a theoretical difference between socialism and communism. The classical socialists—such as Norman Thomas in this country—believe with complete sincerity that a nation can have government ownership of all the instruments of production and distribution, and at the same time maintain, unweakened, civil liberties and representative government. That might be true, if all men had the honesty and the good will of Mr. Thomas. But the point is that all men do not—that the lust for power grows as it feeds—and that socialistic governments always begin by promising, and always end by coercing.

Much of the argument against socialism is based upon its demonstrated inefficiency — its wastefulness, and its failure to produce promised material results. This in an important matter. But there is something infinitely more important still, and that is socialism's blighting effect on the freedom, the initiative, and the spirit of the individual man. In the super-state, the greatest merit is mediocrity. The man who keeps out of trouble and toadies to his political betters is the man who goes ahead. There is no reward for taking chances, for striking out with bold innovations, for trying to do something better than it was done in the past. And that is one of the many reasons why socialism weakens a nation's fibers.

It is an interesting commentary on the world that most of the the United States, the last great within the Russian orbit—look to the United Sates, the last great capitalist power, for aid and survival. England herself might have collapsed financially had it not been for the billions she has received from America. The Marshall Plan is simply a means of using the economic strength of capitalism to help rehabilitate much of the socialistic world. And we are the only power on earth which can do to job.

Socialism is not a means of spreading the wealth, but of spreading the poverty. It is the surest way to kill the free, adventurous spirit of mankind. Despite this, the United States faces political programs pledged to extend the blight of socialism here. Why?

"In 25 counties patients can secure items of comfort and necessity from Loan Closets. A hospital bed, a wheel chair, a rubber ring, sheets, blankets—any of these may make a world of difference in the well-being of a patient who faces months of illness.

"Radium has been purchased for hospitals in six of our counties.

"Home care of patients by registered nurses is provided in seven county units.

"Transportation of cancer patients to and from their homes to the nearest hospital is supplied by sixteen counties.

Detection centers are financed [illegible]

"The Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society is an unusual combination of lay leaders and physicians, working together as volunteers to shape the fight against cancer. Funds raised in the April drive make possible their extensive service program, finance the year-around educational endeavor, and help to support national research. A good job is being done. Let us do an even better job in 1949."

May Challenge State Pay Hikes

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

LANSING — The state legislature, controlled by Republicans, voted members a $5,800 salary for the two-year term, 1949 and 1950.

Where a member of the house or senate formerly drew $1,095 a year or $2,190 for a two-year term, each legislator will receive $2,900 a year or $5,800 for the biennium. The increase will exceed 250 per cent.

Each legislator will be entitled to receive 10 cents per mile allowance round trip for travel once a month between home and the capitol.

On the basis of a 120-day legislative session (four months, each year), the legislative pay thus becomes $24.16 a day for work performed at Lansing. As in the past, legislators will also receive special expenses for attending legislative committee sessions at Lansing or elsewhere when the legislature is not in official session. Such is the record.

The legislative special session just concluded at Lansing, set the pay of the governor at $22,500, lieutenant governor $6,400, speaker of the house $3,900, and supreme court justices $15,000. A flat $12,500 salary was authorized for the following elective officials: Secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general, treasurer, highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction.

Pay increases for the highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction and supreme court justices would become effective later than Jan. 1, 1949, the date when other officials will draw bigger checks. The road and school administrators will begin new terms July 1, 1949. A constitutional provision prohibits any change in compensation of a court justice during his term of office.

Michigan voters approved on November 2 a proposal to let legislators fix their own salaries. The vote was 935,441 to 531,950. They also approved in similar proportions a proposal to let the legislature fix salaries of state officials.

Legality of the legislative action is bound to be challenged, as Section 3, Article XVI, of the State Constitution forbade changing salaries of officials already elected. But the board of canvassers hasn't "certified" officially to the election results, so it is explained. What will the Supreme court think of it?

And how about public opinion? These answers are yet to come.

Would Take Aches, Pains Out Of Farm Chores

With winter here and field work done, barns are now the daily work center. County agricultural agent Louis G. Hall, has a suggestion that will help to take the aches and pains out of those routine chores. He says, "take time to look for ways to make them safer and easier."

The agent suggests some housecleaning if the alleyways or work areas are obstructed with feed, tools, harness, feed carts, or other obstacles. Avoid storing loose materials overhead, and see that dangerous corners and work centers are conveniently lighted.

Under the heading of making work easier, Agent Hall suggests taking a little time to study chore methods. Eliminating a few steps here and there can add up to a tremendous amount of labor saved over a long period. One of the easiest places to save work is in taking feed to the cows. A rolling feed bin that can be filled once and wheeled down the aisle is much easier than carrying the ration for one or two cows and making several trips.

While you're looking the barn over, check for things that cause falls. High door sills, abrupt changes in floor levels, weak boards, protruding cleats or other tripping hazards should be removed. All floors should be solid, smooth and continuous. Not only will this help prevent accidents but cleaning work and chores will be easier.

YOU Stand to Benefit
Through Fair Electric Rates

As an electric customer, you naturally won't want to pay higher rates than necessary.

But you do want to pay rates, we think, that will permit your electric company to maintain the high quality of its service to you.

Good electric service at fair rates has been a big factor in the development of Michigan. It has helped our state become great in industry, in agriculture, as a tourist and resort area. Everyone living in Michigan has shared in the benefits.

Electric rates below the level of fairness would in time cause a drop in the quality of electric service. This would be a bad thing for Michigan and for you.

HOW HIGH . . . OR LOW . . . SHOULD ELECTRIC RATES BE?

Electric rates should be just high enough to cover the necessary expenses of efficient operation, including maintenance and replacement of property, plus a fair return to the thousands of stockholders who have invested their savings in the business.

If the return is less than fair, people won't be willing to invest their savings in your electric company. Neither will insurance companies, colleges and other institutions such as now hold a large percentage of electric company securities.

It's to your interest as well as ours, to keep Consumers Power Company attractive to investors.

In order to meet the growing demand for electricity in the territory we serve, your electric company is engaged in a huge expansion program. During the last three years, the total invested in new electric plants and other new facilities for serving you amounted to approximately $74,000,000. These new facilities are important to Michigan . . . important to you. "New money" is needed for building them . . . investors' savings for which there is keen competition these days.

This company has reduced its electric rates many times. The last reduction, amounting to $3,000,000 a year, came as recently as 1946. Our rates are considerably below the national average of electric rates. We are proud of this fact; we want to keep our rates as low as good judgment and sound business practice permit.

OUR COSTS ARE . . . 'WAY UP

The cost of everything that enters into your electric service has been going up . . . wages, materials, construction, fuel . . . and, in spite of all we have been able to do, our present low electric rates no longer provide revenue enough to keep this a sound and healthy company.

That's why we have filed a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission asking for an upward revision of electric rates.

If this increase is granted, your electric service will still be the biggest bargain in your budget. The increase will be slightly in comparison with the general rise in the cost of living . . . your cost of living or ours.

The proposed increase will help the company raise the new capital needed for its great expansion program. It will be of benefit to Michigan . . . and to you.

About The Folks YouKnow

A village crew was out early Monday morning dismantling the Christmas decorations, as final proof the holidays have come to an end for another season . . . But that doesn't stop the partying when there are birthdays to be observed . . . Little Janette Buehrer was six years old December 29 and so her mother, Mrs. Elmer Buehrer arranged a party for her. Ann Cameron, Alice Titley, Harriett Blanden, Mary Colgrove and Judy Truesdale came and enjoyed a treasure hunt and other games and stunts, followed by ice cream, hot chocolate and birthday cake. Janette was remembered with lovely gifts.

The Girl Scouts of Cardinal troop No. 6 enjoyed a Christmas party recently and afterwards they went caroling. Mrs. Coates and Mrs. Beckman assisted with the refreshments. Mrs. Harold Clark is leader of the troop and Mrs. Dale Bowen is co-leader.

A daughter, Gwenyth Mary, was born to Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Scarlett, former Tecumseh residents, in Rochester, New York, December 31. The Scarletts have two other children — both boys — so they were elated over the arrival of Gwenyth . . . Mrs. Helen Oliver leaves tomorrow for Oceanside, Calif., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lee Settle and family—which includes a new daughter—for a few weeks.

Enroute to Iowa to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hazard of Buffalo, New York, were in town Monday calling on friends. Bill will be remembered as a former director of the Baptist church choir and he and Mrs. Hazard made many friends while here. They were dinner guests of the B. O. Bashores and stayed overnight there. The Paul Sheldons of Dundee were visitors in the Bashore home, Monday evening.

Miss Esther Mae Frost and Mrs. Stanley Frost left Friday evening to visit friends and relatives in West Virginia over the New Year's weekend and returned home Monday noon . . . Perry Hayden was in Millinton New Year's Eve with his tithing movie "God Is My Landlord." The Merritt Chase family of Clinton accompanied him . . . Mrs. Marian Underwood of Kalamazoo was a guest at the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Powell and children, over the holidays and returned Sunday to resume her teaching duties in the Kalamazoo schools.

The Henry Campbell's entertained New Year's Day, Mrs. Campbell's brother, Perry Stultz of Haviland, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Miller and children of Britton . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and daughter Louise were New Year's Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Falling and sons of Petersburg . . . Tommy Judd returned to Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judd.

During the holidays the children and families of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hayford visited at their home. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hayford of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Vyrl Hayford and family of Alma, William Hayford of Battle Creek and Mrs. Delbert Hawkins and children of Tipton.

"California-bound" are Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Myers, who will leave tomorrow on a trip to California. They will go to San Diego and Long Beach, where Mrs. Myers' son, Don Beaubian, is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Port Hueneme. Mrs. Helen Oliver and her sister-in-law from Detroit will accompany them . . . Sally Heilman and Addie Lindbert left Tuesday morning for Tucson, Ariz. Addie will remain there and Sally will go on to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit for a month with her aunt, . . . Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mix also left Tuesday morning to vacation for a few months in sunny California.

"I'll bet you would," the salesman answered.

42% Of Construction In Rural Communities

More than 42 per cent of new residential construction, both in family units and dollars volume, is built in communities of less than 2,500 population, it is announced by the Michigan Association of Home Builders. This information, taken from government reports, does not include farm home construction which is a large figure itself because of the high farm income.

The state-wide organization of home builders recognizes the benefit to the industry at large, and to the individual builder, of a common meeting ground for all home builders, city or rural. The Michigan Association's First Annual Convention and Exposition to be held in Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium January 18-19-20, 1949 will bring together the entire state home building industry, including the builders and the suppliers of material, equipment and services.

"A state exposition aimed specifically to interest and educate the operating home builder is rather a new idea and different than the usual 'Home Show'," states Hirtus E. Alles, executive secretary. "An intimate meeting of the building trade and the manufacturer or supplier should permit an exchange of information on practices and products that will benefit everyone."

Information on the home building industry or membership in the Michigan Association of Home Builders can be obtained by addressing the Association at P. O. Box 1364, Lansing. Anyone interested in providing better homes, lower cost homes, for Michigan families is invited to attend the Grand Rapids Convention and Exposition in January.

Jacob Is Sold to the Ishmaelites

And Judah said unto his brothers: "What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood? . . . let us sell him to the Ishmaelites, and let not our hand be upon him." And his brothers were content. And they drew up Joseph out of the pit and sold him for twenty pieces of silver. Genesis 37:23.

Joseph was Jacob's favorite and all Joseph's brothers realized it and were jealous. Then when Joseph had his dreams in which his brothers payed obeisance to him they decided to get rid of him.

Jealousy and petty selfishness are two factors your church are trying to eliminate in a world that is so complex. Attend your church regularly and see how you can help.

Join this army and see the World!

HERE'S one army you'll be tickled to death to sign up with—and for a good, long hitch at that.

It's the growing band of happy folks who are stepping out in tidy new 1949 Buicks—and they've got plenty to sound off about.

Mobility for instance. All the life and zing of big Fireball power plants, cradled to velvet smoothness on Hi-Poised engine mountings.

Silk-smooth operation on city street or open highway through the near-magic of Dynaflow Drive,† available now on the Buick SUPER as well as the ROADMASTER.

And what a wonderful outlook you find here! Through broad, high, full-curving windshields that really let you see.

Through deep, airy side windows that send the whole countryside passing in review—through wide, one-piece rear windows that make parking and backing much easier.

Statistically, the fact is that 4-door Sedans have 22% more glass area than before. Practically, the thing to do is sit in one of these beauties—and note how beautifully you can see the world.

Note, while you're at it, the figures on your dealer's price tags. Even they are part of a mighty happy picture that makes it advisable to get your order in without delay.

Miss Jacquelyn Costigan Weds Lieut. Rob't. Wilson

Saturday, January 1, in the First Presbyterian church, Miss Jacquelyn Bruce Costigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith Costigan, became the bride of Lieut. Robert Henry Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Warren Wilson, all of Tecumseh. The vows were exchanged before the altar which was banked with palms and baskets of white carnations, gladioli and ivy. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson read the impressive single ring ceremony at four o'clock.

Robrt Mohr, Karl Schneider and Donald Carlson seated the guests in the pews which were decorated with ivy and tied with white satin ribbons. Mrs. Fred Dickinson played an interlude of organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was preceded to the altar by Mrs. Peter McGee of Detroit as matron of honor. Miss Patricia Wilson as the bridesmaid and Miss Judith Ann Ripley as junior bridesmaid. James Smith assisted Mr. Wilsoon as best man.

Fashioned of candlelight slipper satin, the bride's gown was styled simply with a high neckline and long buttoned sleeves. A draped at the hipline ended in a wide sash which fell in the folds of a full circular train. The double tiered fingertip veil of ivory illusion was fastened to a cap of imported Venice lace. The bride's bouquet of white roses was centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls.

Mrs. McGee and Miss Wilson were identically gowned in flamn colored crepe. The gowns were styled with high necklines and cap sleeves and the long slim skirts featured draped hiplines. Their flower trimmed halo hats of flame tulle matched the mitts of the same materfial and they carried bouquets of white carnations centered with white gardenias. A floor length gown made of the same material as the bride's, was worn by Miss Ripley. It was fashioned with a scalloped neckline, cap sleeves and bustle back, and accented by a flame colored bonnet of velvet and matching mitts of net. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

After the ceremony a reception for some 200 guests was held in the Tecumseh Club. The four-tiered wedding cake, separated by columns, was topped with wedding bells and a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Charles Cramer of Ann Arbor cut the cake, and Joan Bromm of Saginaw cut the groom's cake. Mrs. Beth Ripley, sister of the bride, and Mrs. John Snyder, seated at either end of the bride's table, poured. The table was attractive with a centerpiece of white carnations and ivy. Miss Jean Marie Herrick assisted as hostess. Mrs. Seymour Barritt assisted with serving ice cream and Mrs. June Green was in charge of the guest book. Guests were present from Ann Arbor, Bay City, Mt. Pleasant, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Clinton and Tecumseh.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1943, attended Michigan State College and graduated from the University of Michigan Dental School in 1947. The groom graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1942, attended Albion College one year and graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1946.

Fred M. Alger Talks To Clubs

MICHIGAN SECRETARY OF STATE ADDRESSES MEETING AT GRANGE HALL

Compulsory semi-annual inspection of motor cars by state designated garages, adoption of a uniform traffic code and simplification of the drivers' license system are programs that are being studied by Michigan lawmakers, Fred M. Alger, secretary of state, disclosed, when he spoke, Tuesday evening, at the Grange Hall. It was a joint meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary and Exchange Clubs, with members of the Clinton Rotary Club as guests. A dinner preceded the program.

Discussing the uniform traffic code, Mr. Alger declared that he favored the adoption of such a law which would make Michigan's traffic regulations conform to those in other states. He also approved adoption of the compulsory motor vehicle inspection program, pointing out that while such inspection may cost motorists $1 a year it will, at the same time, assure them that all cars on the road are in safe condition for operation. The change in the driver license program would simplify the issuance of the license, particularly to those who do not have recorded traffic violations.

Alger, a Republican, is one of the few state officers at Lansing who survived the November Democratic landslide. Wearing a bow tie, he declared that he took no credit for the ties worn by Gov. Williams. "I wore them long before I knew the Governor," Alger said. "It's a practice I adopted when I laid off my Navy uniform."

Senator Elmer Porter of Blissfield, and Rollo Conlin, state representative, Tipton, accompanied Alger to Tecumseh. Earlier in the afternoon they visited Tecumseh Products Company and toured the village.

March Of Dimes To Get Under Way January 14th

The blackest polio year of the past three decades has just passed into history. Its tragic toll of more than 26,000 cases was the highest number recorded since the calamitous epidemic of 1916.

The epidemics placed a tremendous burden upon health facilities in 20 states where polio was epidemic, for no community, no city, no state can long sustain the [illegible] impact of polio in its severest forms without help from outside sources, it was pointed out.

Demands from affected areas in this epidemic were greater than ever before. The financial drain upon The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has wiped out the organization's epidemic reserves and depleted treasuries of hundreds of chapters in hard-hit states. The job of fighting the epidemic and treating polio patients in 1948 will cost the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis approximately $18,000,000. And experience shows that more money is needed in the aftermath of an epidemic than is needed during the epidemic itself.

This staggering cost has created a financial emergency that threatens to hold up the fight against infantile paralysis along all fronts. Research projects aimed at finding a preventive or cure for polio may have to be curtailed because all available funds are needed to solve the immediate problem of helping those already stricken with the disease. Long-term plans for wiping polio from the face of the earth may be seriously delayed unless sufficient funds are made available to carry on research and education despite the emergency demands of recurring epidemics.

Unless this critical financial emergency is alleviated by Spring of 1949, another sweeping epidemic may find the nation unprepared to help the thousands who must have quick and adequate assistance. For when epidemic strikes, all action, all energy, must be concentrated on the job at hand. There is no time to raise funds in the midst of an epidemic. The time for action is now.

During the period from January 14 to 31, the public will be asked to give to the March of Dimes. This is the only fund-raising drive of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It is held during the winter, so that when the hot summer months bring with them the threat of infantile paralysis, more than 2,800 National Foundation Chapters, serving every county in the nation, will be ready and able to meet an emergency that may arise.

Half the funds raised in the March of Dimes remains in the treasuries of local chapters, to provide continued care and treatment for your friends and neighbors who need help, to furnish hospitalization, medication and nursing care, to buy braces and crutches and wheel chairs for those who need such appliances, to pay for therapy and rehabilitation services, and to meet the first heavy blows of epidemics in your community.

The other half of the March of Dimes contribution is sent to national headquarters of the National Foundation, to be used in fighting infantile paralysis from every possible quarter on a national scale. This money is used to support research into every phase of polio study at 88 of the nation's foremost research institutions. It is used to provide scholarships and fellowships in the field of polio for doctors, nurses, physical therapists and professional workers in all categories whose services are vital to the treatment and study of poliomyelitis. It is used to help [illegible] public with [illegible] facts relating to polio and its prevention. And it is used as an epidemic emergecy reserve to be poured into epidemic areas when all Chapter funds have been wiped out.

If this work is to continue with undiminished vigor during the coming year, action must be taken now to make the January March of Dimes an unprecedented success. If you can help in some small way to make life brighter for some crippled child, you will be doing your part.

There were eleven new polio cases in Lenawee county in 1948 for which the Lenawee chapter paid for hospitalization, X-rays, etc., 92^{00}, which included $218.10 for victims of prior years. The Lenawee county drive for 1949 realized only $6300, exhausting the funds. Four children out of the eleven cases of 1948 were badly crippled and it will mean continued hospitalization for them. No salaries or personal benefit of any kind is realized by any member of the Lenawee chapter. All the work and effort of raising money and looking after the hospitalization of those afflicted with polio is donated.

PROSPERITY THAT ENDURES

Socialism, according to its partisans, is supposed to produce the nearest approach to an earth-bound Utopia, in which everyone will have more of everything, in return for a minimum of work.

However, in practice, even socialism can't rid itself of economic laws which have existed since man first organized a society. An excellent example of this has occurred in England, where Sir Stafford Cripps, the tough-minded leader of the Labor government's economic program, recently told workers that greater production must precede greater rewards. He said, "There is only one way by which we can, with a given volume of employment, increase our standard of living and that is by each of us producing more, or in other words, putting up our productivity. There is no other answer." He then said that a proposal for increasing wages by cutting [illegible] made no sense, and pointed out that the profits amounted to next to nothing when compared with wages and salaries.

American labor, fortunately for its freedom and its welfare, has so far been spared from the blight of socialism that has produced inertia and boundless red tape in England. But Sir Stafford Cripps' remarks apply with equal weight to labor in the United States or anywhere else. One of the main reasons for inflation in this country is that labor has sought—and gained—ever increasing pay, even as large segments of it have by one means or another reduced individual output. A few labor leaders have themselves pointed to the dangers in this policy, and it is to their great credit that they have done so.

It may be old-fashioned to speak of an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. But the principle that represents was largely responsible for the growth of this country from a colony to the world's foremost industrial power in an incredibly brief period of time. We produced. We got the goods out in an ever-increasing volume. And we earned the highest standard of living in the world by doing it.

The theory of less and less effort for more and more money has been tried, and it has benefited almost no one. What counts isn't the number of dollars in the pay envelope, but what those dollars will buy. The responsibility of American industry is to give labor the finest possible tools to work with. The responsibility of labor is to make these tools do the best possible production job. Then we can create the kind of prosperity that endures, and gives everyone more of the good things of life.

"Farmer Takes A Wife," To Be Broadcast, Friday

Eddie Albert and his wife, Margo, outstanding young couple of stage and scren, will co-star in The Farmer Takes A Wife, drama by Elser and Connelly, to be broadcast this Friday evening over Station CKLW at 8 p.m.

The Farmer Takes A Wife centers around the Erie Canal when it was the throbbing main artery of the nation's commerce. Margo (Molly Larkin) lived on, worked on, and loved the Erie . . . she was a true "canawler." But Eddie Albert (Dan Harrow) wanted to leave the canal and buy a farm. And though Molly loved Dan she feared and resisted change . . she believed true security depended on maintaining things-as-they-are. Almost too late, Molly did learn that true security and happiness depend on an inner strength . . . on what is in the heart. And the play ends happily when, as its title says, The Farmer Takes a Wife.

Chosen to dramatize the necessity for finding a source of inner strength, Farmer Takes a Wife is sixteenth in the series of Great Scenes from Great Plays sponsored weekly by families of Protestant Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Actors' Guild.

and storage room of the new high school. The east and north wall footings already have been poured.

"The board of education has been advised that with the progress that has been made thus far the masons will be ready to begin laying brick about the first of February," Place said.

The new junior-senior high school building will be built of buff colored brick and the superintendent said that there would be no delay in the delivery of the material.

School officials are hopeful that with the arrival of spring the work on the building can be speeded up and changes completed during the summer. If this is possible, first class sessions in the new building may be held in September or, at the latest, by January of 1950.

The new building is being constructed at a cost of $400,000. Of this amount, $180,000 is being raised through a 5-year bonding program, $145,000 is the gift of Tecumseh Products Co., R. W. Herrick, president, and three of his associates, F. K. Smith, C. M. Brown and Jens Touborg, and the balance of the money comes from a sinking fund, already established. His appointment as campaign chairman of the Michigan division of the American Cancer society was announced today by George A Webber of Jackson, division president.

A nationwide campaign for funds to fight cancer, the second leading cause of death in the United States, will get under way April 1.

"No one can afford to let cancer continue taking its tragic toll," Mr. Martin said upon accepting the appointment. "The lives and happiness of too many people are in the balance."

He pointed out that the disease strikes in every other home and kills one in eight persons. Statistics show that 188,000 Americans will die of cancer in 1949.

The American Cancer Society annually makes extensive grants for research to develop better methods of diagnosing and treating the disease.

One-half of the campaign funds remains in the communities participating and is used for local cancer control programs and providing bandages, sickroom equipment and service to cancer sufferers.

During World War II, he helped organize and later served as head of the United States Office of Civilian Defense.

Later commissioned in the Navy, he served on foreign secret service work in the European theater. After the war he was assigned to the staff of the Unite States prosecutor of Axis war criminals in Nuremburg, Germany. He helped prepare cases against major Nazis.

New Chevrolet for 49

Tested and Proved...

on the world's toughest Proving Ground

WHEN you see the 1949 Chevrolets, a glance will be enough to tell you they're new—all new—in line and contour, in beauty and style. And when you look inside, and under the hood, and beneath the chassis, you'll see that their newness is not merely in outward appearance, but in design and engineering and construction as well.

But, to a lot of people, the 1949 Chevrolet is already old. They know what it will do, and how exceedingly well it will do it—they know all about its performance, its comfort, its power, safety, durability and economy. They are the engineers and technicians of the General Motors Proving Ground—the largest, most completely equipped, outdoor testing laboratory in the automobile world.

Here, before a single new 1949 Chevrolet went into production, experimental models were tested—made to show that they possess, in greater measure than ever, all those qualities on which Chevrolet has built its leadership.

CHEVROLET STRIKES A NEW NOTE

In short, the General Motors Proving Ground tests are your assurance that your new-model Chevrolet has proved its worth through many months and many, many thousands of miles of rough handling.

Soon you will see the new Chevrolet—and when you do, you will see a car not only new, but tried and true.

of December, an increase of 22 per cent over December of 1947.

In the preceding month of November Michigan's death rate showed an increase of eight per cent while the national death rate decreased eight per cent.

Over the three-day Christmas week-end 29 persons lost their lives. During the next four-day interval 24 were killed, and over the three-day New Year's week-end 19 died.

Because of the sharp increase in the number of persons killed in November and December as compared with the same months in 1947, it now appears that total deaths for 1948 will approximate 1,465, or 13 more than in 1947.

About The Folks You Know

Folks were on the verge of getting spring fever when ol' man weather decided to take a turn—but the absence of snow is felt most by the children. Sunday was a perfect day for motoring and many did just that . . . Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lapham and son Bernard and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman and son Charles drove over to Canada to spend the day in Essex.

Mr. and Mrs. Faye VanValkenburg and Mr. and Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg were in How[illegible] visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waldron and daughter Ruth Ann. Mr. Waldron is a brother of the two Mrs. VanValkenburgs . . . And from Howell came Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baldwin to enjoy the week end at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Baldwin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach started something when they entertained Saturday evening, in their home at a benefit party for the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. The few hours spent playing cards and enjoying the usual refreshments was so profitable it was decided to continue with similar parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Stout and daughter were pleasantly surprised when friends came Saturday evening for a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Stout. Dinner was served at which time the birthday cake was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White and W. D. Aspinwall of Delta, Ohio, and Dr. Wallace C. Stout of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Stout was the recipient of many lovely gifts. . . . Speaking of surprises, the choir members of the Baptist church had one last evening, when, after practice, the Good Cheer class served them refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible]berwald entertained the Lenawee County Rural Letter Carriers Association at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The members enjoyed a potluck supper and a social time followed.

In observance of her birthday Mrs. Otto Baaske and Mr. Baaske entertained at dinner, Sunday. The guests were the Rev. and Mrs. William Weinlander and Mrs. Hermine Steutzer of North Bloomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Priellpp of Deerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dinse, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dinse and daughter Nancy and Mrs. Bertha Baaske. Mrs. Baaske was remembered with many useful gifts.

Pfc. Donald E. Everhart saw plenty of snow last week when he was enroute to his new base at Mountain Home, Idaho. He was stranded by the storm in Omaha, Nebraska, from Monday afternoon to Friday morning. According to word received by Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everhart, it was quite an experience.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The Presbyterian Women's Association will meet at the church Wednesday, January 19, at 8 p.m. The topic will be "Presbyterian Life Goes To China." Mrs. H. E. Kenrick will lead, in de[illegible] [illegible] Thompson and Mrs. Clyde Bailey are the program leaders. Mrs. Fred Dickinson will give a book review. The hostesses are Mrs. Fay Whelan, chairman; Miss Bess Spayde, Mrs. Mervyn Boltz, Mrs. Percy Bowen, Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, Mrs. Sam Shervino, Mrs. Jack Hanna and Mrs. James Elliott.

Will Williams Play Politics?

POLITICIANS EYE NEW GOVERNOR WHO HAS THE BLESSING OF THE CIO

LANSING—G. Mennen Williams, Kim Sigler's appointee to the state liquor control committee, who was inaugurated governor of Michigan on New Year's Day, now has the opportunity and responsibility of writing his own record during 1949 and 1950.

One chapter of this record will cover his stand on maintaining law and order through the arm of the Michigan State Police during labor strikes. "Soapy" Williams, so known to his friends, had the fanatic support of CIO unions during the 1948 fall campaign. He delivered numerous talks in union halls. He proposed repeal of the Bonine-Tripp labor relations act. He urged increase in unemployment compensation, old age and mothers' pensions, and changes in the state labor department. His press secretary was a CIO union secretary in 1948.

It may be assumed therefore that Governor Williams will be friendly to organized labor. He is said to have the personal blessing of Associate Justice Frank Murphy whose decision not to enforce constitutional law and order in 1947, when he was governor and when the CIO seized industrial plants, became a key factor in his political defeat two years later.

Early on the morning of December 1 the Shakespeare plant at Kalamazoo was invaded and damaged by a CIO "goon squad" from Detroit, A CIO official, acting during absence of top CIO command on the west coast, said he had ordered the strike demonstration. Much to the embarassment of his bosses, the lawless raid thus became publicly tagged as a CIO affair. A grand jury is now in session.

Following an appeal from the Kalamazoo city manager, Governor Sigler ordered the Michigan State Police to assist in maintenance of law and order. This was done.

Because the State Police intervenes in such a situation only by order of the governor, following an appeal from a local law enforcement authority, the decision is one for the chief executive to make. Inevitably a similar situation will arise in 1949.

Governor Williams will have two choices. Will he play politics, paying off a campaign debt, or will he enforce the law impartially?

Joseph Interprets Pharaoh's Dream

Pharaoh dreamed as he slept and it came to pass that in the morning his spirit was troubled; and he called all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men; but there was none that could interpret the dreams of Pharaoh.

Joseph was brought out of prison to interpret these dreams and told Pharaoh there would be seven years of plenty and then seven years of famine in his country. Genesis 41:8-14.

Whenever Joseph needed help and guidance God was behind him because Joseph believed unwaveringly in him. If only millions of other people would follow this example, there would be a better chance for world peace. Do your bit by attending your church regularly.

In Order to Continue Good Electric Service TO YOU

We have at long last been forced to file a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission for an increase in electric rates.

Through the years there have been many reductions of electric rates. Electricity actually is selling for less than before World War II, in the territory served by Consumers Power Company.

Everything your electric company buys costs a lot more than it did a few years ago. Wages are up 67 per cent, coal 99 per cent. Materials also have risen sharply.

Today's rock-bottom electric rates aren't bringing in enough money to meet these higher costs and still provide a fair return to the investors who supplied the money to build the generating plants, transmission lines, substations and other facilities used in serving you.

It is important that these investors receive reasonable earnings on their investment. Otherwise this company might have difficulty in obtaining, on suitable terms, the large amounts of "new money" to finance the huge expansion program now in progress.

This expansion program is important to Michigan and to every customer of Consumers Power Company.

The proposed increase is small in comparison with the general rise in prices. The benefits will be great . . . for you, for us, and for the large Michigan area we serve.

Average Of Five Killed Daily In November Traffic

156 LOST LIVES, 188 WERE HURT DURING MONTH, POLICE REPORT

Each day during the month of November an average of five persons lost their lives and 188 were injured in 396 traffic accidents in Michigan.

The total death toll of 156 was the highest monthly record of the year, and all but dashed hopes that 1948 would witness a substantial reduction in fatalities as compared with 1947.

The November figures are contained in the monthly traffic accident report of the Michigan State Police. The report shows that 11 more persons died in November of this year than in the same month a year ago, injuries increased from 3,458 to 3,550, or three per cent, but the number of accidents decreased from 12,518 to 11,896, or five per cent.

All of the net fatality increase occurred on the rural trunkline system, with pedestrian deaths showing a sharp upswing, or 26 as compared with 17 in November last year. There also was a gain in deaths resulting from ran-off-roadway accidents. Eighty per cent of the pedestrian deaths and 67 per cent of the total fatal accidents took place during hours of darkness.

The decrease in the total number of all accidents is believed to have been at least partly due to better than normal driving conditions during the month because of the absence of snow and ice.

The record for the first 11 months of the year shows 1,285 persons killed, 38,452 injured, and 125,007 accidents. Compared with the same period of 1947, deaths decreased 27, or two per cent, injuries increased 2,199, or six per cent, and accidents increased 4,059, or three per cent.

Total mileage travelled in the first 10 months of 1948 was seven per cent more than in the same period last year, but the death rate of seven per 100 million miles of travel was down 10 per cent.

Eisenhower Reveals Two-Day Soup Rule

NEW YORK—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, amateur chef, has contributed his favorite recipe for vegetable soup to Columbia University's new cook book. Mere reading of the 650-word recipe makes your mouth water. But it takes two days to cook it.

Columbia's President, who sometimes yearned to relax over a cookstove when weighted down with the problems of war at SHAEF, suggests a tablespoon of tender nasturtium stems—when in season—as a final touch to two days of toil.

The general's masterpiece appears in "What's Cooking at Columbia," published December 1. The book, first issued in 1942, contained favorite recipes of more than 200 Columbia faculty members.

"Brethren," said the pastor at the deacon's meeting, "I wish we could find some way to get more men to attend church on Sunday."

"Maybe you could," said one of the brethren, "if you could get the fish to quit biting on Sundays."

"Homely girls are smarter than pretty girls," we are told. They have to be.

Can you afford today's rising hospital costs?

Figures show that one out of every four families will be faced with hospital bills this year—would you be able to pay them?

TO GO to a hospital today costs far more than it used to—in some cases 98% more than in 1941. Just as expenses have gone up in your own household or business, it now costs far more to run a hospital than ever before. That's why hospital bills are larger than ever—and are still rising all over the state! That's why you and your family need this Blue Cross protection now more than ever.

No other health-care plans offer so much for so little

For only pennies a day, you and your entire family can be protected now and whenever sickness might strike in the future.

BLUE CROSS Hospital Plan Pays up to 120 days of hospital care per disability for Ward or Semi-Private accommodations. Eliminates admittance deposits—no forms or claims to fill out. NO CASH LIMIT for maternity care (after nine consecutive months of membership) and such extra services as general nursing . . . meals and special diets . . . operating room . . . drugs, dressings . . . laboratory . . . and many more items—when a bed patient in any one of the 160 participating hospitals in Michigan which operate the Blue Cross Plan. Liberal allowance toward your hospital bill in non-participating hospitals.

BLUE CROSS Surgical Plan Pays stated amounts for surgical procedures . . . maternity care provided (after nine consecutive months' enrollment) . . . emergency (accident) care . . . up to $15 per year for diagnostic X-rays.

BLUE CROSS Medical-Surgical Plan Pays (in addition to surgical benefits) stated amounts for doctor's bills when hospitalized for reasons not requiring surgery.

Talk over with your employer how your company can provide this protection for you

Blue Cross is available to employed people, without physical examination, or health statement, through the group enrollment plan.

Foreman (to small son of one of his workmen who has met with an accident)—When will your dad be fit for work again?

Boy—Can't say for certain, but it will be a long time.

Foreman—Oh, what makes you think that?

Boy—Cos compensation's set in.

We Both Won This One

Blew my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice!" I hollers. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons?" That took the wind out of me.

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

Quaker Adopts Insurance Plan

EMPLOYEES WITH SIX MONTHS SERVICE MAY BENEFIT UNDER PROGRAM

The Quaker Oats Company today notified its Tecumseh employees that they may enroll in a new group life insurance plan be ginning January 17. The same plan is being established at all the company's plan s and offices in the United States.

In a letter and descriptive booklet mailed today to the homes of all employees, Manager Donald T Nixon reported that Quaker will share the cost of this new protection with those who enroll.

Employees, if approved, become eligible to enroll under the plan he said, upon six months or more of service. Each eligible employee will be permitted to subscribe for an amount of insurance about equal to his base wages for one year.

The plan is being underwritten by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Among its rather unusual features, Nixon said, are the insurance will be continued in the event of permanent total disability, and that Quaker will continue a reduced amount of insurance for those who retire—both at no cost to the employee.

He continued by stating that he new plan should make a good addition to Quaker's total program of helping to provide security for its employees and their families. The program also includes a profit-sharing plan, a retirement plan, a health plan and a guaranteed work plan.

35 Are Enrolled In Night School Classes

Thirty-five persons are enrolled in Tecumseh's Adult Education Night School classes, Neville Hart, director, announced today. Ten enrolled in the school on Monday evening and, Mr. Hart said, the enrollment is now closed.

Classes meet each Monday evening and this schedule has been set up: 7 p.m., typewriting; 8 p.m., bookkeeping; 9 p.m., shorthand.

Eighteen women enrolled, Hart said, in the "Home and Family Living" class that meets each Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the public library. This class, under the direction of Mrs. Belle Farley Murray of Plymouth, also is a part of the Adult Education Program. Mrs. Murray is sent here by the extension department of the University of Michigan.

Public Is Invited To See The Inauguration

If you are not one of the few who have a television set in your home, and you desire to see the inauguration of President Truman in Washington, today, feel free to go to the high school where a television screen has been set up for the public's benefit.

"Many students, particularly in senior high school wanted to see the inauguration ceremonies and we have arranged to make it possible," Earl H. Place, superintendent, said. The television equipment is being set up in the school by Tecumseh Electric Supply.

"Adults beyond school age, who desire to see the ceremonies, may feel free to visit us," Mr. Place said.

Will Show Pictures Of Camp North Woods

Slide pictures and photos of Camp Northwoods, located in northern Michigan, will be shown in the auditorium of Tecumseh high school, Monday evening, January 24, at 7:30 o'clock. James McDowell, camp director, has announced. All parents of school age boys and girls and other interested persons are invited to attend.

"The response to the camping program last summer for Tecumseh school pupils was excellent," McDowell said, "although the number enrolled was insufficient to pay expenses. We are hoping this year that approximately 60 to 80 pupils will enroll early enough so that we can offer another summer of school camping for this community," he declared.

The slide pictures are said to be in color with some black and whites. Parents of children who attended this camp last summer are asked to bring the pictures they have. Plans for next summer will be discussed and those who wish to enroll their children at this time, may do so.

To illustrate his talk, Mr. McEylea showed pictures of women operating the switchboards and explained why it was necessary to know the proper way to use a telephone and to be courteous to the operators, so that one can expect more efficient and courteous service in return.

FRIENDS SPEAKER

Sunday evening, January 24, the Rev. C. R. Booth of Lansing will be the guest speaker at the Tecumseh Friends church, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Booth, president of the Michigan Temperance Council, will use as his topic, "I Heard God Speak To Me."

100-Mile Wind Sweeps State

DAMAGE IS EXTENSIVE IN MICHIGAN; TECUMSEH, COUNTY DAMAGE MINOR

Although extensive damage was reported throughout southern Michigan, Tecumseh and Lenawee county escaped with only minor loss the windstorm of early Wednesday morning that at times, according to Detroit weathermen, reached a 100-mile velocity.

Utility companies suffered the greatest loss as a result of the blow. Trees were toppled here in a dozen places, taking electric and telephone lines to the ground. Sections of Tecumseh were without electrical service for 10 or 12 hours, and the Michigan Associated Telephone Company reported about 140 phones were out of order.

The only damage to the downtown seciton came when the wind blew in a large window in the D. & C store.

State police at Clinton said that insofar as they knew all of the damage in the area was confined to trees and utility companies. Clinton was without light or power for several hours.

East of here, in the Ridgeway, Britton and Macon areas, trees were reported to have been uprooted. A barn on the Leonard Exelby farm, Britton, was blown down, and another barn was leveled on a farm in Washtenaw county.

The blow began about midnight and contiuned for two hours. Earlier in the evening it had rained and a sleet storm threatened until the temperature started to climb. It had reached the 52 degree mark when the windstorm started and then it pitched suddenly downward, halting in the 20's.

Rotary Officer Is Club's Guest

DISTRICT GOVERNOR SMITH OF WINDSOR, MAKES OFFICIAL VISIT HERE

John F. Smith, governor of the 153rd district, Rotary International, a past president of the Windsor, Ontario, Canada, Rotary Club, made his official visit to Tecumseh Rotary, Tuesday. During the afternoon he met with Charles O. Butler, president of the club, and other officers and committee chairmen, and following dinner at Brees House in the evening he officially addressed the membership.

"Rotary, I am happy to report, is, in our district, growing younger. It is in good hands and it is doing a grand job. It is important that we stress vocational service, and international service.

"With its more than 6,000 clubs scattered world-wide, is in an enviable position to further the cause of world peace," the governor said.

The governor paid a distinct compliment to the Tecumseh club, congratulating it for its many civic activities.

Gov. Smith was born in Detroit and was graduated from the Detroit College of Law and the Detroit College of Pharmacy. He is a past president of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association and during World War II he served as a member of the advisory committee of the Pharmaceutical Division of the Canadian Price and Trade Board.

Next week, members of the Milan Rotary club will be guests of Tecumseh Rotary at dinner at Brees House at 6:45 p.m., Tuesday, and the meeting will adjourn to the high school for the Town Hall program.

Audiometer Tests For Local Students

Audiometer tests to determine just how well Tecumseh school children hear will be held in the public schools here on January 31, February 2 and 3, Earl H. Place, superintendent, said today. The tests are conducted by the Lenawee County Health Unit with approval of the Michigan Department of Health.

"These tests will be more or less of a screening, and in instances where it is found that students are in need of assistance, the state will carry on," Mr. Place said.

The superintendent estimated that more than 700 local children would be tested during the three days that the Unit audiometer is here. He also said that 101 children from rural schools in the area would be brought here for tests. Only children from grades four through 12 will receive the examination.

Thatcher Named Postmaster Here

WILL SUCCEED WILEY McCANN WHO RESIGNED, ABOUT FEBRUARY 1

Wiley F. McCann, acting postmaster here for two years, said today he had been advised that Fent Edwin N. Thatcher of 102 East Chicago boulevard, has been named to succeed him as acting postmaster. The appointment probably will become effective about the first of February, Mr. McCann said.

McCann said that he submitted his resignation as acting postmaster on August 12, 1948, but that it was not until Saturday that it was accepted by the first assistant postmaster general at Washington. McCann succeeded Percy Bowen as acting postmaster in February, 1947.

Thatcher, who is a mechanical engineer employed by the City of Detroit, will not return to Tecumseh until Friday evening, it was said at his home. Thatcher has lived here for a little more than a year, moving to Tecumseh in September of 1947 from Muskegon Heigh s.

Thatcher served four years as judge of probate in Muskegon, retiring from that office about six years ago. He also served for six years as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee before he moved to Tecumseh.

Band Uniform Dance Here Tomorrow Night

The Band Uniform Dance, sponsored by the Tecumseh Exchange Club, will be held Friday evening, starting at 9 o'clock, at the high school gymnasium. Music will be furnished by Driscoll's orchestra.

The dance is being staged by the club as a part of its program to raise some $3,300 for new uniforms for the high school band.

February 11, at the Products Union Hall, Exchange will hold its "County Fair," another project in the club's money-raising program.

Van Coevering To Speak Here

DETROIT WILDLIFE EDITOR TO APPEAR ON TOWN HALL SERIES, JAN. 25

The pick of years of work with color motion pictures will be brought to Tecumseh on Tuesday evening, January 25, when Jack Van Coevering, wildlife editor of a Detroit newspaper will come in person to present his picture "Out doors in Michigan." Mr. Van Coevering will speak at the Town Hall meeting, to be held in the high scool auditorium at 8 p.m.

Unlike many movie enthusiasts who put their cameras on the shelf in winter, Mr. Van Coevering uses his camera the year around. The result is the inclusion of many thrilling snow pictures and winter sports activities in a film that fairly bristles with beauty.

The visit to winter wonderland includes some striking shots of hoarfrost in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, herds of deer in deep snow, porcupines leaving footprints and a visit to Michigan's Tahquamenon Falls in the dead of winter.

The spring episodes being with a crow hunt, showing crows in slow motion as they are struck by hunters' scattershot. This is followed by trout fishing on the AuSable River, perch fishing at Tawas and Grand Haven, and other fishing adventures in various parts of the state, and a parade of wildflowers that show forth the glory of all outdoors.

A striking episode will show a large-mouth bass rising out of the water to take a frog, and in another fishing scene, a bluegill may be seen actually taking the fly. These are in slow motion and are among the most unusual pictures Mr. Van Coevering has ever taken.

Hunters will revel in the work of two champion dogs: Tonquish Bud and Communique, both working on northern Michigan pheasants. Pheasant hunting will include a surpassing bit of head-work by a couple of young pointers in the field. All of these pictures are of hunting "as it really is." The pictures all were made in the course of regular hunting in Michigan, and include no special sets or fake acting.

The picture concludes with a colorful episode of hunting deer with bow and arrow and also with a satisfying rabbit hunt in lower

COMPETITION AT WORK

Meat continues to demonstrate the fact that it is completely responsive to the price pressures exerted by a free, competitive market—whether those pressures be upward or downward.

One of ... re recent exam... of this came as good news to consumers. Between mid-September and mid-November the general wholesale price of meats declined 16 per cent. That was the average for the entire country, and covered all meats—beef, pork, veal and lamb— and all representative weights and grades.

It would be foolish indeed to conclude from this that meat will continue to get cheaper and cheaper. Forecasting the future trend of prices is always the most hazardous of undertakings. But it does show what economists have long known—that in our free market, where supply and demand is the major factor in determining the price at which anything will be sold, price fixing is impossible.

There is still another phase of this free market which is as important as its influence on prices. It is the only kind of market in the history of economics which assures maximum production, and abundant supply of goods the people want. A so-called "controlled market"—whether that control be exerted by the government, by cartels, by private monopolies, or anything else—invariably has a depressing influence on production. It creates scarcity. By eliminating or minimizing competition, it takes away the incentive to do a better job, and to find ways and means of operating more economically and efficiently.

In the long pull, the whole impetus of the free market is toward giving the people more and better goods and services for the money they have to spend.

Progressive streamlining of the 1949 Chevrolet is in emphasis in this view of the Styleline De Luxe four-door sedan against a new Martin 202 passenger airliner. Notable in the roomier, lower cars is a balance in design that adds greater comfort and driving ease as well as smart appearance.

Public Favors War On Cancer

"Men and women today are not afraid to discuss cancer fully and freely," George A. Webber, president of the Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society declared today in a brief review of the educational aspect of the Division's three-pronged cancer control program of research, service, and education.

Mr. Webber cited as proof of his conviction a recent country-wide study of popular attitudes about cancer by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan. While the complete survey has not yet been published, Mr. Webber reported that in interviews for the study not a single person approached refused to answer questions about cancer.

Eighty per cent of those interviewed named cancer as one of the most dangerous diseases facing the country today. Eighty-five per cent declared that campaigns for funds by the American Cancer Society and other similar agencies were entirely acceptable.

"The public's attitude and the public's financial support of our April drives," Mr. Webber said "have made it possible for us to organize a year-round educational program in the eighty counties outside of the Detroit area which our division services in Michigan."

As examples of the work in the last twelve months, Mr. Webber cited:

Distribution of 960,230 leaflets and pamphlets containing cancer danger signals and other educational material.

Exhibits on cancer control at 54 county fairs which were seen by some 500,000 people.

Showing of the American Cancer Society's six films to 1,500 different groups in schools, colleges, women's clubs, service clubs, farm bureau and home extension groups, etc.

Maintenance of permanent cancer information centers in ten of the larger counties.

More than thirty panel discussions of cancer before the Farm Bureau and the Home Extension Groups and the Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Physicians, lay spokesmen for the Cancer Society, nurses, health department officials, newspaper men, and others, participate in these panels. After a recent panel discussion in Barry County three who attended went to their family physician with suspicious symptoms. Cancers in an early and curable stage were found.

Exhibits at twenty national and regional conventions held in various parts of the state.

"Our problem now is to satisfy the increasing public demand for information about cancer," Mr. Webber said. "The men and women of the state want to know the facts. With continued public support of our April campaigns, we will see that they get the facts."

Miss Joan Cadmus, daughter of Roy Cadmus of Holloway, and Richard M. Giffen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Flynn Earle of Jackson, were united in marriage Wednesday evening, January 12, during a ceremony performed in the Holloway Presbyterian church. The Rev. D. S. Carmichael of Walled Lake read the double ring service before the altar decorated with hampers of white gladioli and lighted tapers in candelabra with a background of evergreen boughs.

Mrs. Roger Richards played a program of organ music as Robert Warner, Steve Halchishak and Victor Voorhees, jr., seated the guests. William Budwit assisted Mr. Giffin as best man.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Mrs. William Budwit, sister of the bride, as matron of honor and Miss Elaine Hannahs of Sault Ste. Marie and Miss Barbara Sinner of Detroit as the bridesmaids. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding gown the bride chose ivory satin. The bodice featured a round neckline with a tiny collar edged with antique lace, as were the long sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with a flounce and a draped back extending into a train. A pleated band of ivory satin held a fingertip veil of illusion and the bride carried an arm bouquet of white roses tied with white satin ribbon.

The attendants gowns were styled in the same fashion as the bridal dress. Mrs. Budwit's was of yellow slipper satin and she carried a bouquet of yellow carnations; Miss Hannah wore apple green satin and carried pink carnations and Miss Sinner wore lavender satin and her bouquet was of matching carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held for some 100 guests in the church dining room. Mrs. Bert Wootten, Mrs. Max Brandt and Mrs. Herman Tappan assisted with the serving.

The bride is a graduate of Macon high school and attended Adrian College. She graduated from Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing in September and has been employed as a member of the staff since that time. The bridegroom graduated from Clinton high school and was recently discharged from the United States Navy.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Jackson.

Youll be riding a Winner this winter!

LIGHTLY spur that Buick thoroughbred of yours. Feel it surge ahead with a sure-footed stride, stepping out in front to set the pace—with never a murmur or complaint.

Yes, you can have quiet, lively horsepower like this, and a chassis that's free of stiffness and winter squeaks—if you let us keep your Buick in tiptop shape.

Take lubrication, for example. For the price of a routine "grease job" elsewhere, we turn our Buick-trained men loose on a complete, tailor-made lubrication service from hood latch to trunk handle. They make a regular habit of extra care, such as dropping a spot of graphite on the carburetor heat-control shaft, or using a special, non-sleeve-soiling lubricating stick on your door strikers—and we could list a dozen more.

The point is, these mechanics are Buick specialists of long and patient experience—they know your Buick and its needs better than anyone else—and they take pains to keep you happy with it.

Yet you don't pay a penny more. Why not drop in this week?

BOSTON—For the second time, John Deferrari, former Boston fruit peddler, has shown his appreciation to the Boston Public Library by giving it a major portion of his fortune acquired through knowledge learned from library books.

Mr. Deferrari's latest gift is a trust made up of his real estate holdings valued at more than $500,000. This trust, library officials said is a companion to one set up by Mr. Deferrari on July 1, 1947, composed of his security holdings.

Together, these two gifts will ultimately bring the library $1,500,000. Both gifts have been set up for the same purpose. They are to provide the sum of $1,000,000 for the construction of a John Defarrari Wing to the central library in Copley Square, and to provide a principal amount of over $2,000,000 from which the income is to be used by the library trustees in whatever way they see fit.

Although Mr. Deferrari's rise from youthful fruit peddler in the Hub's financial district to millionaire has since become well known, at the time of his first bequest the library trustees had never before heard of him.

He had walked into the office of the National Shawmut Bank, safety pins holding closed his coat pockets, and informed a bank official that he wanted to give the Boston Public Library some money.

Whereupon he recited from memory, and without one mistake, his entire list of security holdings. That was in July, 1947. In September of the same year the library trustees made public the gift, and Mr. Defarrari had his first experience before flashing news cameras and inquisitive reporters.

His aim in giving the money, he has emphasized, is to show his appreciation to the library for making possible his success, and also to inspire young people to keep their hopes high, regardless of what their economic position may be at the moment.

BERLIN—United States Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall charged that Soviet Russia has clamped 2,000,000 Germans, including a large number of women and children, into forced labor camps in Russia.

Mr. Royall told a news conference the figure of 2,000,000 does not include prisoners of war.

He said intelligence reports show 13,000,000 persons are now held in Russian forced labor camps. He previously had announced this figure in a speech in New York early in December.

Mr. Royall said the 13,000,000 include 9,000,000 Russians, 2,000,000 Germans and 2,000,000 of other nationalities, such as Poles and Czechoslovaks.

Mr. Royall was questioned sharply by newsmen on the accuracy of his figures. If 2,000,000 Germans are held in the Russian camps, it would mean that the Russians on the average have taken 1,000 Germans a day from their zone of Germany since the war ended.

Mr. Royall was asked about a published report in Washington that Gen. Walter Bedell Smith will replace Gen. Lucius D. Clay as American military governor in Germany. He replied "There has been no decision to change commanders in Germany and there has been no recent request for retirement by General Clay."

Mr. Royall is nearing the end of a tour of United States Army installations in Europe and the Mediterranean.

He said he has been "greatly impressed by the growing courage of the peoples visited in their stand against totalitarian aggression."

"The people are impressed by the difference in how democracies treat their people and how others treat theirs," he said.

Farmers To Get Help In Accounting Work

Farmers in Lenawee county will find that the revised farm account book issued this year by the Michigan State College farm management department is simple and easy to keep.

County agricultural agent Louis G. Hall pointed out the advantages of the new account book as he urged farmers to begin the new year by keeping a good set of financial records.

Among the features of the book is the new continuous farm inventory which eliminates the need for transferring the inventory record each time a new book is started. All it takes once each year is just a few minutes to bring the inventory up to date. At the close of each year the inventory supplement can be slipped out of the old book and fastened into the new book.

Cash income and expense items can be summarized anytime throughout the year.

The filing of a federal income tax report has been made simpler and easier with a new section that gives specific instructions.

Elsewhere in the book, space is set aside for production and livestock breedings records.

Farmers will have an opportunity to receive help in starting their record book when a meeting is held on Tuesday, January 18 at 10 a.m., Court House, Adrian. All farmers and their wives are welcome to attend to learn about the new account books.

Joseph Interprets Dreams

Joseph said unto his fellow prisoners: "Wherefore look ye so sadly today?" And they said unto him: "We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it." And Joseph answered them: "Do not interpretations belong to God? Tell me then, I pray you." So in three days, just as he had interpreted, the butler was restored to his former duties, and the baker was hanged. Genesis 40:5-16.

Through the power of God, Joseph was able to do the things he could not ordinarily have done. If we are going to work together and restore world peace we all must look to Him for guidance. Attend your church regularly.

Honeymoon Is Still Shining For Politicians

GOV. WILLIAMS MAY FIND HOWEVER, THAT GOP LEGISLATURE CAN BE DIVIDED

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

LANSING—Michigan's new bipartisan state government, led by its youthful new governor, G. Mennen Williams, is now in its first full week. The honeymoon is still on.

The governor's message to the legislature, delivered one week ago today, reflected Governor Williams' campaign pledges for the most part. He balanced urban interests of public housing, labor legislation and more liberal social security benefits with rural concern over better highways and uniform grading and packaging of farm products. His modest reference to need for team-work between the executive office and the legislature was characterized by the old-fashioned saying, "two heads are better than one."

While much of the governor's program will call for additional spending, there was recognition of this problem in the promise to submit a separate statement, later on, covering this "serious fiscal problem." In view of the voters' stand on continued diversion of state sales tax revenue, it appears a good bet that new taxes will be recommended as an alternative to otherwise inevitable deficit financing. At least, Governor Williams' thinking is not in the direction of economy through curtailment of public services.

"I should like to invite this legislature to develop a 'Michigan seal of quality' or some similar trademark which could be applied to high quality farm products," said Governor Williams. Such a trademark would be defined carefully, "enforced rigidly by the Michigan Department of Agriculture" and it would be "advertised widely and enthusiastically."

By gaining consumer acceptance of known quality farm products from Michigan, state-financed advertising would enable Michigan growers, in the opinion of the governor, to compete favorably with food products from other states. And the Michigan food stake is not small, either. Governor Williams estimated the 1948 yield at 740 million dollars.

As to highway needs, Governor Williams reiterated a need for a "well-rounded, long-range road rehabilitation and safety program." He backed up recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation which completed an 18-month engineering analysis last winter, entitled "Highway Needs in Michigan."

How would better roads be financed? The governor hedged on this question, stating that the legislature should "consider carefully the amount of additional highway funds necessary and the most equitable method of providing them." He said he would not approve any increases in taxes for highway purposes unless the taxes were part of a "complete" highway program which covered needed "reforms" and unless the taxes also were considered "along with the overall budget of the state."

Reflecting his primary interest in the welfare of urban industrial workers, the governor came out flatly for public-financed housing on a cooperative basis whereby local government, presumably municipalities, would work together with state and federal governments in providing adequate low-cost housing.

A separate message is to be submitted to the legislature later on, covering methods whereby such housing authority would be established and money made available to finance the housing units. That public housing, or government-financed homes, is state socialism is perhaps the biggest stumbling block to Governor Williams' proposal. However, President Truman has already advocated this on a national-scale, and has added, for good measure, far more socialization than Governor Williams has sponsored to date.

The public-financed homes would accommodate approximately 80,000 persons, whereas the governor estimated Detroit's housing needs to be 120,000 family units with Washtenaw county (rural) good for an additional 5,000 units.

"We are currently faced with the paradox of decreasing construction while population and demand for housing continue to grow," said Governor Williams. "Basically, this is caused by the fact that housing costs are far beyond the reach of those with the greatest needs, namely, the wage earner of moderate income with a wife and several small children.

1949 Resolutions Listed For Farmers

New Year's is the traditional time for making resolutions. County agricultural agent Louis G. Hall this week furnished a list of resolutions to help improve the farm business.

Soil conservation, he points out, was spotlighted in all parts of Michigan this year through the Grass Days and farm face lifting programs. His suggestions for the new year are planned to help in conservation and making farming more profitable.

1. Establish a cropping program suited to the farm's soils.
2. Make more adequate use of legumes.
3. Apply liming materials to acid fields.
4. Plan lime applications at least a year before legume seedings.
5. Apply adequate applications of phosphate and potash with all legume seedings.
6. Use more alfalfa-bromegrass meadow for pasture.
7. Establish sod in all watercourses to prevent gullying.
8. Keep a living, growing crop on the land at all times.
9. Plow down a legume sod whenever an open cultivated crop is to be grown.
11. Cooperate with the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

Looking Ahead

A mother noticed that her little daughter was hiding her crusts under the edge of her plate.

"Dorothy," she said, severely, "you may live to want those crusts."

"I know, Mummy," replied the child. "That's why I'm saving them."

FACTS . . .
About the Proposed ELECTRIC RATE ADJUSTMENT

Inferior electric service would be a poor bargain, no matter how low the cost might be. In order to continue supplying the kind of electric service Michigan needs, we have had to ask the Michigan Public Service Commission to approve new and somewhat higher electric rates.

OUR COSTS HAVE SHOT UP!

You know how your cos tof living has risen. Ours has risen too. Everything we buy is higher. Wages are up, coal is up, materials are up, construction costs are up.
Electric rates have stayed down, but now they cannot withstand the trend any longer. They must go up a bit to enable us to continue giving you the kind of service you want.

OUR EARNINGS . . . NEVER CAN BE LARGE!

Even under the most favorable conditions, an electric company never can earn large profits. Its earnings are regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission. Only a fair return on the value of the property used in supplying service is permitted. Present earnings are much less than a fair return.

CUSTOMERS BENEFIT . . . WHEN THE COMPANY IS STRONG!

Inadequate earnings soon weaken a company. It is to the customer's interest to keep the electric company strong. Fair earnings enable it to give good service, expand its generating plants and other facilities as customers' needs require. The rate adjustment we have asked will be a good thing for Michigan and for all our customers.

Social Medicine Warning Heard

PHYSICIANS TOLD THAT LAY GROUPS WOULD SEEK GRIP ON WORLD MEDICINE

ST. LOUIS—A warning that groups of laymen are fostering a world-wide government control of medical care has been placed before a grass roots conference of county medical officers here.

"... this government medical service would be compulsory. It would be done by nations inter changing their social security benefits.

Dr. Bauer said that international control is favored by the International Social Security Association and the International labor Organization. These want, he said, complete medical care throughout the world.

He said that compulsory health insurance usually gives a lay official the right to fix medical care and method of payment, and usually the standards of specialists and the number of patients a physician may serve.

"These points," he said, "are essential to the practice of medicine, and if they are to be determined by a bureaucratic, financial administration, held to the greatest economy, the experience of all compulsory insurance plans similarly administrated proves that medical service will be cheap, mechanical, and superficial.

"Difficulties in meeting costs results in lowering the quality, not the quantity of service.

"It would seem that there is a group—nonmedical—which in its campaign to establish state medicine throughout the world, follows a definite pattern to discredit the medical profession with the public to abolish free choice of physician and hospital, and to bring about the regimenting of state control, eventually as full-time salaried servants of government.

"There is rarely any disposition on their part to consult with the medical profession on mutual problems. It is usually a case of a lay group trying to enforce its preconceived opinions on the profession and the public, without regard to the interests of either of them."

Brig. Gen. G. E. Armstrong, Deputy Surgeon General, Department of the Army, told the doctors that they did not realize how enormous was the scope of medical service given by army doctors. These doctors acted as advisers in Italy, Germany, Austria, and Japan. As a result 180,000,000 Europeans and 80,000,000 Japanese have been American war and postwar medical proplems, he said.

Dr. Maurice H. Friedman of Washington said that the report on the nation's health, by Oscar F. Ewing, Director of Federal Security, "is not the answer as an unbiased survey of health services."

Dr. Friedman also said: "There is no justification whatever to promising our people medical miracles that cannot be passed even by an astonishingly successful politician."

In A Court Of Law
How Would You Answer This Question Under Oath:
Is The Car You Are Driving A Safe Car?

We hope that you will not be called upon in a court of law to answer the question posed above but you ought be. Accidents are increasing at an alarming rate. If you are involved in an accident, and the incident ends in the courts, you may be forced to testify.

You can stay out of court and stay out of accidents if you'll keep your car in proper condition. By this we mean that you should be certain that brakes are adjusted properly, that the ignition and carbueration systems are functioning properly, that windshield wipers and defrosters do their job. Tires, too, are important . . . smooth tires are dangerous on wet, slippery pavements.

Bring your car to us for the service that it needs and we'll guarantee to keep it in "ship-shape" . . . in the condition that you will not fear to answer a safety question in the courts.

And, here is something more: We'll do the work for you economically. Our factory-trained mechanics, using factory-approved tools and factory-designed, precision built parts, have the know-how to hold down repair bills.

We'll be glad to prove this to you if you'll bring your car to us for service.

1 Dead, 4 Hurt In Accidents

ADRIAN MAN FATALLY HURT ON M-52 WHEN AUTOMOBILE HITS TREE

An Adrian man was killed and four other persons were injured in two automobile accidents on M-52 over the weekend.

Dead is Nick Alexander, 49, of Adrian.

Seriously injured in the same accident and removed to Bixby hospital, Adrian, are Charles Wright, 31, his brother Warren Wright 27, and the latter's wife, Arlee, 26, all of Adrian. In a second mishap, Elwyn Kidd of Adrian was hospitalized.

The automobile driven by Charles Wright was returning to Adrian from Ypsilanti and crashed into a tree on M-52, two miles north of Birdsall, Saturday at 4 p.m. Wright told sheriff's officers that an unidentified car, going north, forced his car off the road. The Wright car went off the left side of the road and struck a large tree, demolishing the car completely.

Warren Wright, riding beside his brother in the front seat, was thrown from the car but his feet remained inside. He suffered a fractured collar bone, a fractured left foot and possible fracture of the pelvis. Mrs. Wright, riding in the back seat, was found about 30 feet from the car, but was unable to say whether she was thrown or crawled from the car after the accident. Her injuries were a broken right leg and ankle. Charles Wright suffered a possible fracture of the jaw and severe cuts of the left knee.

Mr. Alexander, the dead man, was pinned in the back seat. His body was removed to the Mott Funeral Home in Adrian. He was an uncle of the Wright brothers.

Elwyn Kidd of Adrian was removed to Tecumseh hospital Sunday after being involved in a freak accident Sunday, on M-52 M-50 at 7:15 p.m. His injuries were minor and he was discharged Monday.

Driving a wrecker, Mr. Kidd came to remove a car which had crashed into guard posts after the tie rod had evidently broken, causing the driver Howard Johnson of Route 3, Adrian, to lose control. As Mr. Kidd was attaching the Johnson car to the wrecker, an automobile driven by William Fiore of Adrian, going south on M-52, hit the Johnson car from behind. The force of the crash threw Mr. Kidd under the wrecker. Sheriff's officers from Adrian investigated.

Presbyterians To Honor Youth

SPECIAL SERVICE WILL BE HELD SUNDAY MORNING AT CHURCH HERE

In honor of the church's young people and marking the beginning of Youth Week, the Presbyterian Church will celebrate Westminster Fellowship Day on Sunday, January 30, at the morning service.

Members of the Senior High Westminster Fellowship will conduct the service centered on the theme, "Let God Speak." Those taking part will be Joan Lewis, David VanWinkle, David Lott, Mary Jane Dermyer, William Morris, Martha Jane Hanna and William Martin. The music will be furnished by the Junior Choir under the direction of Miss Marjorie Mohr, with Mrs. F. C. Dickinson at the organ. Parents and children are invited to attend worship together.

In observing this day, Presbyterian churches throughout the country will be asserting their faith in the young people who are earnestly trying to discover God's will for their lives and do it.

As a part of its program for young people the New Curriculum was adopted by the Presbyterian church in October, 1948, as a program in which parents, youth, and church school cooperate in Christian Education. The first quarter's report reveals a total membership of 257. This indicates to church leaders an increasing interest on the part of parents in the spiritual development of their children, which in turn has brought an increased enthusiasm to the teaching staff. The average attendance for the quarter was 155, about a 30% increase over the same period last year.

C. of C. To Hold Annual Banquet

WILL BE HELD THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24; TO ELECT OFFICERS, DIRECTORS

The annual dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce will be held on Thursday evening, February 24, at the high school, it was announced today by Ronald E. Harris, secretary.

"I am not quite ready to announce who the speaker will be," Mr. Harris said, "but we hope to have an outstanding man from the mid-west. He has been contacted, but as yet has not confirmed the date."

Mr. Harris was named as chairman of the dinner meeting when the board of directors of the organization met last week.

The terms of three directors of the Chamber expire at this time and a nominating committee has been chosen, made up of Harold Anderson, B. G. Ousterhout and Paul J. Ammer. This committee will meet and nominate six members for directorships. The members will vote by mail, on a ballot which will be sent to them, and the three nominees receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected.

Directors whose terms expire with the approaching annual meeting are Ned Rosacrans, Fay Whelan and Wade L. Jones. Under the rules of the organization, a director may not succeed himself to office.

"As soon as the nominating committee makes its selection, we will mail a ballot to every Chamber member, Harris said. They will mark their choice for directors on the ballots and return them to our office. When all of the ballots are in, tellers will canvass the vote and declare the election."

After the board has been named, the directors will elect officers.

The election will be prior to the banquet, Harris said. The program at that time will consist of annual reports and an address by the speaker of the evening.

Rome Grange To Bring Gavel To Tecumseh

The Tecumseh Grange will hold its regular meeting, Thursday evening, January 27, with a potluck dinner at 7 p.m. The supper committee is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Papp, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Handley, John Teufel, Mrs. Jane Younglove and Mrs. Maud Harmon. The Rome Grange will bring the traveling gavel and present the program during the lecture hour.

On Saturday evening, January 29, there will be a dance in the hall for all Grange members and their friends.

DR. BLANDEN SPEAKS TO OPTOMETRIC ASSN.

Dr. M. R. Blanden was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of District No. 6 of the Michigan Optometric Association held recently at the Tecumseh Club.

Dr. Blanden chose for his topic "Ocular Pathology as Found in a General Medical Practice." The talk was informal, consisting of his personal experiences. He stressed the fact that carelessness was the leading cause of ocular injuries. An example of this was flying particles of metal caused by the use of pressure hoses in cleaning machines.

Preceding the program, dinner was served and a short business meeting was held, at which time a method for helping newly licensed optometrists was discussed.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET

GOP SENDS CAKE . . . Even the Republicans, those traditionally outnumbered opponents of the "ins" in Florida, got into the spirit of things at the inauguration of Gov. Fuller Warren as Florida's new chief executive. The huge cake was donated by the Republican club of Fort Myers, Fla., and remained intact during its journey to the state's capital city, Tallahassee. Governor Warren was equal to the occasion. It was he, himself, who cut the enormous cake and sampled it. The baker evidently was fully acquainted with capitol architecture as attested by the faithful reproduction of the capitol building on the top of the pastry creation.

Truman Budget Would Cost Lenawee 19 Millions

President Truman's proposed budget calling for federal expenditures of $41,858,000,000 during the twelve months beginning July 1 of this year will cost Michigan taxpayers approximately $1,960,920,000.

That is the estimate made by the Michigan Survey, a state taxpayer organization, based upon federal tax collections in Michigan, the state's share of the national income and population.

Henry Steffens, Survey director, urged that Michigan residents understand that this figure is "One billion, nine-hundred-and-sixty million, nine-hundred-and-twenty thousand dollars, or 5.7 times the $341.6 million Michigan collected in taxes in fiscal 1948."

"It is more than four times the $471 million the state spent for all purposes in fiscal 1948, he said.

Michigan has an estimated population of about six million men, women and children. On a pro rata basis, he said, the President's budget will cost each of them $326 next year.

Perhaps you do not believe that women and children should pay taxes. Figuring it another way, the survey estimates that Michigan's 1,588,500 families will pay an average of $1,234 to Uncle Sam next year.

Getting closer to home, a Survey tabulation shows that, on a population basis, the new budget will cost the people of Lenawee county $19,020,924 during fiscal 1950.

What can the people of Michigan expect to receive for all these Washington-bound dollars? The Survey shows that approximately 4.68 per cent of the $41.5 billion in contemplated expenditures are allocable to this state.

On this basis, Michiganders will spend more than $314 million to finance U. S. relations with other countries, $668 million for national defense and $257 million for veterans' services and benefits—which adds up to more than two-thirds of the total Michigan costs for these three items alone.

Then, Michigan taxpayers can expect to appropriate $110 million for social welfare, health and security, $18 million for housing and community facilities, $19 million for education and general research, $78 million for agriculture and agricultural resources, $87 million for natural resources, $74 million for transportation and communication, $5 million for finance, commerce and industry, $9 million for labor, $57 million for general government, $255 million for interest on the public debt and $7 as a reserve for contingencies.

According to Steffens, this is only the beginning. "In addition," he said, "there will be deficiency and supplemental appropriations added from time to time to carry this Colossus of Government through the year. Contract authorizations will be made for work that will run into more billions before completion. Still more billions will be added ultimately to the cost of federal government if new spending proposals are passed.

"People here at home," he said, must realize that they themselves have to foot the bill for the services rendered by the federal government."

WIN CLOSE GAME ON FLOOR AT ADDISON LAST WEEK BY 41-35 SCORE

By Gordon Comfort

Last Wednesday evening the Tecumseh Indians conquered the Addison Panthers 41 to 35 on the Panthers home floor. Forwards Doug McDowell and Jack Gillin led the scoring for the evening, McDowell with 19 points and Gillin next with 15 points. Tecumseh led the game at the end of the first period by five points, 12 to 7, and at the half by six points, 21 to 15. However the fourth period saw the score tied twice, 31 all and 32 all. Then a Tecumseh guard, Dave Green, and forward, Jack Gillin, both sank pointers to put the Indians in front.

Three of the Addison starters left the game because of personal fouls and from then on Coach Duvall's boys had little trouble.

Doctors Under Bureaucrats

According to an AP dispatch from London, "Britain's national health service—the world's biggest experiment in socialized medicine—is undergoing a strain." That strain, in the view of Health Minister Bevan, results from the fact that "too many are demanding too much." In other words, people are working on the theory that they may as well visit the doctor whether they are sick or not, because "free" medical service is coming to them. This situation has reached so extreme a point that Mr. Bevan issued a public statement in which he said: "Don't let us become a nation of hypochrondriacs. I ask the public to use their doctors wisely and only when they really need them."

It is also evident that the cost of providing allegedly "free" health service for all is approaching a critical point. The government's original forecast was that the bill would run to 150,000,000 pounds a year. But the actual cost, according to the British Medical Association, will exceed 250,000,000 pounds.

The most important thing, of course, is just what Britain's socialistic experiment is doing to the standards of medical care. And here, too, some significant and authoritative information is available. Lord Horder, physician in ordinary to the royal family, has this to say: "Medicine in Britain has become a branch of the civil service. We are no longer medical experts; we sit and sign forms. We have no time to diagnose our patient's diseases; but pass them on to other persons and institutions, knowing full well that they cannot dispense the health benefits which may or may not be needed."

So there is the latest example of socialized medicine — overworked doctors, soaring costs, poorer treatment, and bureaucracy rampant. Shall the United States follow that sorry example? There are definite statements that an all-out effort will be made to force Congress to take this step along the socialization route.

About The Folks You Know

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairbanks celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening with a social gathering of relatives and friends at their home. Guests were from Chelsea, Detroit, Macon, Adrian, Birdsall and Tecumseh. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Dallas Bailey. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks received many lovely gifts.

James McDowell took his son, Doug, Gerald VanValkenburg, David Green and Jerry Bowen to the McDowell cottage in northern Michigan Friday and on Saturday they went tobogganing and skiing near Grayling. There are six runs there, each of them 3100 feet. It gave the boys quite a thrill!

Some folks had their radios tuned in to the Ann Arbor station, Monday afternoon, and heard Jack Tonneberger give a half-hour organ recital. Jack is a senior student at the University of Michigan School of Music.

"Geological Survey—749 feet above sea level." Those are the words inscribed on a brass plate located on the corner of East Chicago Blvd., and Maumee street, just inside the crosswalk at Adams Park. "Historians" in Tecumseh say that Maumee street was originally planned as the center of town and the cross mark on the plate substantiates that fact.

Baptist folks and their friends who attend services Sunday morning will be the first to sit on the newly covered cushions in the pews . . . The Good Cheer Class put on an intensive campaign to raise the money for this project . . . The cushions will be dedicated at the service at 11 a.m.

Dinner Meet, Program Enjoyed By B. & P. W. C.

The Tecumseh Business and Professional Women enjoyed a trip through Europe when Mr. and Mrs. Don Goddard showed their movies, in color, following dinner at the Baptist church, Monday evening. Mrs. Goddard explained the scenes as they were flashed on the screen and after visiting ten countries in four months, said the best of all is the U. S. A. It was Mr. Goddard's first experience with a movie camera and the pictures were excellent.

Mrs. Ethel Truesdale led in devotions. During the business meeting it was announced the Tecumseh B. & P. W. will present their play March 31 at 8 p.m., at the McKinley school in Adrian. Mrs. Myrna Tingley will represent the club at the board meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, Wednesday, February 2. The Town Hall programs were announced and members of the club may purchase tickets for the April program from Miss Ruth Harding. Mrs. Helen Stanifer, Mrs. Ruby Warner and Mrs. Irene Meyer were welcomed into the club. It was voted to pay one-half the cost of a record player for the elementary schools.

Mrs. Lillian Service announced the program which opened with a chorus of six girls, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Mohr, singing a medley of folk songs. "Song of Carcassonne," a French tune, "Sinclair Bold," from Norway, "Wandering Willie," an Irish air, and "The Keeper," an English tune," were sung by Ruth Ann Coates, Anita Dickinson, Dee Bowen, Nancy Schoolmaster, Elizabeth McKenzie and Sandra Judson. Mrs. Hilda Will and Mrs. Goldie Watkins were the hostesses.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LANSING——"The people want more spending for public benefits. Economy is no longer popular," sighed the state official. "I don't believe a man could be elected dog catcher today on a platform of thrift in government."

The official was discussing, over the dinner table, the state of public opinion in our fourth post-war year of 1949, as reflected by two tangible trends: (1) Election verdicts of November, 1948, and (2) post-election legislative programs of the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees (Harry Truman and Thomas E. Dewey) and Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams.

On this basis the evidence appears to be overwhelming. It covers both parties, Democrat and Republican. No "sour grapes" are implied.

President Truman proposes a federal budget of 41.9 billions for our 1949-50 fiscal year, as compared to 33.8 billions for 1947-48. National defense would get 14.3 billions, foreign aid 6.7 billions, 5.5 billions for veteran benefits, 5.45 billions for national debt. All these items, related to national security, total approximately 75 per cent.

The remaining 25 per cent, for national government, amounts to 10 billions, just three times what was spent for public services in 1923. During the top World War I year we spent 14.4 billions for nation defense; 4.1 billions for public services.

How would the 10 billions (for public services) be spent? Here's the national program:

For social welfare, health and security—1.963 billions in 1949 and 2.358 billions in 1950. More and new public benefits, financed in part by payroll deductions. For example: Old age insurance taxes (paid equally by employer and employee) would be increased from 1 to 1½ per cent July 1, 1949, instead of January 1, 1950. Compulsory health insurance would be financed by a ¼ of 1 per cent payroll tax (employer and employee) starting July 1, 1949. More taxes would follow.

Unemployment insurance would be extended to workers of small firms, employing less than eight workers. This would involve a payroll tax (employer only) of 3 per cent for four years and thereafter a minimum of 1 per cent and a maximum of 4 per cent annually.

Agriculture would get 1.6 billions, national resources 1.8 and transportation and communications (highways, etc.) 1.6 billions.

The state budget of New York would be boosted from 456 millions, six years ago, to 812 millions. Education would get 31.2 compared with 12, or more than double. Public works, 35.2 vs. 17.8; state agencies, 123 vs. 74, and so on.

Among the liberal benefits proposed by Dewey; 300 millions for public housing; disability (sickness) insurance for industrial workers; a bigger health service budget, and public power (electricity) from the St. Lawrence seaway.

Dewey emphasizes: "We must respond to the needs and obligations for continued and increased services to the people of our state." On a basis of such need, readily and easily proved, New York state taxes are to be increased sharply.

Governor Williams' legislative proposals call for bigger and better public benefits right down the line: Public housing, higher payments for workmen's compensation, more medical benefits for disabled workers, higher unemployment compensation, more old-age assistance, higher gasoline and weight taxes (providing "those taxes are part of a complete highway program") and better care of the mentally ill.

The gap between Michigan's budgeted expenditures and budgeted income is 60 millions. The legislature's big task is to decide HOW these additional benefits are to be financed.—WHO is to foot the bill?

If President Truman and Governors Dewey and Williams accurately interpret the desires of the American people, then more public benefits, more government in our personal lives and more state socialism are on the way.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Lois McCaughen Golas who passed away January 31, 1944.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss her yet.
But God gives us strength to fight it,
Courage to heal the blow,
And what it means to lose her
No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by her children and mother and father.

And he gathered up all the food of the seven plenteous years, and laid up the food in the cities . . . Genesis 41:48.

Here was Joseph, having successfully interpreted Pharoah's dreams, planning them for the seven years of famine to follow the seven years of plenty. He established storehouses over all the land, and caused all the surplus grain to be stored there to feed his people during that famine.

His God had been true to him, and his faith had been rewarded. Your life can be made better, too, and your faith more strong, by regular attendance at the Church of Your Choice. Your fellow men and women need your assistance in their fight against intolerance and evil in today's world — give them your help by attending church this week!

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who's A Foreigner?

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

"Now wait a minute, Slim," snaps Doc Sherman. "Don't forget we're all 'foreigners' more or less. Some of our families have simply been here longer than others. But even if they came over on the Mayflower, they were foreigners to the Indians."

Slim gets a little red and you could see that Doc had him. "And the reason they came here," he goes on, "was to find freedom to do and think as they wanted to so long as they didn't tramp on the rights of the other fellow."

From where I sit, America became the great land it is today through our being tolerant of different people and different tastes—whether it's a taste for square dancing or waltzing, radio or movies, goat's milk or a temperate glass of sparkling beer.

SUN-HEATED HOUSE 'QUITE COMFORTABLE'

DOVER, MASS. — After three days in a house heated only by the sun, a Hungarian family of three today described the experience as "quite comfortable." Dr. Anthony Nemethy, his wife, and young son moved into the solar house and expect to spend the winter here.

The house captures the sun's rays through huge windows and blows the heat down air ducts into chemical storage bins capable of retaining solar energy for heating the house over a period of 10 sunless days, if necessary. Dr. Maria Telkes, research associate at Massachusetts Institute, is sponsoring the experiment.

16 Communities At 'Help' Meet

DISCUSSION CONFERENCES HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL, SPONSORED BY PTA

Leaders from sixteen communities in this part of the state attended a conference on Organization for Community Self Help at the Tecumseh High School last Thursday afternoon and evening. The conference, sponsored by the Tecumseh Parent-Teacher Association and the Extension Service of the University of Michigan, was one of a number being held throughout Michigan for the purpose of helping communities develop their resources through community action.

Dr. Howard Y. McClusky, Professor of Educational Psychology and Consultant in Adult Education from the University of Michigan acted as general moderator, giving a keynote talk in the afternoon and a summarizing talk at the conclusion of the meetings in the evening. He was accompanied by seven staff members of the Community Adult Education Division of the Extension Service of the University.

Planning School Facilities: Chairman, Franklin M. Reck, President of the Board of Education, Manchester; resource assistant, Albert C. Johnson, Superintendent of Schools, Chelsea.

Education to Meet Adult Needs and Interests: Chairman, Mrs. Josephine Kerr, Onsted; resource assistants, Neville Hart, Director of Adult Education, Tecumseh; F. J. Strayer, Superintendent of Schools, Blissfield.

How to Coordinate Community Activities: Chairman, Dr. Justin Dunmire, Past President of the Community Council, Milan; resource assistants, Reverend R. E. Hocking, Saline; K. I. Letsinger, Superintendent of Schools, Dexter.

Rural-Urban Relationships: Chairman, Howard Western, Director of Rural and Community Life, Adrian College; resource assistants, George Beale, Superintendent of Schools, Britton; Clarence Kleidinst, Master of Pomona Grange, Jasper.

In his summarizing talk, Dr. McClusky pointed out that the conference and the various discussions had shown that communities can solve some of their most pressing problems if they will but organize and direct the energy and talent that already exists within each community.

Between the afternoon and evening sessions a dinner was served by the girls of the Home Economics Department of the Tecumseh High School under the direction of Mrs. Martha Kuhn, home economics instructor. Solos were sung by Martha Hayden accompanied by Sally Brown. Mrs. Truman Rentschler, president of the Tecumseh Parent-Teacher Association, was chairman of the dinner meeting, at which various delegations were introduced.

A "get-acquainted" tea was prepared and served by women of the Parent-Teacher Association in the afternoon prior to the general meeting and group conferences.

YOU CAN'T TELL A MAN HOW TO FALL IN LOVE

Author Says Story Writing Can't Be Taught In School

There is no formula for the writing of novels or short stories, in fact, it would be just as difficult to tell people how to write a book-length story as it would be to tell them how to fall in love, Allan Seager, associate professor of English at the university of Michigan, declared when he spoke, Monday evening, to the Wit and Wisdom Club. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Branigin with Mr. and Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg and Miss Gertrude Spaulding as assistant host and hostesses. About 50 members and guests attended.

The public reads in its magazines about schools that offer special training in story writing, Mr. Seager declared, but he warned that such schools should be avoided. There are hundreds of persons, he said, who have been bitten by the writing bug and many national magazines receive as many as 200,000 unsolicited short stories a year. And about one out of that number ever sees his story in print.

Mr. Seager, an author and story writer of national reputation, declared that most magazines get their material through solicited sources and authors. Some writers, he said, work for a lifetime and never see their manuscripts in print, others are more successful.

At Monday's meeting, M. G. Partridge, vice president, presided in the absence of the president. Mr. and Mrs. Partridge returned recently from California and they both spoke briefly about their trip. Group singing was led by the Rev. B. O. Bashore. In conclusion, refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, February 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rector as assisting host and hostess. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron has arranged a musical program.

Products Down Jackson Champs

DURITES, UNDEFEATED PRISON CITY TEAM, HUMBLED ON LOCAL FLOOR

During the past week end, the Tecumseh Products Company basketball team journeyed to Dayton, Ohio, where they played the G. H. R. Foundry on Friday night, and won by a score of 67 to 49. Lou Baker led the scoring, with Schmid and Gunder getting 11 and 13 points, respectively.

On Saturday night the team played the Crosley Refrigerator Company at Richmond, Indiana. The Product's lost their second game of the season, 61 to 54. Gunder was high in this game with 16 points.

Last Monday night, Durites of Jackson played Products here and were given a terrific trimming, 73 to 37. Durites this year are undefeated in the Jackson City League and have had an excellent record playing in that class of competition. This Durite team is the same outfit which defeated Tecumseh Products last year.

Practically all of the Product's players were in on this game, Schmid was high with 16 points, followed closely by Horton with 12 and Gunder with 11. At the end of the third quarter the score was 57 to 13.

These games are being played each Monday night at the Tecumseh High School gym. There is no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Tecumseh Products Reserves were defeated by the Britton Independents in a preliminary game Monday night, with a score of 31 to 26.

$1,200 Damage By Fire At Oscar Kaiser Farm

The Tecumseh fire department was summoned to the Oscar Kaiser farm, one mile east and one and a quarter miles south of Tipton, Thursday morning at 7:15, when fire was discovered in the two-story frame house by the tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Radant.

Mr. Radant said he was awakened by the alarm at 6 a.m. He went into the dining room of the house and found the ceiling in flames. Neighbors removed furniture and brought water in milk cans to aid firemen. Tecumseh and Adrian firemen fought the flames for two hours, keeping them confined to the dining room and attic. The loss was estimated at $1,200.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, although Mr. Radant said it could have been an overheated furnace or defective wiring.

Club Enjoys Music Program

GIRLS CHORUS OF FRIENDS CHURCH ENTERTAINS THE MONDAY CLUB

Mrs. Perry Hayden presented a program displaying much musical talent at the meeting of the Tecumseh Monday club, this week, held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold. Some 40 members enjoyed the singing of the girl's chorus of the Friends church.

After speaking briefly on the general subject of hymns, Mrs. Hayden presented Mrs. Edward Escolme, who gave a short talk on "St. Ambrose." The history of Bernard Clairvaux was given by Mrs. Hayden after which one of his hymns, "Jesus The Very Thought of Thee," was sung by the Misses Martha Hayden, Norma Comfort, Marian Comfort, Carolyn Comfort, Josephine Powell, Joyce Kopka and Betty Hayden. Mrs. Escolme presented the life history of Martin Luther and the chorus sang, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." Mrs. Hayden outlined the life of Richard Baxter and Josephine Powell and Joyce Kopka, rendered "Lord, It Belongs Not To My Care."

After the history of John Wesley was summarized by Mrs. Escolme and his song "Jesus Thy Blood and Righteousness" rendered by Martha Hayden, Mrs. Escolme reviewed the story of his brother, Charles Wesley. Norma and Marian Comfort and Martha Hayden sang "Jesus Lover Of My Soul." A sketch of the life of Phillip Brooks by Mrs. Hayden was followed with one of his hymns, "Little Town of Bethlehem," sung by Martha and Betty Hayden. After Mrs. Mescolme outlined the life of Isaac Watts the Comfort twins, Norma and Marian, sang, "There Is A Land Of Pure Delight" and "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross." The program ended with the group singing "Jesus Shall Reign." Mrs. Amos Wilson was the accompanist.

During the business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Donald Goddard, it was voted to pay one-half the expense of a record player for use in the elementary schools. It was also voted to donate $3 to the Woman's Congress Fund in memory of the late Mrs. E. S. Tate. An announcement was made of the County Federation meeting which was held in Adrian yesterday. A letter was read from Mrs. Arthur Wilson, state president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, announcing the state conventions.

Consumers To Expand Service

PLANS TO SPEND 50 MILLIONS IN 1949, A PART OF IT IN TECUMSEH AREA

Consumers Power Company will spend $50,000,000 in a 1949 expansion program and a part of that sum will be spent in the Tecumseh area, Herman Koelbel, division manager of the company with offices in Jackson, told members of the Rotary Club here, Tuesday evening. Mr. Koelbel spoke following dinner at Brees House.

Improvements locally, Mr. Koelbel said, include an enlargement of the substation here and a new transmission line from Adrian to Tecumseh. "This community is growing," the speaker said, "and I am sure that you want us to keep pace with Tecumseh. Our records show that Tecumseh is now using about three times as much electricity as it did four years ago, and we anticipate that your needs will continue to grow."

Speaking about Consumers' proposal to bring gas service to Tecumseh, Koelbel said that he is of the opinion that such a service will be available in two or three years.

Koelbel defended his company's position in requesting an increase in rates from the Utilities commission. Company earnings are now below four percent, he said, and operation costs are rising.

"We intend, in fact we must, sell enough to get the 50 million we intend to spend for improvements. If we cannot show a fair return on the stock we cannot interest investors and neither can we make the improvements that you and all of our other customers are demanding," the executive said.

Koelbel pointed out that while other costs have been rising the cost of electric service actually has been reduced. The time has come, however, for an adjustment of rates and, to the average customer, the increase will not amount to more than a penny or two a day, he said.

Seats Are Recovered In Baptist Church

The goal of the Good Cheer Class of the Baptist Church school was reached last week, when the cushions for the pews were returned to the church, renovated and recovered with deep red velvet. At the morning service, Sunday, Rev. B. O. Bashore thanked the class for their effort in the project.

The class, which numbers 27 members, staged an intensive campaign to raise the $800 necessary for the recovering. Miss Elizabeth Chase has been the teacher of the class for the past twenty years and Mrs. Floyd Bryan is president at the present, having held the office several times previous.

Thos. Boyd, 55, Is Found Dead

Thomas Boyd, 55, was found dead in the yard of his residence on Ives Road, two miles west and one mile south of Tecumseh, Sunday at 5:30 a.m. The partially frozen body of the dead man was discovered by his brother, Alfred, who shared the home with him.

Mr. Boyd had been brought to his home in a taxi between 9 and 10 p.m., Saturday after being in a local tavern. Coroner Paul Mott said he evidently slipped and fell off the back porch as he was attempting to unlock the door, and marks in the snow showed that he had threshed around for some time before he died. His face, hands, knees and feet were frozen and the coroner placed the time of death at 3 a.m. He said death was undoubtedly caused from exposure and that no inquest was necessary. Alfred Boyd called Tecumseh police who notified the state police of the Clinton post.

Funeral services were held from the Green Funeral Home Wednesday at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Donald C. Wilson officiating. Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were in charge of the burial service at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Boyd was born December 31, 1893. Surviving are four brothers, James of Wellington, Ohio, Edward of Jackson, Harry of Adrian and Alfred, and two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Aebersold and Mrs. George Tilton, both of Tecumseh. Three brothers preceded him in death. He was a veteran of World War I.

Alfred LeRoy Beckman Buried In Brookside

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Green Funeral Home for Alfred LeRoy Beckman, 57, who died Friday morning in Tecumseh Hospital, where he had been a patient for two weeks. The Rev. Alvin C. Brazee officiated. The Knights of Pythias conducted the burial services at the grave in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were Duncan Oliphant, Lynn Hubbard, Clarence Aebersold, Luther Wood, Floyd Elliott and Hoyt Raymond. Friends and relatives attended from Dundee, Milan, Adrian, Jackson, Clark Lake, Clinton, Manitou Beach, Brooklyn, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and this vicinity.

Mr. Beckman moved to Tecumseh 29 years ago and had been employed by the Consumers Power Co. 24 years. He was born in Garretson, S. D., February 27, 1891, the son of the late John and Alice Beckman.

Mr. Beckman was a past chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, a royal prince of the Knights of Charassan and a past regent of the Nomads of Ayrudaka. He was a member of the Christian church.

Surviving are the widow, Esther, a daughter, Mrs. George Foos of Tecumseh, a granddaughter Judy, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Wendell Frear of Britton, two stepsons, Keith Carpenter of Sandusky, Mich., and Dale Carpenter of Adrian, one brother John of San Diego, Calif., four sisters, Mrs. Frank Painter and Mrs. George Primley, both of Sumner, Wash., Mrs. J. M. Dunn of Eugene, Ore., and Mrs. Edyth Behyit of Medical Lake, Wash., and a number of nieces and nephews. A son Aaron, preceded him in death nine years ago.

New Postmaster Is On The Job In Tecumseh

F. E. N. Thatcher, Tecumseh's new acting postmaster, took over the duties of his new office on Thursday of last week, succeeding Wiley F. McCann, who resigned.

Mr. Thatcher, who has been a resident of this village for about two years formerly served for several years as judge of the probate court in Mt. Clemens. For about two years he has been connected with the engineering department of the City of Detroit, resigning this position to take over the postoffice job here.

Mr. McCann, the retiring postmaster, has not announced his plans for the future.

Price Of Foods Is Lower Here

MEAT IS CHEAPER THAN A YEAR AGO, BUT A FEW PRICES ARE HIGHER

With Washington politicians and most of the housewives of the nation talking about food costs, it is interesting to note that prices now are actually lower in Tecumseh stores than they were a year ago this month, a survey indicates.

Last year, for instance, sirloin steak was selling in Tecumseh at 79 cents a pound and this month it was bringing 73 cents, sometimes as low as 69 cents. A rib roast of beef a year ago sold for 65 cents a pound and now it is priced at 59 cents. Ground beef, however, brought a 45 cent price a year ago and today's price is 47. Sliced bacon has tumbled from a 59 cent price a year ago to 53 cents.

The price of head lettuce is higher this year than it was a year ago, and this may be due to the California snow storm. However, in January of 1948 you could buy two heads of lettuce for 25 cents and the low January price this year was two for 29 cents.

Cheese spread, rapidly becoming a popular food with housewives, especially where there are sandwiches to make for the kiddies, is much lower this year than a year ago. Today's price is two pounds for 75 cents and a year ago it was two pounds for 97 cents.

Lard is now about one half the price it was in January of 1948 when it sold for 35 cents a pound. It now brings 19 cents.

Bread, a year ago, was selling as low as 13 cents for a pound loaf and eggs were offered at 55 cents a dozen. Cigarettes were sold at $1.69 a carton.

All along the line, merchants agree, there is a decline in food prices, some of them substantial. The price drop has been on for about three months and some Washington observers are predicting that it will continue for the next three months, or even more.

Tecumseh Hospital Gets Approval Of Surgeons

Tecumseh Hospital has been awarded provisional approval by the American College of Surgeons for the year 1948. The list of approved hospitals in the United States and Canada, officially released at the annual meeting of the Board of Regents of the American College of Surgeons, indicates hospitals of 25 beds and over which have complied satisfactorily with the fundamental requirements that assure the best care of the sick and injured.

The hospitals were graded for the first time in 1948 by a point rating system. Each department or division is scored and the total amount is disclosed only to the hospital. The rating system will act as a stimulus to improve scores from year to year. A hospital given a score from 70 to 100% is awarded full approval and provisional approval represents a score of 60 to 69%. The latter award indicates the hospital has accepted the requirements set up by the American College of Surgeons and is endeavoring to put them into effect, but for the lack of time or other acceptable reasons has not been able to do so.

IN SESSION TODAY

The Ladies Union of the Baptist church is meeting today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Ted McConnell for an all-day session. Bashore will introduce the speaker for the "Christian Friendliness" theme. Miss Florence Latter of Adrian and a group of Mexican women will present the program. Miss Latter is a missionary working with Mexican groups throughout the state and is now located at Adrian.

Premature Births Are Studied At Medical Meet

Some 75 nurses from Lenawee, Monroe, Branch and Hillsdale counties and Grand Rapids attended an institute in Adrian, last week, when the members of the Lenawee County Medical Society and the Lenawee District Nurses Association united for a study of the premature infant. All aspects of the premature baby were covered by various speakers during the afternoon session in the First Methodist church. A film was also shown on the care of the infant.

Mrs. Hilda Will, president of the Lenawee District Nurses Association, was mistress of ceremonies at a dinner served in Christ Episcopal church in the evening, when the physicians of Lenawee and nearby counties joined the nurses and their guests. Some 15 doctors and nurses attended from Tecumseh. Dr. Wm. Hewes, secretary of the Lenawee County Medical Society, spoke briefly giving statistics on premature births in Lenawee county in 1948. He said there were 99 premature babies born with 24 deaths. Dr. W. J. Morrow, consultant in pediatrics from the state health department, spoke on "Pediatrics in Relation to the Premature Infant."

BETTER MEDICAL CARE

If anyone has an idea that the physicians of this country are fighting any and all plans that would give the American people better medical attention at a cost which is within their means, he is sadly misinformed.

It is true that the great majority of doctors are strongly opposed to compulsory government health insurance, and kindred schemes which would open the gates wide to completely socialized medicine. The basic reason for this opposition is found in a statement issued by the American Medical Association, which said: "The experience of all countries where government has seized control of medical care has been progressive deterioration of the standards of that care to the serious detriment of the sick and needy."

The wholehearted cooperation and support of doctors, on the other hand, has been one of the biggest factors in the remarkable growth of the low-cost voluntary prepayment plans, which now provide a vital protection to tens of millions of citizens. These plans represent the most positive and most successful idea yet devised to lessen the economic pressure that follows unexpected illness or accident.

There is, of course, a small proportion of the population which cannot afford any kind of protection. The medical profession is aware of this, and is working to do something about it. According to Medical Economics, the private physicians are developing a national health program of their own, and adequate care for the indigent. The typical doctor, in other words, is interested in the best possible medical attention for the most possible people. He knows that political medicine is not the way to attain that goal.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Duke Gets His Tractor

Duke Thomas bought a farm with the money he'd saved in the Service, but he couldn't get a tractor. He needed it badly, but was tenth on the local dealer's list.

"Tell you what," old man Peters says. "If those nine fellows ahead of you agree, you'll get the next one I get in." "No, thanks," says Duke, "I'll just take my turn."

But old Peters mails out nine postcards. And the other day he tells Duke his tractor will be in next week. "I simply wrote the facts to the fellows ahead of you. They decided it."

From where I sit, it's that spirit of understanding that helps make our democracy so great. Understanding for the other fellow's problems and respect for the other fellow's rights—whether it's his right to earn a living, his right to cast his vote against your candidate, or even his right to enjoy a moderate, friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when he chooses. Let's always keep it that way!

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol.

Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

And Pharoah gave to Joseph to wife Asenath, the daughter of the priest of On. . . Genesis 41:45

Wise Pharoah knew that a good wife is the best asset a man can have, and he chose carefully to see that Joseph, his self-appointed son, was given the best wife in the kingdom. Asenath was a real helpmate to Joseph.

When you read of divorce, desertion, separation of married folks in the newspapers, you can rest assured that these marriages were not based on all the precepts of love and understanding which are taught in your church. Such a marriage, when these principles are overlooked, becomes invalid, weak.

Your faith in your lifetime companion, and your mutual faith in your church and what it teaches, can build a better, more successful marriage for you.

We're Never To Busy To Wait On The Children

You may feel free, at any time, to permit your children to shop here for you.

If it will benefit you, give the kiddies a shopping list and send them to our store or, if you prefer, call us and tell us what you need and send your children for the order. We're never too busy to wait on the children.

For several generations we've been "waiting on children." And today, some of the "kiddies" who once shopped with us are now sending their youngsters to our store for the foods that the family needs.

Non-Partisan News Letter

LANSING — More government employees, more government payrolls and more government taxes for everyone are just beyond the horizon.

This prediction appears to be a safe bet for 1949.

There is only one possible "if". Congress must adopt the comprehensive social insurance program proposed by President Truman. Many Washington observers agree that such is likely to happen. The popular mandate on November 2 is cited to show which way public opinion is going.

Consider a Michigan worker who gets $3,000 income. Today his payroll deductions for social security—old age insurance—take 1 per cent or $30 a year. The "bite" on the regular paycheck is small.

Beginning July 1, 1949, if Congress approved expanded social security for everyone, his paycheck deductions will more than double, from $30 to $67.50, an increase of $37.50. If the employee earns $4,800 or more, his payroll taxes would total $108. The employer would pay a like amount, $67.50 or $108 depending on the employees' wage.

If the worker is hired by a firm that has less than eight employees the employer would be called upon for four successive years to contribute $157.50 for an employee earning $3,000 a year, or $252 for the employee earning $4,800 a year. Thereafter the unemployment compensation rate would decline to a minimum of 1 per cent, making a total minimum contribution of $97.50 by the employer.

These taxes are accounted for by the following proposed social security benefits.

Old-age insurance, now financed by a 1 per cent tax on both the employee and employer, would rise to 1.5 per cent on July 1, 1949. This tax would apply to individual income up to $4,800 instead of $3,000 as at present. Coverage would be broadened to include farmers, farm workers, doctors, small businessmen, and even household help.

Unemployment compensation would be broadened to cover employees of firms hiring less than eight persons. The maximum wage to be taxed, would be $4,800 instead of $3,000, as at present. The employers' payroll tax would be 3 per cent for four successive years; thereafter, 1 per cent minimum and 4 per cent maximum.

Disability (sickness) insurance would be financed by 0.5 per cent tax on employee and employer alike on the first $4,800 of income. This tax would increase as the program grew.

Norma Jean Tucker Is Bride Of Harold J. Ries

A charming candlelight wedding took place in the First Methodist church in Adrian at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, January 29, when Miss Norma Jean Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker of Britton, became the bride of Harold J. Ries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ries of Blissfield.

A recital of organ music was played by Richard Wegner, who also accompanied Miss Kathryn Mumaw, soloist, who sang "Your Eyes Have Told Me So" and "If God Left Only You" immediately preceding the ceremony.

The bridegroom and his attendant, Earl Goetz of Blissfield, were met at the altar by the bride, lovely in a traditional white satin gown, effectively accented by lace sleeves and apron peplum which fell low on either side, ending in a long court train. Her shower bouquet of white roses was tied with white satin ribbons and she wore a fingertip veil of illusion, held by a crown of seed pearls.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her sister, Miss Imo Tucker, maid of honor, Mrs. Earl Goetz of Blissfield and Miss Kathryn Ries, bridesmaids. Gowned in all-white, their princess styled dresses of brocaded satin were accented by dropped necklines with wide cuffed collars. Each wore a strand of pearls and mitts to match the dresses. They carried shower bouquets of yellow daffodils tied with spring-green maline and wore headpieces of the same flowers.

Immediately preceding the bride and her father, Harry Tucker, who gave her in marriage, was Sherry Kathleen Tucker, only niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid. Carrying out the all-white theme, little Miss Tucker wore a long bouffant gown of white taffeta with a net overskirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and white and blue pom pons tied in blue, and wore an arrangement of the same in her hair. Accenting the low-cut neckline of her dress was a strand of tiny pearls, a gift of the bride.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. A. H. Wallschlaeger before the altar which was decorated with ferns and palms.

The ushers were a brother of the groom, Roger Ries and Preston Caswell of Britton.

Following the ceremony, some 200 relatives and friends gathered in the parlors of the church for the reception. The lace covered refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, which was cut by the newlywed couple. Serving the cake was Miss Norma Powell assisted by Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. Norman Hagerman, Mrs. Donald Mapes and Miss Marian Tornow.

The bride's mother was dressed in aqua crepe with black accessories. Mrs. Ries wore a gown of black silk jersey, a green hat and black accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

The new Mrs. Ries is a graduate of the Macon high school class of 1945 and is now employed as receptionist by the Krieghoff-Lenawee Co. Mr. Ries is a graduate of Blissfield high school, a navy veteran and is now an employee of the Tecumseh Products Co.

For their wedding trip to Florida, the bride changed to a grey crepe two-piece dress with black accessories and pinned white roses to her coat. After their return, Mr. and Mrs. Ries will be at home at 423 S. Main St., Adrian.

Miss Mary E. Wilson Weds Chester E. Hensen

Miss Mary E. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seaton A. Wilson, and Chester E. Hensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Hensen, were united in marriage, Friday afternoon, January 28, during a ceremony performed in St. Peter's Episcopal church. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Allan Ramsay at four o'clock.

For her marriage, the bride chose a garbardine suit of kelly green and with this she wore black accessories and a corsage of white roses. Her sister, Mrs. Gerald B. Driscoll, was matron of honor and she wore a two piece dress of amber rayon gabardine. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Charles E. Hensen attended his brother as best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the apartment which the couple are now occupying at 201 East Logan St. Some 50 guests were served refreshments. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1948 and is employed at The Diner. A graduate of Adrian high school with the class of 1946, the groom is an employee of the Bruce Foundry Co.

MOORE-JOHN

Miss Dorothy Jean Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore and Kenneth N. John, son of Mr and Mrs. W. M. John of Milan, spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Congregational Christian church Red roses in the altar vases against the white transparent velvet dossel cloth made a beautiful background for the palms, candelabra and hampers of white snapdragons placed in front at either side of the altar. Soft blue lights above the altar and the lighted candles cast a beautiful glow over the wedding party as they took their places and the Rev. Gerald G. Hallauer read the double ring service during which Mrs. Melba Dreydahl of Milan sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Clyde Lawson of Milan played a program of organ music as Leo and Robert Moore brothers of the bride, seated the guests. Richard McMullen of Milan assisted the groom as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose ivory slipper satin for her wedding gown. The basque bodice with long sleeves had a pointed yoke of lace outlined by ruffles of the same bound in satin, which also accented the rounded hip line in peplum effect. The very full skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was gathered to a crown of tiny calla lillies of illusion centered by seed pearls and she carried calla lillies tied with satin ribbon. She wore a single strand of pearls a gift of the bridegroom.

The attendant's gowns of faille were identical except in color. The maid of honor wore lavendar with matching headdress and short veil and carried a cascade arrangement of yellow carnations. The bridesmaids gowns were aqua with matching headdress and their bouquets were like the other only of shell pink. The junior bridesmaid wore a pale yellow floor length dress with a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves, a tiny lace yoke and a peplum. She carried a miniature bouquet of lavender carnations with yellow ribbon and wore a circlet of lavendar and yellow flowers in her hair. The little ring bearer in a suit of beige and brown carried the rings on a satin pillow.

The bride's mother chose a dress of jewel blue with sequin and silver thread trimming, a plumed hat and gloves of dusty pink for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a wine colored velvet dress with hat and gloves of pale blue. Both mothers had corsages of pink camellias tied in harmonizing ribbon. The bride's maternal grandmother wore a grey crepe dress with grey and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Another grandmother, who was unable to attend was remembered with a bouquet of flowers.

The recessional was played by Mrs. Lawson as the young couple took their place at the back of the sanctuary for congratulations.

The reception followed in the church parlor with Mrs. Lawrence Ehlert as hostess and in charge of the guest book and Misses Joyce McCarbery and Ardath Gripton assistant hostesses. The linen covered refreshment table was centered by a low arrangement of white snapdragons and yellow jonquils in a crystal bowl flanked by crystal candelabra bearing tall yellow tapers. Miss Wilma McCarbery and Mrs. Joyce Waterbury presided at either end of the table at the silver tea and coffee services. The three tiered wedding cake decorated with a gardenia on top with yellow satin loops dropping to the second tier bearing yellow rosebuds was served from a small side table by Mrs. Glenn Gripton.

Guests were present from Evanston, Ill., Flint, Ann Arbor, Monroe, Jackson, Ypsilanti, Detroit, Royal Oak, Allen, Carleton, Onsted, Blissfield, Metamora, Deerfield and Adrian.

The new Mrs. John changed to a dress of electric blue for going away and her corsage was an orchid tied with gold ribbon. A trip through Illinois and Minneapolis was postponed because of road conditions and after a few days they will be at home at 327 Smith St. Milan. Mrs. John will continue at her position in the accounting department at Ypsilanti State hospital and he as assistant manager of Milan Bowling Alley.

Gee, Boss—
The wage-boost I'm asking for will only cost...
2½¢ A DAY!

Yes, folks, the increase in electric rates that Reddy is asking for will cost the average residential customer only 2½c a day.

Reddy Kilowatt is mighty proud of his record. He hasn't had a wage increase in over 27 years and during this period he has taken several wage cuts. He has held off asking for an increase just as long as possible.

But when the price of a ton of coal (and Reddy will use over 2,000,000 tons in 1949) jumped from $4.12 to $8.20, and almost every other item of expense also went way up, there wasn't any other course open to Reddy.

"I'm sure you'll agree that my wages will still be in the bargain bracket even if I get my wage increase of 17½c a week. That's less than the price of a package of cigarettes."
Reddy Kilowatt

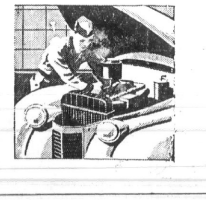
For Conscientious Service On Trucks Or Cars Bring Them To Our Garage

If you are having trouble with your car or truck we'd like to have you bring it to us for the service that it needs.

Difficult motor problems do not bother us because we know that there is a reason for all troubles that are mechanical. Once the source of the trouble has been found, it is not difficult to correct.

At our garage you'll find that our mechanics are conscientious . . . anxious to serve you, and to do it economically.



We have factory-designed tools; our mechanics are factory-trained, and, in addition, we use precision parts that are factory-built. In that way we hold down your costs because we hold down repair time.

The next time your car or your truck give you trouble, bring it in or call us. We'll tell you honestly about the trouble, and we'll repair it to your complete satisfaction.

Our repair service is completely guaranteed. It MUST BE DONE to your satisfaction. That is the way we have built one of the largest service garages in all of Lenawee county.

NINETY NINTH YEAR NUMBER TWELVE — TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, FEBRUARY 10, 1949 — FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Clowns, Band and Midway, County Fair Features

Two big nights of fun and frolic for both the old and the young were promised today by members of the Tecumseh Exchange Club as they prepared for the opening of their "County Fair," to be held Friday and Saturday evenings in the Products Workers Union Hall, South Maumee street. Everyone is invited and free bus service for persons without transportation will be available each evening from the corner of Evans street and Chicago boulevard.

The "County Fair" is sponsored by Exchange as one of its projects to raise $3,300 for new uniforms for the Tecumseh High School band. Two weeks ago the club staged a dance at the high school gym and the proceeds of that party went to the uniform fund.

At the "Fair" there will be a giant midway with games, sideshows and other attractions. There will be a Hill Billy Band and clowns to make you laugh.

"Don't come too dressed up" was a warning that was issued by the club. Just wear old clothes and have a good time. To those who insist upon wearing their "Sunday best," it was said, a kangaroo court with a stern-faced judge will be in session and penalties will be handed out in keeping with the degree of the finery."

There will be prizes for the most comically dressed man, woman and couple and there also will be dozens and dozens of other awards.

The fair will begin at 7 p.m. each evening and for those who desire there will be dancing with music furnished by the Hill Billy Band.

1949 Licenses Needed Mar. 1

HELPFUL HINTS ON PURCHASING ARE ISSUED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

Budd Goodwin, manager of the Adrian Branch office of the Secretary of State, today offered the following helpful hints in buying license plates. According to Mr. Goodwin, many car owners are still confused or misinformed about weight slips, application blanks and title transfers. He urged that Lenawee residents buy their car plates now to avoid a lineup at the last minute. March 1 is the deadline for 1949 plates. Mr. Goodwin's list of hints read:

1. Titles must be presented when buying license plates for passenger and commercial vehicles, farm trucks, house trailers, motorcycles and jeeps, along with your application blank.

2. Trucks or trailers do not have to be re-weighed this year, providing you have your 1948 Registration stub. If that cannot be located, they will have to be re-weighed and a new official weight card furnished.

3. Your 1948 license number MUST be shown on your 1949 application blank where indicated (not 1948). If this number is not correct on the application blank, same must be corrected by owner.

4. Your application blank shows a place for your signature. This does not have to be signed before a notary public or at the branch office. It is for Police identification only.

5. Farm commercial trucks and trailers must be signed for on the reverse side of application blanks by owner before coming to office, in order to receive the farm rate.

6. If you did not receive an application blank from Lansing already filled out for your car or truck, blanks may be obtained at the branch office and filled out when plates are purchased. Trailer application blanks will have to be filled out by applicant.

7. Title transfers from individuals and dealers must clear the branch office within ten days.

8. Farm wagons which have four wheels, primarily designed to be drawn by horses, when drawn by motor, are to be licensed for the flat fee of $1. These do not have to be weighed. The applicant will fill out a trailer application blank for this.

9. In the event of marriage, death or divorce, new titles for vehicles must be obtained at the branch office.

10. Half year plates have been discontinued on all vehicles.

11. Persons who are newly established residents of Michigan must purchase new titles, license plates and driver's licenses immediately.

12. In buying or trading cars, be sure the engine number and the description of the car are the same as shown in the title.

13. Only one plate this year and this goes on the rear of the vehicle.

Traffic Deaths Are On The Gain

AVERAGE OF SIX PERSONS DAILY MET DEATH IN MICHIGAN IN DECEMBER

Michigan's traffic accident toll during the month of December was one of the most bleak in recent years, according to a report released by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, of the State Police.

Each day an average of six persons met death, the total for the month being 184. This was the worst record of any month since November of 1941, when 219 lost their lives, and it exceeded December of 1947 by 49, or 36 per cent.

The injury total climbed to 3,961, an average of 128 each day and the greatest number of any month of the year. The total exceeded December 1947 experience by 562 or 17 per cent.

But conversely, while there was an alarming increase in deaths and injuries, there was a decrease in accidents. During December of 1948, 13,857 accidents were reported, which was 1,659 fewer, or 11 per cent, than the 15,516 in December of 1947. The reduction was attributed to better than normal driving conditions, with less ice and snow. These same conditions, however, contributed to the distribution and severity of the accidents which did occur.

Most of the fatality increase was recorded on the rural county road system, 47 persons being killed as compared to 19 in December of 1947.

On the basis of present figures, the death toll for all of 1948 stands at 1,477 persons. This exceeds previous estimates and the total is expected to be higher when delayed deaths, chargeable to 1948, are reported. The present figure represents an increase of 30, or two per cent more than the 1,447 killed in 1947.

The records also show a total of 40,413 persons injured in 1948, an increase of 2,761, or seven per cent, over 1947. Accidents totalled 138,864, an increase of 2,400 or two per cent.

Despite recent fatality figures, it still appears that the death rate for 1948 will be less than eight persons per 100 million miles of travel, which would be the lowest on record for Michigan.

World Day Of Prayer To Be Observed Here

The annual observance of the World Day of Prayer will be held Friday, March 4, in the Methodist church, it was announced today. The service will be from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., and it is customary for the merchants to close their doors during this hour.

Mrs. Charles DeVol, a missionary who has served since 1926 in China, will be the speaker. Mrs. DeVol returned to the United States December 23, 1948, from Luko, where she served with her husband. Mr. DeVol is in Nanking at the present time, just across the river from Luko.

The day is observed throughout the world by Christian people each year. Although the day's program is arranged by the women of the churches, the meeting is for men, women and children. The Baptist, Episcopal, Friends, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in Tecumseh are cooperating for the service.

Speed Control Sought On M-52

AREA IN VICINITY OF BIRDSALL IS CONSIDERED TO BE MOST DANGEROUS

Endeavoring to have established traffic controls on highway M-52 in the Birdsall area, Sheriff Wade Willett of Adrian has written to the Blissfield state police post, urging some action in the matter. The highway has no organized road patrol and accidents on the road continue to increase.

Generally speaking, the stretch frim M-50 to Adrian is straight with the curves long, thereby encouraging traffic to move at a greater rate of speed. Sheriff Willett said that a survey made by officers indicated that most accidents took place because of excessive speed, improper passing or just plain carelessness on the part of drivers. He said in 1947 a total of 18 accidents took place with eight persons injured. Another eight persons were injured in 1948 in a total of 20 accidents.

Eleven accidents n that area have been reported so far this year.

The sheriff said the area causing the most concern is near Birdsall. "Although additions at intersecting roads are slight, the Birdsall area is filled with churches, stores and houses near the highway. "It is essential that something be done to control the speed of cars," he said. "The Underwood Hill area, with the narrow bridge at the bottom, is a definite danger spot. However, more accidents occur in the vicinity of Birdsall," the sheriff declared.

Individuals have complained because the sheriff's department has not taken action, Sheriff Willett explained that outside the city limits they have no jurisdiction in such matters and therefore have written to the state police.

3 Cars Involved In M-52 Mishap

TWO PERSONS REMOVED TO HOSPITAL; HEAVY FOG IS BLAMED FOR ACCIDENT

An automobile accident which occurred Sunday at 3 a.m., near Birdsall on M-52, brought the total number of accidents in that vicinity this year to 11. Speed controls for that area are being sought by the county sheriff, Wade Willett, and his department.

William N. Wheat of Ann Arbor was driving a car which crashed into the rear of one driven by William H. Williams of Tecumseh, who was driving north on M-52 and had slowed down for a heavy fog bank. Also going north, Mr. Wheat was unable to stop. He was treated at Bixby hospital for head and face cuts and released. Miss Pauline Wheat, a passenger in the car suffered hand, knee and lip cuts and was removed to Bixby hospital.

Before the Wheat car could be removed from the highway after the accident, it was hit by a third car driven by L. H. Schneider of Route 1, Tecumseh. The Wheat car was badly damaged. Sheriff's officers investigated.

Indian Cagers Lose To Clinton

LOSE FOURTH GAME OF SEASON, 34 TO 25; PLAY HUDSON THERE, FRIDAY

By Gordon Comfort

The Tecumseh high school Indian cagers tucked another defeat under their belt here last Friday evening, losing to the Clinton Redskins by a 34 to 25 score, and prepared to journey to Hudson next Friday evening for the ninth game of the season.

Tecumseh has a .500 average in the LCAA with eight starts and four losses, with Morenci, Addison and Pittsford holding down the fifth, sixth and seventh places, respectively.

The Clinton Redskins got off to a fast start in the first half and stacked up a nine point lead, 10-1. There after, however, the Redskins could not gain. Lee Phibbs, the scrappy Indian center held the towering Bellmore to three points the first half, but it cost him five fouls and his chance to play. The score at the end of the first quarter was 11 to 6. At the end of the third period the score was 27 to 17, Clinton leading.

Doug McDowell was high scoring player for the evening in spite of the fact that he left the game because of personal fouls. He racked up seven points during the game. Guard Mel Murphy collected five. Guard Bill Martin also collected five. Dave VanWinkle and forward Jack Gillin gathered in four

Baccalaureate Date Advanced

CONFLICT WITH MEMORIAL DAY WEEK-END BRING SCHOOL BOARD ACTION

Baccalaureate Sunday, which usually falls on the last Sunday before graduation, has been advanced one week for seniors at Tecumseh High School because of a conflict with the Memorial Day week-end, Earl Place, superintendent, said today. Baccalaureate here this year will, then, be on May 22, he said.

The board of education, meeting Tuesday evening, decided that because many residents would be away enjoying the 3-day Memorial Day week-end, (Decoration Day this year falls on Monday, May 30), it would be advisable to make the change. Graduation exercises this year will be on June 2.

The board authorized the closing of schools here on February 25 for the Lenawee County Teachers Institute, to be held in Adrian. Jerry Spafford will attend a meeting of the State Association of School Boards in Lansing on February 14 and Mr. Place will attend a regional meeting of the Association of School Administrators in St. Louis, Mo., on February 27.

Because of a traffic accident at the school a few weeks ago in which a student was injured, the board has made some changes in traffic regulations at the Central and East Branch buildings. In the future, no parking will be allowed on Shawnee street on the north side of the Central building and Ottawa at Shawnee has been made a stop street. Busses will load and unload on Shawnee street. At East Branch, busses will load and unload on Maumee street.

A report of the treasurer showed that all districts sending students to the Tecumseh school had paid their tuition for this school year.

Mrs. Herrick Will Be Monday Club Hostess

Mrs. Ray W. Herrick assisted by Mrs. Faye VanValkenburg, Miss Gertrude Spaulding, and Mrs. Robert Fuller will entertain the Tecumseh Monday Club on February 14 at her home on West Chicago Boulevard.

Mrs. Henry P. Vaughan who is convalescing from injuries received in an automobile accident will be unable to present her special program on music but the chairman has secured other interesting talent. Mrs. Edward Beal will introduce the following program: Review of Workshop on Conservation, Mrs. Claire Heland who attended this workshop at Higgins Lake last September; whistling solos, Mrs. Herbert Baker, Blissfield; readings, Mrs. Harold Rohrback, Blissfield; and piano solos, Mrs. Leo Corbett, Blissfield.

LANSING — Tax chickens may come home to roost in Michigan big cities.

Such is the prospect of the outcome of the sales tax diversion amendment, sponsored by big-town mayors and school teachers, if the legislature approves Governor Williams' new tax program. Here is the picture:

The sales tax amendment raided the state treasury to the tune of 78 cents out of each sales tax dollar.

It created the inevitability of a $61,000,000 treasury deficit for the state's fiscal year ending June 30, 1950.

Governor Kim Sigler's solution was to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment. He offered no immediate substitute for needed revenue, pointing out that the state's tax system badly needed overhauling and that such could be accomplished through a constitutional convention. Last Nov. 2 the voters re-affirmed support of the sales tax amendment and at the same time voted to call a constitutional convention.

Sigler's opponent, G. Mennen Williams, favored the sales tax amendment which he said was vital for inflation financing of public schools. And when Williams became the beneficiary of several hundred thousand "protest" votes, cast by Republican-ticket supporters, the top question at Lansing became this:

What would Governor Williams do about the looming deficit?

His first message to the legislature indicated sympathy with social objectives and a willing to impose new taxes to finance spending. Later the governor made it clear that curtailment of services could not be done without inflicting hardship on the mentally ill, and aged and other citizens already pressed financially to make ends meet.

The final question was narrowed down to WHAT kind of new taxes would the governor advocate—an income tax, consumer nuisance taxes, real estate tax or one or more other money-raising objectives?

Governor Williams' remedy, as submitted to the legislature last week, would be to tax corporation profits. A four percent levy on net income, prior to federal taxes, would yield about $67,000,000. And since the estimated deficit was $61,000,000 the profit tax on corporations would leave a possible $6,000,000 in new revenues to offset

$75 Fire Loss At New School

Fire, which started in some straw, did about $75 worth of damage, Tuesday evening, at the new high school building which is under construction on North Maumee street. The fire department brought the blaze quickly under control.

The fire started from a salamander which was being used to dry some concrete that had been poured during Tuesday afternoon. The concrete was covered with straw and tarpaulins.

Al Pearson, superintendent of the Stone Construction Co., Grand Rapids, said that the fire would in no way retard the construction of the building. The contractors are far ahead of schedule, it was said, and Tuesday the workmen began laying brick. All foundations have been poured. The first of five car loads of brick, needed for the building, has arrived.

Earl H. Place, superintendent of schools, said that the construction company has complained recently that children are making the building area a playground. Such a practice, he said, is dangerous and should be discouraged by parents. Heavy timbers and steel are used in construction and it is feared that some of the youngsters may be injured. Mr. Place urged that parents warn their children of the danger and ask them to keep away from the building site.

WHAT YOUR WORK WILL BUY

Are you one of the many people who are troubled by the high cost of food? If so, an analysis prepared by The National Industrial Conference Board will come as a surprise.

In 1948, twelve hours of work, by the average worker, would purchase a week's food for his family —whereas, in 1914, 30 hours of work was required. Putting it another way, the worker in 1914 had to spend about three-fifths of his total wages on food, while in 1948 one-third would take care of the grocery bill. In the last third of a century, food costs have increased a little more than 150 per cent while hourly earnings have risen sixfold.

There are many reasons for this —notably the great increases in pay gained by labor. There is, however, one important factor which may be overlooked, and that is the enormous increase in efficiency registered by retailing. What is true of food is true to a greater or lesser extent of practically all the commodities we buy. There has been something resembling a retail revolution in the last decade or so. It was led by the chain systems, which pioneered the idea of cutting the profit earned on each sale to the bone, and still earning a satisfactory overall profit by increasing the volume of business. Other kinds of stores quickly adopted the same plan. The result is the store of today, with its extensive stocks, its attractive displays, its excellent standards of service, and prices which are as low as conditions permit.

Thus, retailing has made a very real contribution to American living standards. The proportion of income which most workers must spend for the basic necessities has gone down—and the proportion which may be used for savings, recreation, luxuries or anything else the worker desires, has gone up. It's the fashion these days to gripe about high prices—but the average man enjoys a great many more of the good things of life than he used to. Retailing has done much to bring that about.

COMMUNICATIONS

To The Editor:

Why have chapel exercises been discontinued in the Tecumseh High School?

Why are the moral teachings of history denied to the young people of our community?

What kind of people are we?

Are we Christians or are we sectarian bigots who would deny all Biblical knowledge, just because it does not have our own peculiar interpretation? Are we conscious of the fact that as institutional Christians we are condemned by men everywhere because we divide men, rather than bringing them together in a world brotherhood, which we profess?

Who do we think will be responsible when communism or some other form of ism should take over in this country?

When will we accept the responsibilities of Christian citizenship to maintain our American heritage, for which many have shed their blood?

CONTROL WHAT YOU CAN

We worry so much about things we can't control such as floods, storms, and even wars in other countries. Just for a change let's do something about the things we can control. For example, none of us can lengthen our span of life, perhaps, beyond the hand of destiny, but we can control its width and depth. Nor is it given us to control the contour of our countenance, but we can control its expression . . . we can smile instead of frown. We cannot alter the distance of our head above the ground but we can control the height of its contents . . . we can think high thoughts. We have no control over the weather, but we can control the moral atmosphere that surrounds us. We cannot control the other fellow's anpoying habits, but we can do something about our own.

If we all controlled what we can control what a lot of happiness there would be.

POWER PLANT

THIS is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick.

Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight.

In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages.

Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger.

And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out.

Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance.

There are other things to notice about this engine.

And it speaks with soft, new quiet. Self-setting valve lifters automatically keep valves properly seated, ending tappet noises for good.

With gasolines getting better, the swing to valve-in-head design will undoubtedly grow stronger. But that is what Buick has had all along—a power plant that uses its head to give extra lift and thrill.

That's enough reason to see your Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, to get your order in.

Non-Partisan News Letter

(Special to The Herald)

LANSING — Michigan's secret primary is under fire.

According to D. Hale Brake state treasurer, it has broken down party responsibility. It has invited popular nomination and election of individuals who were without obligation to party platforms or even party affiliation. As a remedy for the boss-ridden convention, it has developed its own weaknesses and evils: Irresponsibility of the party leader to the party; a seesaw fluctuation of voters' whims whereby glamour is favored rather than personal ability. Such is the criticism.

Mr. Brake does not favor outright abandonment of the primary and a return to the party convention system as its substitute. He never got along with Frank McKay when McKay was party boss. Brake does favor a pre-primary convention at which party delegates would be given the opportunity to select nominees. These nominees, together with any others who filed with petitions, would be subject to the voters' approval or disapproval at the regular party primary.

While Mr. Brake has not alluded to recent party leaders in his campaign to abolish the secret primary, it is obvious that he has in mind former Governor Kim Sigler. Sigler was elected county prosecutor on a Democratic county ticket. He was not the choice of party leaders. Rebuffed by a circuit court judge who was presiding as a one-man grand jury, Sigler tossed his hat into the Republican primary. He was swept into nomination and election on a popular protest wave against so called corruption and graft at Lansing. A figure of glamour himself, Sigler became the knight on the white horse, the reformer battling lobbyist and other arch enemies of good government. His pearl-gray crapshooting coat, cowboy hat, and oratorical voice made a flashy combination. It was just like Hollywood.

Governor G. Mennen Williams comes from a family said to be generally Republican. He has been at odds with the Democratic state chairman. He ran his own campaign, financed his own funds, and otherwise operated outside of the party organization.

It is Treasurer Brake's belief that the secret primary, without party restraint or responsibility invites the nomination of a man who excells in glamour, sex appeal, or other charms that strike the voters' fancy at the moment.

Does Mr. Brake's conviction suggest a personal ambition that is now frustrated or at least handicapped? Lansing observers who have watched the steady progress of the state treasurer agree that what he lacks in glamour, personality, charm or call-it-what-you-may; he certainly makes up in plain old-fashioned common sense.

Here is a man who operates a successful farm in Montcalm county near Stanton. He is literally a dirt farmer, not a gentleman farmer who surveys the work done by others and who basks in the glory of their harvest. Hale Brake can dehorn a cow. Fortunately for the Montcalm farmer this fact is not generally known to the voters, many of whom apparently demand drama and excitement in their political leaders.

County Clerks of Michigan met at Lansing last week. They were in agreement, so it is reported, that the secret primary should be abolished and that voters should declare their party affiliation before they could enjoy the privilege of selecting party nominees.

Crossing of party lines whereby a Democrat tries to nominate a "weak" Republican candidate, and vice versa, has become a political factor in Michigan under the present system.

Oakley E. Distin, Detroit election supervisor, said the secret primary was introduced 14 years ago by a Republican legislature in order to protect Republican office-holders in a New Deal administration. Later the legislature required separate ballots for presidential and state tickets on the belief that this separation would prevent Democratic state leaders from riding to election on the coat-tails of FDR. What happened last November? The dual ballot plan backfired. Voters favored Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for president, but switched over by hundreds of thousands to mark a cross in front of the name of Democrat G. Mennen Williams for governor.

The present reaction against the secret primary is also one aftermath of the defeat of Kim Sigler last November. People who voted "against" Sigler by voting "for" Williams are now inclined to condemn "glamour"—the handsome face on the billboard, the oratorical voice on the radio, the happy personality on the platform.

About The Folks You Know

Early risers Sunday morning found a fairyland right outside their doors. The frost-filled air made a perfect background for the trees glistening with ice . . . Folks who cleared their sidewalks of snow before the unexpected light rain came causing ice to form, are to be commended . . . The icy walks are treacherous, as those who have only one form of transportation—their feet—know.

The Ned Baldwins and their children, Linda and Tommy, were in Albion Sunday visiting the Mark Baldwins . . . While there Mr. Baldwin and Tommy went on a fox hunt . . . Needless to say, Ned was overjoyed when he came home with the fox he had caught . . . It was his first.

The gales of laughter heard coming from the high school auditorium last Friday were just the students getting a kick out of the pep meeting staged by the cheerleaders, before the Clinton-Tecumseh game . . . It seems they imitated several well-known radio shows . . . Evidently some hidden talents were uncovered.

Mrs. Herbert Lapham was the honored guest when Mrs. Frances Spreeman and Mrs. Mary Vincz entertained at a cradle shower in the Spreeman home, Friday evening . . . Twenty-one guests enjoyed games and the prizes won were in turn presented to the mother-to-be . . . Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, after which Mrs. Lapham was presented with a baby bassinette filled with many lovely gifts.

Valentines danced before her eyes when Miss Lenore Mohr was honored at a bridal shower recently, at the home of Mrs. Robert Mohr, who was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Oscar Bryan . . . Games were enjoyed by 14 guests and the prizes awarded were given to the bride-to-be . . . a bevy of balloons was presented to the bride-elect and as she broke each one with a number inside, she opened the gift with the corresponding number, on a table bedecked with hearts and streamers on a white cloth . . . Dainty refreshments were served on individual tables, carrying out the Valentine theme with hearts, streamers and potted plants. The plants were also presented to the honored guest to be used in her home after her marriage to Jack Curtiss tomorrow.

Two tiny folks celebrated their first birthday anniversaries together, Sunday, February 6 . . . They were Hal Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Warren, and Ronnie J. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warren . . . All their relatives from Tecumseh gathered at the Clyde Warren home to help them with the celebration. Other guests were Nancy Snellbaker and Douglas Redding from Toledo and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Heiss of Detroit.

The Fred Sheldons were in Dundee Friday evening for a celebration of the eleventh birthday of their grandson, Donald Joe Sheldon . . . Donnie, his parents and brothers are former residents of Tecumseh.
